Jones, Wendy Oliver, 2022-02-01 National Dance Education Organization Ruth Lovell Murray Book Award UNCG Susan W Stinson Book Award for Dance Education Strategies for recovering the Africanist roots of jazz dance in teaching and practice An African American art form jazz dance has an inaccurate historical narrative that often sets Euro American aesthetics and values at the inception of the jazz dance genealogy The roots were systemically erased and remain widely marginalized and untaught and the devaluation of its Africanist origins and lineage has largely gone unchallenged Decolonizing contemporary jazz dance practice this book examines the state of jazz dance theory pedagogy and choreography in the twenty first century recovering and affirming the lifeblood of jazz in Africanist aesthetics and Black American culture Rooted Jazz Dance brings together jazz dance scholars practitioners choreographers and educators from across the United States and Canada with the goal of changing the course of practice in future generations Contributors delve into the Africanist elements within jazz dance and discuss the role of Whiteness including Eurocentric technique and ideology in marginalizing African American vernacular dance which has resulted in the prominence of Eurocentric jazz styles and the systemic erosion of the roots These chapters offer strategies for teaching rooted jazz dance examples for changing dance curricula and artist perspectives on choreographing and performing jazz Above all they emphasize the importance of centering Africanist and African American principles aesthetics and values Arguing that the history of jazz dance is closely tied to the history of racism in the United States these essays challenge a century of misappropriation and lean into difficult conversations of reparations for jazz dance. This volume overcomes a major roadblock to racial justice in the dance field by amplifying the people and culture responsible for the jazz language. Salamone, Marjorie M.

Snipes, 2018-10-15. In 2016 Edith Turner passed away. She left behind an intellectual legacy that together with her husband Victor Turner transformed modern anthropology. This edited collection focuses on Victor and Edith Turner's significant theoretical contributions including their work on communitas, liminality, pilgrimage, friendship, fieldwork, self-reflection, affective culture, religion, spirits, and faith. This collection includes retrospectives on the personal lives of Edith and Victor as provided by their son, a close look at Edith's work on last rites for which she studied and contemplated her own demise, an examination of Edith's faith and belief system in light of her personal research interests and contemporary applications of the Turners' theories in relation to modern social processes. Contributors touch on a variety of topics including current political upheavals and inversions, the values of friendship and bonding, the importance of music as affective culture, jazz as a pilgrimage, and deeper theoretical issues surrounding the concept of liminality. This work illustrates the Turners' enduring theoretical and affective contributions and emphasizes the great importance they placed on studying and understanding what it means to be human. We continue to learn from their example. Human Experience John Russon, 2010-03-29. Co-winner of the 2005 Biennial Book Prize for the best philosophy book published in English, presented by the Canadian Philosophical Association. John Russon's Human Experience draws on central concepts of contemporary European philosophy to develop a novel analysis of the human psyche. Beginning with a study of the nature of perception, embodiment, and memory, Russon investigates the formation of personality through family and social experience. He focuses on the importance of the feedback we receive from others regarding our fundamental worth as persons and on the way this interpersonal process embeds meaning into our most basic bodily practices: eating, sleeping, sex, and so on. Russon concludes with an original interpretation of neurosis as the habits of bodily practice developed in family interactions that have become the foundation for developed interpersonal life and proposes a theory of psychological therapy as the development of philosophical insight that responds to these neurotic compulsions. Narratives and Reflections in Music Education Tawnya D. Smith, Karin S.

Hendricks, 2020-02-03. This volume offers chapters written by some of the most respected narrative and qualitative inquiry writers in the field of music education. The authorship and scope are international, and the chapters advance the philosophical theoretical and methodological bases of narrative inquiry in music education and the arts The book contains two sections each with a specific aim The first is to continue and expand upon dialogue regarding narrative inquiry in music education emphasizing how narrative involves the art of listening to and hearing others whose voices are often unheard The chapters invite music teachers and scholars to experience and confront music education stories from multiple perspectives and worldviews inviting an international readership to engage in critical dialogue with and about marginalized voices in music The second section focuses on ways in which narrative might be represented beyond the printed page such as with music film photography and performative pieces This section includes philosophical discussions about arts based and aesthetic inquiry as well as examples of such work
