Future Of Anthropology Its Relevance To The Contemporary World:

The Future of Anthropology Akbar S. Ahmed, 1995 Is anthropology relevant to our lives today Does anthropology have anything to contribute in the coming time How are anthropologists responding to the post colonial post modernist world Leading anthropologists attempt to answer these questions identifying and exploring key issues where anthropology connects with the problems of the contemporary scene The Moral Work of Anthropology Hanne Overgaard Mogensen, Birgitte Gorm Hansen, 2021-06-11 Looking at anthropologists at work this book investigates what kind of morality they perform in their occupations and what the impact of this morality is The book includes ethnographic studies in four professional arenas health care business management and interdisciplinary research The discussion is positioned at the intersection of applied or public anthropology and the anthropology of ethics and analyses the ways in which anthropologists can carry out moral work both inside and outside of academia

Anthropology, by Comparison Richard G. Fox, Andre Gingrich, 2002-09-26 Comparison has long been the backbone of the discipline of anthropology But recent developments in anthropology including critical self reflection and new case studies sited in a globalized world have pushed comparative work aside For the most part comparison as theory and method has been a casualty of the critique of grand theory and of a growing mistrust of objectivist hard science methodology in the social sciences Today it is time for anthropology to resume its central task of exploring humankind through comparison using its newfound critical self awareness under changing global conditions In Anthropology By Comparison an international group of prominent anthropologists re visits re theorizes and re invigorates comparison as a legitimate and fruitful enterprise The authors explore the value of anthropological comparison and encourage an international dialogue about comparative research While rejecting older universalist comparative methods these scholars take a fresh look at various subaltern and neglected approaches to comparison from their own national traditions They then present new approaches that are especially relevant to the globalized world of the twenty first century Every student and practitioner of anthropology and the social sciences will find this thought provoking volume essential reading Anthropology by Comparison is a call to creative reflection on the past and productive action in the present a challenge to anthropologists to revitalize their unique contribution to human understanding Anthropology by Comparison is an indispensable overview of anthropology s roots and its future with regard to the comparative study of humankind

Conceiving Kinship Monica M. E. Bonaccorso, 2009 Focusing on Southern Europe this study looks at currently hotly debated issues of kinship gender and modern medical technologies It challenges established ideas of cultural continuities and discontinuities within the European context and offers fresh insights into longstanding questions regarding gender and kin relatedness Tourism, Magic and Modernity David Picard, 2011-09-01 Drawing from extended fieldwork in La Reunion in the Indian Ocean the author suggests an innovative re reading of different concepts of magic that emerge in the global cultural economics of tourism Following the making and unmaking of the tropical island tourism destination of La Reunion he demonstrates how destinations are transformed into magical pleasure gardens in which human life is cultivated for tourist consumption Like a gardener would cultivate flowers local development policy nature conservation and museum initiatives dramatise local social life so as to evoke modernist paradigms of time beauty and nature Islanders who live in this human garden are thus placed in the ambivalent role of human flowers embodying ideas of authenticity and biblical innocence but also of history and social life in perpetual creolisation

ICTs for Global Development and Sustainability: Practice and Applications Steyn, Jacques, Van Belle, Jean-Paul, Mansilla, Eduardo Villanueva, 2010-09-30 This book unites the theoretical underpinnings and scientific methodology of an approach of deploying ICT in marginalized communities to bridge the so called digital divide This book contains case studies of Asia Africa Latin America and the Caribbean that demonstrate which approaches work and which do not in deploying public access to information sources Provided by publisher

Social and Cultural Perspectives on Health, Technology and Medicine Ciara Kierans, Kirsten Bell, Carol Kingdon, 2016-02-22 Developments in health science and technology have long provided fertile analytical ground for social science disciplines This book focuses on the critical and enduring importance of core concepts in anthropology and sociology for interrogating and keeping pace with developments in the life sciences The authors consider how transformations in medical and scientific knowledge serve to reanimate older controversies giving new life to debates about relations between society culture knowledge and individuals They reflect on the particular legacies and ongoing relevance of concepts such as culture society magic production kinship exchange and the body The chapters draw on the work of key historical and contemporary figures across the social sciences and include a range of illustrative case studies to explore topics such as transplant medicine genetic counselling cancer therapy reproductive health and addiction Of particular interest to students and scholars of anthropology sociology and science and technology studies this volume will also be a valuable resource for those working in the fields of health and medicine

Elite Cultures Stephen Nugent, Cris Shore, 2003-12-16 Drawing on a diverse comparative ethnographic literature this new volume examines the intimate spaces and cultural practices of those elites who occupy positions of power and authority across a variety of different settings Using ethnographic case studies from a wide range of geographical areas including Mexico Peru Amazonia Indonesia Sri Lanka Europe North America and Africa the contributors explore the inner worlds of meaning and practice that define and sustain elite identities They also provide insights into the cultural mechanisms that maintain elite status and into the complex ways that elite groups relate to and are embedded within wider social and historical processes

