The Future of Foreign Investment in Southeast Asia Ryan Jones, 2017-03-22 This book explains the dynamics behind Southeast Asia's foreign investment activity and looks at the region's options for reviving its reputation as an attractive host for foreign investors. Each chapter focuses on a key element together they portray Southeast Asia's foreign investment profile and prospects. The New Political Economy of Southeast Asia Rajah Rasiah, Johannes Dragsbaek Schmidt, 2010-01-01 This well researched book examines the dramatic transformation of Southeast Asian countries from agricultural and mining economies to industrial nations. In doing so it explores the effects of development policy on a number of interdisciplinary issues and the emergence of new social and political pressures created by industrialization. These include their heightened vulnerability to complex economic crises, their use of sophisticated instruments in the labour process and increased awareness of environmental issues. The distinguished authors present a regional and cross border focus on transnational actors and institutions and the policy issues and problems which have a wider impact on spatial configurations in the region. This insightful study will appeal to researchers, academics and policymakers working on the economics and development of Southeast Asia.

Foreign Direct Investment and Recovery in Southeast Asia OECD, 1999-12-06 This study discusses the role assigned to foreign firms in the development strategies of Indonesia, Malaysia, the Philippines and Thailand in the past and looks at how a more balanced approach to the treatment of foreign investors could contribute to a more sustainable development path.

Economic Relations between

West Asia and Southeast Asia Soo Ann Lee, The published papers and proceedings of an International Conference on Economic Relations between West Asia and Southeast Asia organized by the Institute of Southeast Asian Studies on 14-16 November 1977 in Singapore. It presents the opinions of the economic relationship between West Asia and Southeast Asia held by cabinet ministers, bankers, financiers and academics from Iran, the Arab States and Southeast Asia. The Effects of Chinese FDI in Southeast Asia Jean-Marc Blanchard, 2025-10-16. This book explores the economic and political effects of Chinese outward foreign direct investment (COFDI) through in-depth and comparative analyses of COFDI in economically and politically diverse Southeast Asian countries. Featuring 21 case studies of COFDI in Indonesia, Thailand, the Philippines, Malaysia, Myanmar and Cambodia, the book looks at three core effects: namely, employment, technology transfer and domestic political effects. The case studies also explore the negative social outcomes of Chinese investments in these nations, as well as serious environmental issues linked to COFDI, ranging from the destruction of forests to the loss of biodiversity to air and noise pollution. Revealing both the negative and positive impacts of COFDI in these Southeast Asian nations, this book will be a valuable resource to policymakers as well as students and scholars of Chinese and Southeast Asian economics and politics.

Foreign Direct Investment, China and the World Economy P. Buckley, 2009-11-29. China has become such an important element of the global economy that its influence cannot be ignored in almost any field of endeavour. The phenomenal impact of FDI in China and its largely trade-related consequences has been well documented, and now there is a significant literature on the phenomenon of outward investment from China too. This book is an in-depth study of the international business relationships of China, covering both inward and outward foreign direct investment, its impact and related theoretical and policy issues. This volume of highly renowned author Peter Buckley's collected papers from 2005-8 continues his interest in the theory of international business. Section I and policies towards foreign direct investment (FDI). Section IV but has a major concentration on China, both as regards outward foreign direct investment (OFDI) from China. Section II and FDI in China. Section III. Investment Protection in Southeast Asia Loretta Malintoppi, Charis Tan, 2016-10-05. Investment Protection in Southeast Asia: A Country by Country Guide on Arbitration Laws and Bilateral Investment Treaties is a vital reference guide to investment protection in the region, providing succinct answers to the main questions that investors may consider in connection with investments in a given jurisdiction. Each country chapter covers arbitral legislation and institutions in the country, investment-related domestic laws, an analysis of its bilateral investment treaties and a summary of investment cases involving the relevant State or its investors. Connecting and Distancing Ho Khai Leong, 2003-08-01. Connecting and distancing have been two prominent themes permeating the writings on the historical and contemporary developments of the relationship between Southeast Asia and China. As neighbours, the nation-states in Southeast Asia and the giant political entity in the north communicated with each other through a variety of diplomatic overtures, political agitations and cultural nuances. In the last two decades, with the rise of China as an economic powerhouse in the region, Southeast Asia's need to connect with China has become more urgent and necessary as it attempts to reap the benefit from the successful economic modernization in China. At the same time however there were feelings of ambivalence, hesitation and even suspicions on the part of the Southeast Asian states vis-à-vis the rise of a political power which is so less understood or misunderstood. The contributors of this volume are authors of various disciplinary backgrounds: history, political science, economics and sociology. They provide a spectrum of perspectives by which the readers can view Sino-Southeast Asia relations.

Reforming Corporate Governance in Southeast Asia Khai Leong Ho, 2005. This multi-disciplinary volume provides a critical examination of corporate governance reform in Southeast Asia especially after the Asian financial crisis in 1997. The weaknesses in the corporate sector such as poor investment structure, weak legal and accounting systems, faulty financial practices and questionable political interventions are some of the pertinent issues raised by the authors who include legal specialists, corporate practitioners, economists and political scientists. Policy measures to improve corporate transparency, institutional accountability and fiscal prudence are also proposed. The volume provides interested readers and policy makers in Southeast Asia with the most current research and policy options on corporate governance reform and advocates more committed and effective governance changes in the future.

