Future For Regional Australia Escaping Global Misfortune:

A Future for Regional Australia I. W. Gray, Geoffrey Lawrence, 2001-07-31 This book interprets the predicament faced by Australia s regional people from their own perspective and proposes a means by which they can act together to find a secure future under globalisation It argues that neoliberalism in combination with its real world effects in economic policy are driving regional Australia further into social environmental and economic decay The book will be of great interest to all concerned about the future of regional Australia and will make a lively and relevant text for students studying the social sciences in the countryside or in the major cities Regional Cities and City Regions in Rural Australia Peter John Smailes, Trevor Louis Charles Griffin, Neil Michael Argent, 2018-07-16 The book examines the extent to which the sustained population growth of Australia s heartland regional centres has come at the expense of demographic decline in their own hinterlands and ultimately of their entire regions It presents a longitudinal study over the period 1947 2011 of the extensive functional regions centred on six rapidly growing non metropolitan cities in south eastern Australia emphasising rapid change since 1981 The selected cities are dominantly service centres in either inland or remote coastal agricultural settings The book shows how intensified age specific migration and structural ageing arising from macro economic reforms in the 1980s fundamentally changed the economic and demographic landscapes of the case study regions It traces the demographic consequences of the change from a relative balance between central city minor urban centres and dispersed rural population within each functional region in 1947 to one of extreme central city dominance by 2011 and examines the long term implications of these changes for regional policy. The book constitutes the first in depth longitudinal study over the entire post WWII period of a varied group of Australian regional cities and their hinterlands defined in terms of functional regions It employs a novel set of indices which combine numerical and visual expression to measure the structural ageing process

Regional Development in Australia Robyn Eversole, 2015-12-22 In Australia regions are not just geographic locations they are also cultural ideas Being regional means being located outside the nation's capital cities and in the periphery of its centres of power and influence Regional development in Australia is thus significantly different than its European or American counterparts However surprisingly little has been written about the unique dynamics of development in Australia's regions this book has been written to fill this gap In recent decades the Australian government has made repeated policy efforts to achieve sustainable development in its non metropolitan areas Over the same period those who live and work outside the nation's capital cities have come to identify as regional Australians. This book takes an anthropological approach to understanding the particularities of regional development in Australia It draws upon rich on the ground observations of towns industries universities development organisations and communities across different settings to provide an in depth understanding of the subject This book will be of interest to researchers and practitioners concerned with regional development and policy

include Setting the scene old questions or new Drivers for change new approaches to federalism and regionalism and New institutions Approaching the challenge of reform Globalisation, Agriculture and Development Matthew Tonts, Muhammed Abu B. Siddique, 2011-01-01 This book explores the links between globalization agriculture and development in a number of contemporary Asia Pacific nations It highlights the complex and diversified nature of agricultural change in these contexts and the ways in which this shapes patterns of economic and social development Globalisation Agriculture and Development shows that while agriculture continues to play an important role in local regional and national development both the industry and the communities it supports are facing an increasing number of economic social and environmental challenges