The Invisible Empire Georgie Wemyss, 2016-03-03 This book offers a significant and original contribution to critical race theory Georgie Wemyss offers an anthropological account of the cultural hegemony of the West through investigations of the central and pivotal constituent of the dominant white discourse of Britishness the Invisible Empire She demonstrates how the repetitive burying of British Empire histories of violence in the retelling of Britain's past works to disguise how power operates in the present showing how other related elements have been substantially reproduced through time to accommodate the challenges of history The book combines ethnographic and discourse analysis with the study of connected histories to reveal how the dominant discourse maintains its dominance through its flexibility and its strategic alliances with subordinate groups

Working the Field Jacques Henry, Sara Le Menestrel, 2009 Working the Field Accounts from French Louisiana records reflections on the fieldwork conducted in French Louisiana by a group of anthropologists and folklorists from Louisiana the United States Canada and France between the 1970s and 2000

Contributors cast a critical look at the core anthropological concepts of field informants and knowledge Reassessing they propose that the field identities and knowledge acquired are not set entities but rather are a matter of construction Personal profiles of the researchers native or outsider activist or academic man or woman black or white contribute to frame the investigations Essays also illustrate the shifting of these identities during and after the research in response to personal relational and political circumstances This volume is a vital addition to the body of work on French Louisiana and Cajun and Creole Culture and it provides an understanding of the true nature of anthropological fieldwork that is of great value to anyone attempting to research in a modern setting

After Terror Akbar S. Ahmed, Brian Forst, 2013-04-24 After Terror presents sustained reflections by some of the world's most celebrated thinkers on the most pressing question of our time how can we find ways to defuse the ticking bombs of terrorism and excessive interventions against it It offers an antidote to the fatalistic global holy war perspective that afflicts much contemporary thought focusing instead on the principles issues and acts needed to shift course from alienation and conflict to a path of sanity and goodwill among cultures and civilizations The central aim of the book is to advance contemporary thinking on the causes and implications of 9 11 and thus provide the essential elements of a blueprint for humanity It features 28 original essays by some of the world's leading public figures scholars and religious leaders including Benjamin Barber Zbigniew Brzezinski Jean Bethke Elshtain Amitai Etzioni Bernard Lewis Martin Marty Queen Noor Joseph Nye Judea Pearl Jonathan Sacks Ravi Shankar Bishop Desmond Tutu E O Wilson and James D Wolfensohn After Terror attests to the power of dialogue and mutual understanding and the possibility of tolerance respect cooperation and commitment Without ignoring the dangers of the modern world it points to a future in which people can celebrate both the fundamental sentiments and interests that we share and the diversities that make us human

Tradition in the Frame Konstantinos Kalantzis, 2019-08-09 Sfakians on the island of Crete are known for their distinctive dress and appearance fierce ruggedness and devotion to traditional ways Konstantinos Kalantzis explores how Sfakians live with the burdens and pleasures of maintaining these expectations of exoticism for themselves for their fellow Greeks and for tourists Sfakian performance of masculine tradition has become even more meaningful for Greeks looking to reimagine their nation's global standing in the wake of stringent financial regulation and for non Greek tourists yearning for rootedness and escape from the post industrial north Through fine grained ethnography that pays special attention to photography Tradition in the Frame explores the ambivalence of a society expected to conform to outsiders perception of the traditional even as it strives to enact its own vision of tradition From the bodily reenactment of historical photographs to the unpredictable emotionally charged uses of postcards and commercial labels the book unpacks the question of power and asymmetry but also uncovers other political possibilities that are nested in visual culture and experiences of tradition and the past Kalantzis explores the crossroads of cultural performance and social imagination where the frame is both empowerment and subjection

Critical Journeys Geert De Neve, Maya Unnithan-Kumar, 2016-04-22 Through an ethnography of ethnographers this volume explores the varied ways in which anthropologists become and remain attracted to the discipline The contributors reflect on the initial preconceptions assumptions and expectations of themselves as young anthropologists and on the ways in which early decisions are made about fieldwork and about the selection of field locations They question how fieldworkers come to understand what anthropology is both as a profession and as a personal experience through their commitments in the field in academic departments and in contexts where their specialist knowledge is called upon and applied They discuss the nature of reflexivity that emerges out of anthropological practices and the ways in which this reflexivity affects ethnographic practices Providing reflections on fieldwork in such diverse places as Alaska Melanesia New York and India the volume critically reflects on the field as a culturally constructed site with blurred boundaries that allow the personal and the professional to permeate each other It addresses the politics of location that shape the anthropologists involvement in the field in teaching rooms in development projects and in activist engagements The journeys described extend beyond the field and into inter disciplinary projects commissions colleges and personal spheres These original and critical contributions provide fascinating insights into the relationship between anthropologists and the nature of the discipline

