Economy In Transition A System Of Models:

Economies in Transition Gerhard Gehrig, Władysław Welfe, 1993      Economies in Transition Gerhard Gehrig, Wladyslaw Welfe, 1993 It has been quite a challenge for econometricians to model economies in transition There is no textbook at hand to master that task Economic theory cannot be applied without adaptations to the characteristic change of a whole economic system Regression analysis taking into account past economic development only is of limited use for the econometrician Having econometric models at hand would be very helpful for an active economic policy to guide the transition process Various scenarios representing strategies could be simulated in their consequences to the economy The best alternative in respect to the government's objectives could be chosen This very situation has born the idea of co operation between Łódź and Frankfurt in 1990 There are problems of this kind in Poland and in Germany The German situation is somewhat better than that of Poland as a relatively small centrally planned economy is being united with a substantial social market economy taking over a lot of the burden of the former mismanagement Thus it might be possible to share the experience in modelling the united Germany and preparing forecasts with the Polish model builders In addition it would be profitable for both model establishing teams to link their models in order to improve the forecasting potential Moreover the Polish partner has a broad national and international experience in econometric model building which makes co operation smooth and fruitful His experience in modelling countries with a centrally planned economy would also help to master the transition problems

The Economy in Transition Gerhard Gehrig, 1995 This publication is a further result of a joint research with mainly W Welfe on economies in transition financed by the European Community To analyse and forecast the German economy a system of models for the old and new lands has been established Forecasts are done by simulations This part of the results contains a multi variate time series analysis and the West German money and capital market with 50 equations The demand for labour will be shown broken down to industries qualification levels and sex by 40 equations A sensitivity analysis has been applied to the structure of the model for the German economy In addition a simulation on an optimistic scenario shows the economic development of the two German economies up to the year 2000 Finally a model to connect foreign trade with the system of models shows an application for Poland and Slovakia also by a simulation      Models and Applications of Chaos

Economic Development and the Division of Labor Xiaokai Yang, Jeffrey D. Sachs, 2008-04-15 This innovative new text from Jeffrey Sachs and Xiokai Yang introduces students to development economics from the perspectives of inframarginal analysis and marginal analysis The book demonstrates how the new found emphasis on inframarginal analysis has influenced a shift back to an interest in Classical Economics from Neoclassical Economics Inframarginal Analysis vs Marginal Analysis is presented as a consistent theoretical framework throughout Shows how the relationship of Inframarginal Analysis to Marginal Analysis has influenced the shift back to an interest in Classical Economics from Neoclassical Economics with regard to economic development

Allows economists to reduce their overall reliance on marginal analysis which may be less relevant to development economics than it is to the economics of development countries
Brings considerable analytic machinery to bear on important problems
A focus on institutions and transaction costs that is very relevant to development economics
Offers a thorough analysis of trade CHs 3 7 and macroeconomics CHs 16 19 both of which are not dealt with in depth by comparable textbooks
