Jamaica Kenneth E. Ingram, 1997 Jamaica is one of a chain of islands the West Indian archipelago which encircles the Caribbean Sea Its earliest indigenous people the Tainos succumbed to the arrival of western Europeans inaugurated by the encounter with Columbus in 1494 Spanish rule gave way in 1655 to some 300 years of English colonial rule involving nearly two centuries of plantation slavery The country finally gained independence in 1962 Jamaica has made some notable contributions in the international arena Perhaps best known are its contributions in the world of sport popular music reggae and in its development of distinctive forms of dance theatre and folk music This wide ranging volume is a fully revised and updated edition of the work which was first published in 1984

Education in Multicultural Societies Trevor Corner, 1984 Teachers and the educational systems need to handle the variety of different cultural groups in a sensitive and intelligent way This book surveys the problems and the responses to the world around them

Feminist Visions and Queer Futures in Postcolonial Drama Kanika Batra, 2011-04-13 In this timely study Batra examines contemporary drama from India Jamaica and Nigeria in conjunction with feminist and incipient queer movements in these countries Postcolonial drama Batra contends furthers the struggle for gender justice in both these movements by contesting the idea of the heterosexual middle class wage earning male as the model citizen and by suggesting alternative conceptions of citizenship premised on working class sexual identities Further Batra considers the possibility of Indian Jamaican and Nigerian drama generating a discourse on a rights bearing conception of citizenship that derives from representations of non biological non generational forms of kinship Her study is one of the first to examine the ways in which postcolonial dramatists are creating the possibility of a dialogue between cultural activism women s movements and an emerging discourse on queer sexualities

Post-Anthropocene Civic and Global Education Studies Peter Appelbaum, 2024-10-08 This book explores community action within our more than human lifeworld tackling post Anthropocene challenges It presents bold experiments shifting from crisis study to asking How are we here It addresses key issues by moving beyond posthuman perspectives integrating indigenous ways of being resisting Doomer Culture and rejecting blind Hopeism Part 1 focuses on Post Anthropocene Pedagogies from an Education Studies perspective Part 2 illustrates the power of these pedagogies while Part 3 delves into literature on Post Anthropocene Education Part 4 illustrates the approach via case studies of teaching the development of an NGO and community art projects The narrative emphasizes maintaining a two way flow between human culture and nature highlighting porous boundaries It argues that mere knowledge won't cure or save the world. Instead, it advocates for leadership and civic engagement that enrich reconnection with place and stewardship. The primary audience is within environmental education, sustainability studies, curriculum studies, post-human studies, sociology of education, and resource management as educational enterprise. The Bloomsbury Handbook of Caribbean and African Studies in Education (Sharon Fraser-Burgess, Joyanne De Four-Babb, Verna Knight, Oluseyi Matthew Odebiyi, Aleshia V. A. Allert, Ishola A. Salami, 2024-09-19). This handbook covers the history, policy, practice, and theories of African and Caribbean education and promotes the sustainability of socio-cultural beliefs, values, knowledge, and skills in the regions. Africa and the Caribbean share commonalities of the geopolitical and historical dominance by European empires and colonialism and aftereffects of anti-blackness in the global trade in enslaved persons. Indigenous religious, cultural, and ethnic currents in Africa are echoed in the Caribbean along with a strong infusion of Asian and other ethnic influences. The handbook shows how educators in both regions are grappling with Western education eclipsing indigenous epistemology and contributes to important debates and discourses including culturally relevant teaching, decolonization, critical race theory, Africana studies, Black emancipation, the African diaspora, bi-cultural experiences, and the climate emergency. It is organized into three sections covering past issues that frame education in Africa and the Caribbean, the present challenges and opportunities of Education in the regions, and future opportunities for education post 2020.

Representations of Education in Literature (Paul G. Nixon, 2000). Thirteen academics, mostly American, from English and political science departments address such topics as merit and intelligence in the works of Charlotte Brontë, the transformation of English studies through Joyce's Ulysses, the adult learner in Educating Rita, literacy in 19th-century America, education and decolonization in John Saunana's Melanesian novel The Alternative, the ambiguity of education in Anglophone Caribbean fiction, and the bildungsroman in African postcolonial fiction. One argument for considering representations of education in fiction, asserts Nixon, is that education reflects and enforces the values of the dominant culture; it is employed as a tool of assimilation or colonization that most often employs technology to make socialization irresistible. Reclaiming Haiti's Futures (Darlène Elizabeth Dubuisson, 2024-12-13). Haiti was once a beacon of Black liberatory futures, but now it is often depicted as a place with no future where emigration is the only way out for most of its population. But Reclaiming Haiti's Futures tells a different story. It is a story about two generations of Haitian scholars who returned home after particular crises to partake in social change. The first generation, called jenerasyon 86, were intellectuals who fled Haiti during the Duvalier dictatorship (1957-1986). They returned after the regime fell to participate in the democratic transition through their political leadership and activism. The younger generation, dubbed the jenn dokt, returned after the 2010 earthquake to partake in national reconstruction through public higher education reform. An ethnography of the future, the book explores how these returned scholars resisted coloniality's fractures and displacements by working toward and creating inhabitability or future-oriented places of belonging.

through improvisation rasanblaj assembly and radical imagination By centering on Haiti and the Caribbean the book offers insights not just into the Haitian experience but also into how fractures have come to typify more aspects of life globally and what we might do about it

Dancing Postcolonialism Sabine Sörgel,2015-09-15 This book presents the first in depth critical and historical examination of the internationally renowned National Dance Theatre Company of Jamaica NDTC in the context of postcolonial theatre Combining a postcolonial theoretical framework with performance studies and dance analysis the study examines the interrelationship of Jamaican modern dance theatre aesthetics and the Caribbean s complex cultural genealogy since 1492 Addressing issues of postcolonial nationalism and Jamaican identity politics the book provides the first comprehensive study of the NDTC s modern dance theatre works as it situates dance theatre choreography at the centre of postcolonial independence politics and cultural theory in the Caribbean
