Future Of African Cities Challenges And Priorities In Urban Development:

The Future of African Cities Catherine Farvacque-Vitkovi?,1998-01-01 The growth of Africa s cities has outstripped local capacities of management absorption and financing Yet cities do not have to be a drain on the national economy on the contrary they can add new dynamism to the process of economic growth This book addresses two basic questions What have we learned Where are we going It takes stock of two decades of experience in urban development proposes a common sense priority agenda for the urban sector in the region and suggests some operational tools to carry it out Adapt du r sum de l auteur

African Artificial Intelligence Mark Nasila,2024-05-27 Artificial intelligence AI is upending life work and play as we know it and it s only just getting started The rise of AI is a milestone on par with the discovery of fire the invention of the wheel and the creation of the internet In short AI is going to change everything For some that s an exciting prospect For others it s terrifying However you feel about AI there s no escaping it whether you re in a global metropolis or a farmer in rural KwaZulu Natal Dr Mark Nasila has been watching AI s ascent for over a decade studying its effects on everything from agriculture and aviation to healthcare education entertainment crime prevention energy management policy creation finance and anything in between and applying them to his role at one of South Africa s most successful financial institutions First National Bank a division of FirstRand Group African Artificial Intelligence is a comprehensive and fascinating journey tracing the rise of AI and its evolution into the emerging technology underpinning all others from connected devices and smart chatbots to the metaverse Mark combines unexpected use cases and tales of cutting edge innovation with a unique and potent argument harnessing AI to solve Africa s problems requires embracing it from an African perspective African nations can t afford to simply import AI solutions from afar Instead Mark contends they need to rework remix and refine AI so it s able to meet uniquely African challenges in uniquely African ways and to take advantage of the once in a generation opportunity AI represents for every industry sector and person everywhere Renewing Development in Sub-Saharan Africa

Deryke Belshaw,the late Arthur Ian Livingstone,2005-06-29 Renewing Development in Sub Saharan Africa reviews the debates and brings together specialist contributions to provide a clear guide to the major complexities of African development They lay the foundation for designing a range of individual country specific policy sets in which the strategic components are prioritized according to each country s constraints and opportunities The emphasis of the book is on the identification of effective strategies that will enable individual countries to most effectively exploit their growth opportunities and to meet poverty reducing and other key equity objectives

Urban Planning Challenges and Innovations in Sub-Saharan Africa Abubakari Ahmed,Millicent A. Akaateba,Bernard A. A. Akanbang,2025-07-16 Urban planning practice in Sub Saharan Africa increasingly encounters complexities due to the confluence of urbanisation climate change and their interconnected drivers and consequences The potential effect of these complexities on achieving the sustainable development goals is significant This book explores the unique challenges faced by rapidly growing cities in Sub Saharan Africa including urban crime informality land governance development control and the degradation of green spaces as well as how these issues are addressed in planning education and emerging innovations The book presents various case studies from selected African countries emphasising contemporary urban challenges and innovative strategies including implementing artificial intelligence which is being adopted to tackle these issues Chapters analyse the significance of reflective planning hybrid governance international development and technological advancements in influencing the future trajectory of urban development planning By providing a comprehensive overview of these issues this book serves as a crucial resource for urban planners policymakers scholars and students dedicated to the sustainable development of cities in Sub Saharan Africa

Urban Governance Voice and Poverty in the Developing World Nick Devas,2014-10-14 Poverty and governance are both issues high on the agenda of international agencies and governments in the South With urban areas accounting for a steadily growing share of the world s poor people an international team of researchers focused their attention on the hitherto little studied relationship between urban governance and urban poverty In their timely and in depth examination of ten cities in Africa Asia and Latin America they demonstrate that in many countries the global trends towards decentralization and democratization offer new opportunities for the poor to have an influence on the decisions that affect them They also show how that influence depends on the nature of those democratic arrangements and decision making processes at the local level as well as on the ability of the poor to organize The study involved interviews with key actors within and outside city governments discussions with poverty groups community organizations and non governmental organizations NGOs as well as analyses of data on poverty services and finance This book presents insights conclusions and practical examples that are of relevance for other cities It outlines policy implications for national and local governments NGOs and donor agencies and highlights ways in which poor people can use their voice to influence the various institutions of city governance For the City Yet to Come AbdouMaliq Simone,2004-10-07 A study of how colonial and postcolonial legacies manifest in African cities and African urban planning Better Cities, Better World Catherine Farvacque-Vitkovic,Mihaly Kopanyi,2019-07-30 The planet is becoming increasingly urban In many ways the urbanization wave and the unprecedented urban growth of the past 20 years have created a sense of urgency and an impetus for change Some 54 percent of the world population 3.9 billion people lives in urban areas today thus it has become clear that business as usual is no longer possible This new configuration places great expectations on local governments While central governments are subject to instability and political changes local governments are seen as more inclined to stay the course Because they are closer to the people the voice of the people is more clearly heard for a truly democratic debate over the choice of neighborhood investments and city wide policies and programs as well as the decision process on the use of public funds and taxpayers money In a context of skewed financial resources and complex urban challenges which range from the provision of basic traditional municipal services to the newer agenda of social inclusion economic development city branding emergency response smart technologies and green investment more cities are searching for more effective and innovative ways to deal with new and old problems Better Cities Better World A Handbook on Local Governments Self Assessments is at the heart of this debate It recognizes the complex past current and future challenges that cities face and outlines a bottom line no nonsense framework for data based policy dialogue and action a common language that for the first time helps connect the dots between public investments programming Urban Audit Self Assessment and financing Municipal Finances Self Assessment It helps address two key questions too often bypassed when it comes to municipal infrastructure and services financing Are we doing the right things Are we doing things right Better Cities Better World A Handbook on Local Governments Self Assessments offers a bit of everything for everyone Central governments will be attracted by the purposefulness and clarity of these tools their impact on local government capacity and performance building and how they improve the implementation of transformative actions for policy change City leaders and policy makers will find the sections on objectives and content instructive and informative with each issue placed in its context and strong connections between data and municipal action Municipal staff in charge of day to day management will find that the sections on tasks and the detailed step by step walk through the process give them the pragmatic knowhow that they need Cities partners such as bilateral and multilateral agencies banks and funds utility companies civil society and private operators will find the foundations for more effective collaborative partnerships