Cultural Sustainability in Rural Communities Catherine Driscoll, Kate Darian-Smith, David Nichols, 2017-07-06 There has been a recent expansion of interest in cultural approaches to rural communities and to the economic and social situation of rurality more broadly This interest has been particularly prominent in Australia in recent years spurring the emergence of an interdisciplinary field called rural cultural studies This collection is framed by a large interdisciplinary research project that is part of that emergence particularly focused on what the idea of cultural sustainability might mean for understanding experiences of growth decline change and heritage in small Australian country towns However it extends beyond the initial parameters of that research bringing together a range of senior and emerging Australian researchers who offer diverse approaches to rural culture The essays collected here explore the diverse forms that rural cultural studies might take and how these intersect with other disciplinary approaches offering a uniquely diverse but also careful account of life in country Australia Yet in its emphasis on the simultaneous specificity and cross cultural recognisability of rural communities this book also outlines a field of inquiry and a set of critical strategies that are more broadly applicable to thinking about the rural in the early twenty first century This book will be valuable reading for students and academics of Geography History Literary Studies Cultural Studies Anthropology and Sociology introducing rural cultural studies as a new dynamic and integrative Agricultural Governance Vaughan Higgins, Geoffrey Lawrence, 2007-05-07 Drawing upon the expertise of some discipline of the most prominent names in rural sociology geography and anthropology this book shows how globalization has opened up a new regulatory politics Gender and Rural Globalization Jose Quero-Garcia, Amy Jezzoni, Joanna Pulawska, Gregory A Lang, 2017-08-11 This book explores how rural gender relations are changing in a globalizing world that fundamentally impacts on the structure of agricultural life in rural areas and urban rural relations It analyses the development of rural gender relations in specific places around the world and looks into the effects of the increasing connectivity and mobility of people across places The themes covered are gender and mobility gender and agriculture Gender and rural politics rurality and Gender identity and women and international development Each theme has an overview of the state of the art in that specific thematic area and integrates the case studies that follow Research, Action and Policy: Addressing the Gendered Impacts of Climate Change Margaret Alston, Kerri Whittenbury, 2012-11-13 Research Action and Policy Addressing the Gendered Impacts of Climate Change presents the voices of women from every continent women who face vastly different climate events and challenges The book heralds a new way of understanding climate change that incorporates gender justice and human rights for all The Conversion to Sustainable Agriculture Stephen R. Gliessman, Martha Rosemeyer, 2009-12-21 With all of the environmental and social problems confronting our food systems today it is apparent that none of the strategies we have relied on in the pasthigher yielding varieties increased irrigation inorganic fertilizers pest damage reductioncan be counted on to come to the rescue In fact these solutions are now part of the problem It i Localisation and Sustainable Livelihoods Geoffrey Lawrence, Reidar Almas, 2018-02-06 This title was first published in 2002 One of the greatest concerns facing the world is how to ensure that sustainable outcomes are generated as globalization proceeds apace Quite simply many people are finding their life chances deteriorating with resistance to globalization being a common response The question is is it possible to guarantee sustainable livelihoods for individuals families and communities as global processes increasingly shape local social relations This volume is a collection of 16 chapters from leading rural sociologists and human geographers based in Europe Australasia and the Americas The book in three parts deals with globalization and food the restructuring of local agriculture and communities and resistance in a globalizing world The introduction to the book compares and contrasts the various experiences of communities in countries such as Australia Brazil Finland Norway South Africa and the United States as they struggle to cope with globalization and its effects Each chapter discusses options to ameliorate the local consequences of global change Rural Places Paul Milbourne, Terry Marsden, 2010-03-30 Intends to significantly extend previous research work on the rural impacts of national welfare reform and position it in a broader context This title provides a comprehensive and comparative account of the rural dimensions of welfare in a number of developed countries Making Markets in Australian Agriculture Patrick O'Keeffe, 2019-01-21 This book provides a genealogical study of Australian agricultural restructuring focusing on the case study of wheat export market deregulation This policy shift was implemented in 2008 ending 60 years of statutory wheat marketing At the time policy makers claimed that market liberalisation would empower individual growers providing them with choice and freedom through uninhibited participation in markets However regional wheat markets have become concentrated and are increasingly controlled by a small number of transnational agribusiness firms which have been increasingly active in setting the policy agenda in Australian agriculture The book delves into the discursive construction of policy truths such as efficiency competition and the consumer to understand how this shift was made possible whose interests have been served and what the implications of this shift have been This book focuses on the machinations which contributed to this shift by examining the construction of knowledge values and identities which have helped to make the transition from the public to the private appear as a logical common sense solution to the challenges facing Australian agriculture The author shows how governmental technologies such as audit cost benefit analysis performance objectives and the consumer were used to make this reality operable In doing so he argues that this shift should be viewed as part of the broader restructuring of Australian society which has facilitated the transference of economic and policy making power from the public to the private Routledge International Handbook of Rural Studies Mark Shucksmith, David L. Brown, 2016-05-20 Rural societies around the world are changing in fundamental ways both at their own initiative and in response to external forces The Routledge International Handbook of Rural Studies examines the organisation and transformation of rural society in more developed regions of the world taking an interdisciplinary and problem focused approach Written by leading social scientists from many countries it addresses emerging issues and challenges in innovative and provocative ways to inform future policy This volume is organised around eight emerging social economic and environmental challenges Demographic change Economic transformations Food systems and land Environment and resources Changing configurations of gender and rural society Social and economic equality Social dynamics and institutional capacity Power and governance Cross cutting these challenges are the growing interdependence of rural and urban the rise in inequality within and between places the impact of fiscal crisis on rural societies neoliberalism power and agency and rural areas as potential sites of resistance The Routledge International Handbook of Rural Studies is required reading for anyone concerned with the future of rural areas Plantations Privatization Poverty and Power Michael Garforth, James Mayers, 2013 Private sector delivery of state services is increasingly common worldwide and state forest plantation management is no exception Increasingly governments are transferring rights and responsibilities to the private sector for state owned plantations. Some claim that this is the road to achieving sustainable forest management greater contributions to local livelihoods and poverty reduction others disagree This book examines the evidence and explores the many issues raised by these changing relationships between the state the private sector and local livelihoods Experiences from around the world are described through seven case studies from Australia China Chile India New Zealand South Africa and the United Kingdom and key lessons and clear guidance are provided on how governments can best achieve a balance between private and public involvement while continuing to deliver the key social goods and services expected by all citizens

