monastery is colliding with the market American colleges and universities are in a fiercely competitive race for dollars and prestige The result may have less to do with academic excellence than with clever branding and salesmanship David Kirp offers a compelling account of what's happening to higher education and what it means for the future Robert B Reich University Professor Brandeis University and former U S Secretary of Labor Can universities keep their purpose independence and public trust when forced to prove themselves cost effective In this shrewd and readable book David Kirp explores what happens when the pursuit of truth becomes entwined with the pursuit of money Kirp finds bright spots in unexpected places for instance the emerging for profit higher education sector and he describes how some traditional institutions balance their financial needs with their academic missions Full of good stories and swift character sketches Shakespeare Einstein and the Bottom Line is engrossing for anyone who cares about higher education Laura D Andrea Tyson former Chair Council of Economic Advisers David Kirp wryly observes that maintaining communities of scholars is not a concern of the market His account of the state of higher education today makes it appallingly clear that the conditions necessary for the flourishing of both scholarship and community are disappearing before our eyes One would like to think of this as a wake up call but the hour may already be too late Stanley Fish Dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences the University of Illinois at Chicago This is quite simply the most deeply informed and best written recent book on the dilemma of undergraduate education in the United States David Kirp is almost alone in stressing what relentless commercialization of higher education does to undergraduates At the same time he identifies places where administrators and faculty have managed to make the market work for not against real education If only college and university presidents could be made to read this book Stanley N Katz Center for Arts and Cultural Policy Studies Princeton University Once a generation a book brilliantly gives meaning to seemingly disorderly trends in higher education David Kirp's Shakespeare Einstein and the Bottom Line is that book for our time the early 21st century With passion and eloquence Kirp describes the decline of higher education as a public good the loss of university governing authority to constituent groups and external funding sources the two edged sword of collaboration with the private sector and the rise of business values in the academy This is a must read for all who care about the future of our universities Mark G Yudof Chancellor The University of Texas System David Kirp not only has a clear theoretical grasp of the economic forces that have been transforming American universities he can write about them without putting the reader to sleep in lively richly detailed case studies This is a rare book Robert H Frank Johnson Graduate School of Management Cornell University David Kirp wanders America's campuses and he wonders are markets management and technology supplanting vision values and truth With a large dose of nostalgia and a penchant for academic personalities he ponders the struggles and synergies of Ivy and Internet of industry and independence Wandering and wondering with him readers will feel the speed of change in contemporary higher education Charles M Vest President Massachusetts Institute of Technology The Future of Higher Education Alexander McFarlane Mood,1973 Creative

Provocations: Speculations on the Future of Creativity, Technology & Learning Danah Henriksen, Punya Mishra, 2023-01-01 This book explores the complex yet critical relationship between technology and creativity specifically in educational contexts Creativity is important for success in today's rapidly changing radically contingent and hyperconnected world This is even more relevant in the context of teaching and learning where the psychological sociological and cultural aspects of human learning confront the challenges of a rapidly changing technologically saturated world Written by some of the foremost thinkers and researchers in the area of creativity and or technology the chapters in this volume examine the impact of recent and future technologies on creativity teaching and learning Individually and collectively they help us develop an understanding of this nexus of creativity and technology for education They offer new perspectives on this rapidly evolving future exploring issues paradoxes tensions and points of interest for creativity and technology They position these issues in ways that consider implications for thinking learning teaching and education in general Special Bibliography Series, 1957 International Encyclopedia of Higher Education, 1977 Special Bibliography Series United States Air Force Academy. Library, 1980 Science & Engineering Education for the 1980's & Beyond National Science Foundation (U.S.), 1980 The Publishers' Trade List Annual, 1881 Global and Local Internationalization Elspeth Jones, Robert Coelen, Jos Beelen, Hans de Wit, 2015-12-14 Offering a range of perspectives on internationalization in higher education from a globally dispersed group of authors this book reflects the many facets of the theme It reminds us that while