The Asian Turn in Foreign Investment Mahdev Mohan, Chester Brown, 2021-08-26. Critically discusses the increasing significance of Asian States in the field of international investment law and policy. Contains analyses of national investment law, rule making in Asia, contributions of Asian States on cutting edge developments to the global community and contemplates future possibilities for investor-State dispute settlement.

South Asia Economic Focus, Spring 2013, 2013-04-19. South Asia is regaining its economic momentum but the recovery in the world's region with the largest number of poor people could falter in the absence of a stronger investment climate. The combined growth of Afghanistan, Bangladesh, Bhutan, India, Maldives, Nepal, Pakistan and Sri Lanka was just 4.7% in 2012, substantially below pre-crisis levels. Much of the recent slowdown in economic growth can be attributed to stagnating investment. Total fixed investment grew by 2.6% in 2012, down from a high of 16.7% in 2010. The performance varies widely across the region. At the same time the region is now more vulnerable because current account balances have widened, foreign direct investment has slowed and persistently high inflation has limited the ability for central banks to use monetary policy to counter any economic downturn. Because of rising imports, countries in South Asia are also more vulnerable to increases in commodity prices. Therefore the outlook remains cautiously optimistic with a relatively large downside risk. A pick up of growth to 5.5% can be expected in 2013, dependent on ongoing efforts to rebuild policy buffers and boost private investment.

Western Europe and Southeast Asia Giuseppe Schiavone, 2016-01-06. The European Community and the Association of Southeast Asian Nations functions and powers have established a formal relationship which could provide a valuable model for interregional cooperation between industrialized and developing countries now that repeated efforts to launch global North-South negotiations have come a dead end. The proceedings of a conference convened to discuss opportunities for and obstacles to a closer relationship between the two groups are presented here      ASEAN Beyond the Regional Crisis Mya Than, 2001 As the regional financial and economic crisis has bottomed out and the ASEAN countries are on the recovery path this volume seeks to carry out a post mortem on the crisis to evaluate the sustainability of the recovery and the long term direction of the ASEAN economies It also examines the challenges and competitiveness of these economies which have become significant issues in the post recovery process Since it is not sufficient to address the economic and financial aspects the volume also looks at the human and social dimensions such as food security poverty and cross border pollution Furthermore in the wake of the regional crisis ASEAN has been criticized as being ineffective This has prompted a re examination of the relevance of the regional grouping in its present form evaluating ASEAN's performance challenges and opportunities and assessing whether there is a need for change      Evolving Corporate Structures and Cultures in Asia Sam Dzever, Jacques Jaussaud, Bernadette Andreosso-O'Callaghan, 2008-12-15 This edited collection represents a selection of the papers presented at the 13th annual Euro Asia research Conference held in June 2007 at the National University of Hokkaido Sapporo Japan The book provides an analysis of the impact of globalization on corporate structures and cultures in Asia Within this broad theme different perspectives are examined with the objective of contributing the enhancement of knowledge on this subject in a fast changing environment      Globalization and Its Counter-forces in Southeast Asia Terence Chong, 2008 Presents a multidimensional perspective of globalisation in Southeast Asia Looks at political economic security social and cultural dimensions of globalisation and local responses showing evidence of complex interfacing between the global and the local championing the need for a multidisciplinary approach to globalisation studies      How Asia Got Rich Edith Terry, 2015-05-20 Within a few short months in 1997 Asian economies that had been considered not only healthy but miraculous suddenly fell off a precipice as investors withdrew massively first from Asian currencies and in rapid order from equity markets across the region On October 27 1997 the turmoil in Asian markets spooked Wall Street in the largest single day decline in history a drop of 550 points It was predicted that the Asian crash could drive the US trade deficit from 191 billion to 300 billion by 1998 creating huge new tensions in relations with some of the largest US trading partners These wrenching changes following a generation of success raise numerous questions about the steps that led to the crisis its likely outcome and the limits and constraints of Asian capitalism Edith Terry presents a blow by blow account of the crisis beginning with the 1996 collapse of the Bangkok Bank of Commerce In her overview she links the fall of the Asian miracle with the theme of globalization arguing that the crisis demonstrates the urgency of dismantling restraints to trade investment and financial services and that the United States should take leadership in pushing for new and sweeping reform through the World Trade Organization and in bilateral negotiations with its trading partners The final section of the book deals with the rise of the Asian miracle how the myth was created who created it why it succeeded for so long and is informed by analysis of the Japanese prototype      Regional and

Global Regulation of International Trade Francis Snyder, 2002-07-05 The processes of legal and economic integration at a regional and global scale have created powerful legal and economic dilemmas They challenge the paradigms of constitutionalism including the State's monopoly of constitutionalism the autonomy of national political communities and the traditional forms of participation and representation The phenomena of globalisation and regional forms of governance have promoted the inter dependence of national political communities and destroyed the artificial boundaries upon which national constitutional democracies are found and from which they derive their legitimacy Furthermore it is inevitable that the development of international trade and economic integration will raise claims for some form of global distributive justice to complement the wealth maximisation arising from free trade This will come from the gradual development of global forms of political discourse and law making challenging State constitutionalism and requiring some of the instruments and theories of constitutionalism The essays in this collection written by leading scholars in international trade law argue the pros and cons of greater regional and global regulation They conclude that whatever the final framework for international trade the critical decisions about institutional form and content will be decided in an emerging global political arena They help to identify this political arena who governs it and according to which rules and identify the different institutional alternatives in that global political arena ,