Culture and Global Change Tim Allen, Tracey Skelton, 2005-06-27 Culture and Global Change presents a comprehensive introduction to the cultural aspects of third world development It contains 25 chapters from leading writers in the field who each explore a particular aspect of culture and the significance and meaning of cultural issues for different people in throughout the contemporary world With chapters dealing with the importance of Third World cultures but also with changes in Russia Japan the USA and the UK this book considers the relationship between culture and development within a truly global context

A New Look at Thai AIDS Graham Fordham, 2005 Based on original research in Northern Thailand and drawing on the breadth of indigenous Thai language materials this study offers a sustained and powerful criticism of the normative modeling of the Thai AIDS epidemic in order to elicit new and more effective points of intervention

Anthropological Perspectives on Local Development Simone Abram, Jacqueline Waldren, 2003-12-16 This collection examines the conflicts and realities of development at a local empirical level It provides a series of case studies which illuminate the attitudes and actions of all of those involved in local development schemes The material is drawn from Southern and Eastern Europe Asia and Africa All the contributors use rigorous anthropological methods of analysis to shed light on the place of feelings of personal sentiment and identity in reactions to planned development schemes In a world where direct action and public protest are routine responses to local development schemes they show how protesters developers and politicians often hold very different fundamental views about the environment society government and development which go beyond partisan economic and political interests      Tourists and Tourism Sharon Bohn Gmelch,Adam Kaul,2018-01-29 Like earlier editions the Third Edition of Tourists and Tourism is organized for use in the classroom While several classic and popular articles from the second edition have been retained three quarters are new and cover important areas in tourism studies such as dark tourism medical tourism nonvisual sensory experiences of tourism and tourism as performance Several address issues that directly relate to the student experience including study abroad service learning social media and the ethics of travel Articles vary in length and style some provide deeper context while others are designed to spark debate in the classroom Finally an introduction to the use of film in teaching about tourism and a link to an important film resource are provided      How do we know? Evidence, Ethnography, and the Making of Anthropological Knowledge Liana Chua,Casey High,2009-05-05 Since its inception modern anthropology has stood at the confluence of two mutually constitutive modes of knowledge production participant observation and theoretical analysis This unique combination of practice and theory has been the subject of recurrent intellectual and methodological debate raising questions that strike at the very heart of the discipline How Do We Know is a timely contribution to emerging debates that seek to understand this relationship through the theme of evidence Incorporating a diverse selection of case studies ranging from the Tibetan emotion of shame to films of Caribbean musicians it critically addresses such questions as What constitutes viable anthropological evidence How does evidence generated through small scale intensive periods of participant observation challenge or engender abstract theoretical models Are certain types of evidence inherently better than others How have recent interdisciplinary collaborations and technological innovations altered the shape of anthropological evidence Extending a long standing tradition of reflexivity within the discipline the contributions to this volume are ethnographically grounded and analytically ambitious meditations on the theme of evidence Cumulatively they challenge the boundaries of what anthropologists recognise and construct as evidence while pointing to its thematic and conceptual potential in future anthropologies      Rice Biofortification Sally Brooks,2010-09-23 Biofortification the enrichment of staple food crops with essential micronutrients has been heralded as a uniquely sustainable solution to the problem of micronutrient deficiency or hidden hunger Considerable attention and resources are being directed towards the biofortification of rice the world s most important food crop Through an in depth analysis of international rice biofortification efforts across the US Philippines and China this book provides an important critique of such goal oriented top down approaches These approaches the author argues exemplify a model of global public goods science that is emerging within complex international research networks It provides vital lessons for those researching and making decisions about science and research policy showing that if this model becomes entrenched it is likely to channel resources towards the search for silver bullet solutions at the expense of more incremental approaches that respond to locality diversity and the complex and uncertain interactions between people and their environments The author proposes a series of key changes to institutions and practices that might allow more context responsive alternatives to emerge These issues are particularly important now as increasing concerns over food security are leading donors and policy makers to commit to ambitious visions of impact at scale visions which may never become a reality and may preclude more effective pathways from being pursued Published in association with the Economic and Social Research Council ESRC

Rethinking Ethnicity Richard Jenkins, 2008-01-18 A welcome and brilliantly crafted overview of this field It represents a major advance in our understanding of how ethnicity works in specific social and cultural contexts The second edition will be an invaluable resource for both students and researchers alike John Solomos City University London The first edition of Rethinking Ethnicity quickly established itself as a popular text for students of ethnicity and ethnic relations This fully revised and updated second edition adds new material on globalization and the recent debates about whether ethnicity matters and ethnic groups actually exist While ethnicity as a social construct is imagined its effects are far from imaginary Jenkins draws on specific examples to demonstrate the social mechanisms that construct ethnicity and the consequences for people s experience Drawing upon rich case study material the book discusses such issues as the myth of the plural society postmodern notions of difference the relationship between ethnicity race and nationalism ideology language violence and religion and the everyday construction of national identity