Developing Australia's Regions Andrew Beer, Alaric Maude, William Pritchard, 2003-05-01 Delves behind the too often negative media headlines and stereotypes about regional Australia and considers the true state of Australia's regions including metropolitan regions and what can be done to improve their economic social and environmental well being

Food Security, Nutrition and Sustainability Geoffrey Lawrence, Kristen Lyons, Tabatha Wallington, 2013 Publisher's description As the threats of food insecurity loom ever larger the world faces the sad irony of food shortages in the global South alongside a purported obesity epidemic in the global North The twin issues of food production and food access are of particular concern in the context of climate change peak oil biofuels and land grabs by wealthy nations Food Security Nutrition and Sustainability offers critical insights by international scholars with chapters on global food security supermarket power new technologies and sustainability The book also assesses the contributions of diet and nutrition research in building socially just and environmentally sustainable food systems and provides policy recommendations to improve the health and environmental status of contemporary agri food systems. The book features contributions from a range of social science perspectives including sociology anthropology public health and geography with case study material Reshaping Gender and Class in Rural Spaces Belinda Leach, 2016-04-08 Leach and drawn from throughout the world Pini bring together empirical and theoretical studies that consider the intersections of class gender and rurality Each chapter engages with current debates on these concepts to explore them in the context of contemporary social and economic transformations in which global processes that reconstitute gender and class interconnect with and take shape in a particular form of locality the rural The book is innovative in that it responds to calls for more critical work on the rural other contributes to scholarship on gender and rurality but does so through the lens of class This book places the question of gender rurality and difference at its centre through its focus on class addresses the urban bias of much class scholarship as well as the lack of gender analysis in much rural and class academic work focuses on the ways that class mediates the construction and practices of rural men masculinities and rural women femininities challenges prevalent and divergent assumptions with chapters utilising contemporary theorisations of class With the empirical strongly grounded in theory this book will appeal to scholars working in the fields of gender rurality identity and class studies Recoding Nature Richard A. Hindmarsh, Geoffrey Lawrence, 2004 The book addresses some fundamental and profound questions such as Are GM foods safe to eat What do consumers think about GM foods and alternatively organic produce What are the real risks of genetic pollution And is it appropriate to delete a supposed gene for sadness Recoding Nature challenges the assumptions of those preparing the world for a recoded DNA future Recoding Nature is at the cutting edge of critical reflection about the biotechnology revolution the redesign of nature through genetically modified plants animals and even designer humans to eat What do consumers think about GM foods and alternatively organic produce What are the real risks of genetic pollution Is it appropriate to delete a supposed gene for sadness Where did the idea of the DNA code come from and how is it shaping thought for a genetics future Why has commercial release of GM canola been approved when all canola growing States have declared moratoriums there genes for crime or is this just an illusion What about the prospects of corporate bioprospecting among Indigenous peoples And why have large grass roots movements in Asia surfaced to contest the notion that GM foods will feed the hungry In fourteen essays by Australian and New Zealand writers critiquing the new biology and with a stimulating foreword by Mae Wan Ho the UK scientist leading a global attack on genetic engineering as bad science Recoding Nature challenges the assumptions of those preparing the world for a recoded DNA future Masculinities and Management in Agricultural Organizations Worldwide Professor Barbara Pini, 2012-11-28 Using contemporary gender theory to examine gender and rurality beyond that of simply women femininities this illuminating book accurately locates the subject of masculinities within the rural agricultural context While there has been a wealth of literature on men and masculinities published in recent years the climate of ideas has been typically experienced through an urban lens This book therefore investigates new conceptual territory Embedded in the literature on gender and rurality as well as the scholarship on gender and organizations management the book draws on an in depth ethnographic study of gender relations in Australian agricultural politics It will speak to academic audiences in rural social sciences gender studies and management organization studies
