Bent-Goodley,King E. Davis,2003 Why Are All The Black Kids Sitting Together In The Cafeteria? Beverly Daniel Tatum,1999-06-24 Walk into any racially mixed high school and you will see Black youth seated together in the cafeteria Of course it s not just the Black kids sitting together the White Latino Asian Pacific and in some regions American Indian youth are clustered in their own groups too The same phenomenon can be observed in college dining halls faculty lounges and in corporate cafeterias What is going on here Is this self segregation a problem we should try to fix or a coping strategy we should support How can we get past our reluctance to talk about racial issues to even discuss it And what about the other questions we and our children have about race Beverly Daniel

Tatum is a renowned authority on the psychology of racism. She asserts that we do not know how to talk about our racial differences. Whites are afraid of using the wrong words and being perceived as racist. Parents of color are afraid of exposing their children to painful racial realities too soon. Tatum understands that the vocabulary of race is loaded and that embarrassment and awkwardness often stymie conversations about this subject yet she believes that these obstacles can and must be overcome if we are to bring about change. In Why Are All the Black Kids Sitting Together in the Cafeteria And Other Conversations About Race Dr. Tatum provides us with a new way of thinking and talking about race through the lens of racial identity. She explains that all of us have a racial identity and must strive to affirm it. For people of color the development of a constructive racial identity requires being able to recognize and reject the bombardment of negative stereotypes and to embrace a history of resistance and empowerment rather than passive victimization. For Whites the challenge is to engage in a process of racial identity development which leads to an awareness of White privilege and a determination to actively work against injustice and this requires the strength to reject a system that awards them and to reclaim the legacy of White allies. For many this is uncharted territory. This book provides a road map for those who want to make the journey and better understand the racial dynamics of their daily lives. Tatum extends her ideas about racial identity development beyond the usual Black White paradigm to embrace the unique circumstances of Latinos American Indians Asians as well as biracial youth. Also included is a list of resources for further reading as well as a list of books for parents and teachers to recommend to children of all ages. Using real life examples and the latest research Tatum presents strong evidence that straight talk about our racial identities whatever they may be is essential if we are serious about facilitating communication across racial and ethnic divides. We have waited far too long to begin our conversations about race. This remarkable book infused with great wisdom and humanity tells us where to start.

Handbook of Latinos and Education Juan Sánchez Muñoz, Enrique G. Murillo Jr., Margarita Machado-Casas, 2009-12-16. Providing a comprehensive review of rigorous innovative and critical scholarship relevant to educational issues which impact Latinos this Handbook captures the field at this point in time. Its unique purpose and function is to profile the scope and terrain of academic inquiry on Latinos and education. Presenting the most significant and potentially influential work in the field in terms of its contributions to research to professional practice and to the emergence of related interdisciplinary studies and theory the volume is organized around five themes: history, theory and methodology, policies and politics, language and culture, teaching and learning, resources and information. The Handbook of Latinos and Education is a must have resource for educational researchers, graduate students, teacher educators and the broad spectrum of individuals, groups, agencies, organizations and institutions sharing a common interest in and commitment to the educational issues that impact Latinos.

Community-based Research Sam Marullo, Kerry Strand, 2004
Books in Print Supplement, 2002 Youth political participation Tomaž Deželan, Cristina Bacalso, Anna Lodeserto, 2023-01-09. Young people's participation is crucial for shaping and transforming democracies. Youth political participation is taking place within a context of democratic transformation including a global decline in the state of democracy shrinking space for civil society polarisation of the political and social space economic crisis and precarity rapid digitalisation the impact of the Covid 19 pandemic and most recently war In this setting we are witnessing a lack of trust in political institutions an increasing disengagement from the political system and a decline in youth participation in institutional politics This Youth Knowledge book reminds us that while the context might be changing young people's participation is crucial for shaping and transforming democracies Moving beyond the traditional binary of conventional and nonconventional the authors ask the question How are young people engaging with democracies in transformation seeking to understand the ways in which young people are defining their own participation This volume includes eight chapters ranging from the mapping of young people's involvement in environmental justice movements and climate strikes dissent and radical kindness political participation of young refugees in Europe as well as explorations of the understanding of the concepts of liberal democracy youth voice and European citizenship as well as the importance and role of values and the context In addition to the chapters four personal essays written by young people themselves give a glimpse into the ways young people are engaging in political participation to shape their schools communities and Europe but also the broader systems on which our current politics is built Young people's political participation citizenship and relationship with democracy remain a complex topic for youth research policy and practice While this publication does not claim to answer all the questions or represent the realities of all young people across Europe it gives a glimpse into the landscape of youth engagement in a changing world highlighting realities trends and main issues
