Ecological Security In Northeast Asia:

Ecological Security in Northeast Asia Miranda Alice Schreurs, Dennis Pirages, 1998 The Environmental Dimension of Asian Security In-t'aek Hyön, Miranda Alice Schreurs, 2007 Northeast Asia is a region with highly disparate levels of industrialization and political systems It also contains some very troubling security flashpoints the Taiwan Strait the Korean Peninsula and the East China Sea China's rapacious quest for energy and rapid industrial expansion have led to intense international competition with Japan and the United States and internal instability as well North Korea poses two distinct environmental security threats famine refugees and the regime's use of nuclear blackmail for subsidized energy Yet there is very little regional cooperation despite the need to manage disputes over energy natural resources and pervasive pollution The Environmental Dimension of Asian Security examines these issues through a regional environmental security complex that explores the potential for greater intersubjective understandings of regional environmental and natural resource problems and greater institutional collaboration and management Environmental Change and Security Project Report, 1998 Complexity, Security and Civil Society in East Asia Peter Hayes, Kiho Yi, 2015-06-22 Complexity Security and Civil Society in East Asia offers the latest understanding of complex global problems in the region including nuclear weapons urban insecurity energy and climate change Detailed case studies of China North and South Korea and Japan demonstrate the importance of civil society and civic diplomacy in reaching shared solutions to these problems in East Asia and beyond Each chapter describes regional civil society initiatives that tackle complex challenges to East Asia's security In doing so the book identifies key pressure points at which civil society can push for constructive changes especially ones that reduce the North Korean threat to its neighbors Unusually this book is both theoretical and practical Complexity Security and Civil Society in East Asia presents strategies that can be led by civil society and negotiated by its diplomats to realize peace security and sustainability worldwide It shows that networked civic diplomacy offers solutions to these urgent issues that official complex diplomacy cannot By providing a new theoretical framework based on empirical observation this volume is a must read for diplomats scholars students journalists activists and individual readers seeking insight into how to solve the crucial issues of our time Facing Global Environmental Change Hans Günter Brauch, Navnita Chadha Behera, Patricia Kameri-Mbote, John Grin, Úrsula Oswald Spring, Béchir Chourou, Czesław Mesjasz, Heinz Krummenacher, 2009-06-04 The year 2007 could perhaps accurately be described as the year when climate change finally received the attention that this challenge deserves globally Much of the information and knowledge that was created in this field during the year was the result of the findings of the Fourth session Report AR4 of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change IPCC which were disseminated on a large scale and reported extensively by the media This was the result not only of a heightened interest on the part of the public on various aspects of climate change but also because the IPCC itself proactively attempted to spread the findings of its AR4 to the public at large The interest generated on the scientific realities of climate change was further enhanced by the award of the Nobel Peace Prize to the IPCC and former Vice President of the US Al Gore By taking this decision in favour of a leader who has done a great deal to create awareness on climate change and a body that assesses all scientific aspects of climate change and disseminates the result of its findings the Norwegian Nobel Committee has clearly drawn the link between climate change and peace in the world Japan's Security Relations with China Since 1989

Migration, Regional Integration and Human Security Harald Kleinschmidt, 2006 This original and timely book is the first to analyze the interconnectedness of migration regional integration and the new security studies The book explores the conflict between the actions of transnational migrants and state government policy in a series of chapters

Institutionalizing Northeast Asia Martina Timmermann, Jitsuo Tsuchiyama, 2008 Globalization and China's growing economy have caused different economic growth rates resulting in constant fluctuations in the balance of power among the nations of Northeast Asia This publication explores regional institutionalism as a counterweight to the principle of sovereignty It argues that cooperation through regional institution building is the best way to deal with the growing intertwinement of global issues and developments and the needs and interests at the regional and national levels A unified region could also answer the demand for supra territorial policy responses to such issues as trade finance the environment human rights and human security Publisher's description

Remote Sensing of Protected Lands Yeqiao Wang, 2016-04-19 National parks wildlife refuges and sanctuaries natural reserves conservation areas frontier lands and marine protected areas are increasingly recognized as essential providers of ecosystem services and biological resources As debates about climate change and sustainability intensify protected areas become more important as indicators of ecological health

Future Trends in East Asian International Relations Quansheng

Zhao,2014-03-18 The world has undergone significant change since the end of the Cold War One such development is that the Asia Pacific has become increasingly prominent in international affairs This comprehensive study provides a detailed understanding of key issues actors and future trends in the region Pacific Asia? Melvin Gurtov,2002 Emphasizing human and environmental security over traditional power politics Mel Gurtov offers a provocative reinterpretation of security in the Asia Pacific region The author questions a number of prevailing assumptions such as the China threat a U S centered balance of power and the necessity of a greater Japanese security role He argues instead for a cooperative framework for future security that focuses on people s basic needs is sensitive to Asian nationalism and gradually replaces military power with developmental priorities With its concise appraisals of the security policies of the United States China Japan the two Koreas and the ASEAN countries this work will be a valued reference for policymakers scholars and students alike

Environmental Security in the Anthropocene Judith Nora Hardt,2017-09-22 This book provides a critical assessment of the theories and practice of environmental security in the context of the Anthropocene The work analyses the intellectual foundations the evolution and different interpretations strengths and potential of the link between environment and security but also its weaknesses incoherencies and distortions To do so it employs a critical environmental security studies analytical framework and uniquely places this analysis within the context of the Anthropocene Furthermore the book examines the practice theory divide and the political implementation of the environmental security concept in response to global environmental change and in relation to different actors It pays significant attention to the Environment and Security Initiative ENVSEC which is led by different programs of the United Nations the OSCE and until recently by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization NATO among others and has largely been overlooked in the academic literature to date The goal is to study how environmental security practice could inform and shape the environmental security theory and also to explore how conversely new theoretical insights could contribute to the enhancement of environmental security activities This book will be of great interest to students and academic scholars of Environmental Security Critical Security Studies Green Political Theory Global Governance and International Relations in general Challenges Facing Chinese Political Development

Environmental Politics in Japan, Germany, and the United States Miranda A. Schreurs, 2003-03-13 A decade of climate change negotiations almost ended in failure because of the different policy approaches of the industrialized states Japan Germany and the United States exemplify the deep divisions that exist among states in their approaches to environmental protection Germany is following what could be called the green social welfare state approach to environmental protection which is increasingly guided by what is known as the precautionary principle In contrast the US is increasingly leaning away from the use of environmental regulations towards the use of market based mechanisms to control pollution and cost benefit analysis to determine when environmental protection should take precedence over economic activities Internal political divisions mean that Japan sits uneasily between these two approaches Miranda A Schreurs uses a variety of case studies to explore why these different policy approaches emerged and what their implications are examining the differing ideas actors and institutions in each state