internationalization is strongly connected to the globalization of society at the same time it is deeply embedded in local political economic and social structures systems and cultures The increasing attention given to internationalization by institutions all around the world is leading to diversification and broadening of practice This in turn deepens our understanding of what is needed to enhance the educational experiences of students and how the outcomes of internationalization contribute to the skills needed in a globalized and multicultural society Yet inevitably the impact is becoming more noticeable locally and the six sections of the book focus on these dimensions Internationalization in Local and Global Contexts Local and Global Drivers for Change Global and Local Dimensions of Curriculum Internationalization The Outcomes of Local and Global International Education Internationalization for Local and Global Employability Regional and National Cases of Local and Global Internationalization How can we define more precise learning outcomes that underpin learning and teaching How do we avoid the societal risks of internationalization and ensure that internationalization opportunities and benefits are shared equally How do we prevent brain drain and commercialization What are the values that underlie our actions These are just some of the questions that will occupy our minds locally and globally in the years to come and which this book seeks to highlight The Educational Turn Kathryn Coleman, Dina Uzhegova, Bella Blaher, Sophie Arkoudis, 2023-03-18 This open access book explores how educational researchers working at the edges of innovations in languages and literacies leadership assessment social and cultural transformation and pedagogies rethink the educational turn in new sites It engages with the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning SoTL for educational researchers to redefine ways of knowing about learning post COVID and deepen collective understanding of student learning and teaching for next practices to emerge This book extends the theoretical and practical aspects of the educational turn across multiple contexts as SoTL It is grounded in a field of practice and ways of knowing outlining key intellectual principals and set against specific examples from research The chapters reference an understanding of the pedagogical implications of the educational turn utilise a broad range of theory and concepts and explore potential implications for education and next practices ECEL 2018 17th European Conference on e-Learning Klimis Ntalianis, Antonios Andreatos, Cleo Sgouropoulou, 2018-11-01 The European Conference on e Learning was established 17 years ago It has been held in France Portugal England The Netherlands Greece and Denmark to mention only a few of the countries who have hosted it ECEL is generally attended by participants from more than 40 countries and attracts an interesting combination of academic scholars practitioners and individuals who are engaged in various aspects of e Learning Among other journals the Electronic Journal of e Learning publishes a special edition of the best papers presented at this conference European Higher Education Area 2030: Bridging Realities for Tomorrow's Higher Education Adrian Curaj, Cezar Mihai Hâj, Remus Pricopie, 2025-03-29 This open access book presents the major outcomes of the fifth edition of the Future of Higher Education Bologna Process Researchers Conference FOHE BPRC5 organized by the Executive Agency for Higher Education Research Development and Innovation Funding UEFISCDI prior to the 2024 Ministerial Conference in Tirana The Conference is considered a landmark in the European Higher Education Area encouraging dialogue between researchers and policy makers The resulting book provides a forward looking perspective on how the EHEA is evolving in response to current challenges and opportunities by focusing on topics such as internationalization equity and employability fundamental values impact of digitalization or innovative learning and teaching The papers presented offer insights in these areas illustrating successful or failed implementations within the EHEA and are published in open access format to ensure that the researchers perspectives are widely available to European policy and decision makers Since 2024 marks the first post pandemic edition of the Conference it is a good moment to not only to take stock of the challenges brought by the Covid 19 pandemic and the war in Ukraine but also to explore how scientific research can support policy into shaping the directions for the future to come Framing Futures in Postdigital Education Anders Buch, Ylva Lindberg, Teresa Cerratto Pargman, 2024-07-09 This book unpacks key concepts and methods relevant for a critical and reflective framing of futures in postdigital education The compiled chapters explore concepts and methods that have pertinence for contemporary debates about the emergence of data driven education and scrutinize implicit or explicit ethical and normative implications The book provides in depth critical reflections and perspectives to engage and analyze data driven education as an educational and cultural phenomenon It focuses on the value laden and ethical aspects reflected in educational imaginaries discourses and practices regarding emerging data driven sociotechnical
