Nietzsche on Morality and the Affirmation of Life Daniel Came, 2022 This volume brings together a number of new essays by leading Nietzsche scholars to examine the philosopher's famous critique of morality and his emphasis on life affirming values

Dostoevsky and the Epileptic Mode of Being Paul Fung, 2017-07-05 For Fyodor Dostoevsky 1821-81 who lived with epileptic seizures for more than thirty years illness is an ineradicable part of existence Epilepsy in his writings denotes both a set of physical symptoms and a state of survival in which the protagonists incessantly try to articulate theorize or master what is ungraspable in their everyday experience Their attempts to deal with what they cannot control or comprehend results in disappointment or what Dostoevsky called a mystical terror Dostoevsky's heroes are unable fully to understand this state and their existence becomes epileptic in so far as self knowledge and self coincidence are never achieved Fung explores new critical pathways by reexamining five of Dostoevsky's post Siberian novels Drawing on insights from writers including Benjamin Blanchot Freud Lacan and Nietzsche the book takes epilepsy as a trope for discussing the unspeakable moments in the texts and is intended for students and scholars who are interested in the subject of modernity critique of the visual and dialogues between philosophy and literature Paul Fung is Assistant Professor in English at Hang Seng Management College Hong Kong

Return to the Garden Paul Ferrini, 1998 In the Garden all our needs were provided for We knew no struggle of hardship We were God's beloved But happiness was not enough for us We wanted the freedom to live our own lives To evolve we had to learn to become love givers not just love receivers We all know what happened then We were cast out of the Garden and for the first time in our lives we felt shame jealousy anger lack We experienced highs and lows joy and sorrow Our lives became difficulty We had to work hard to survive We had to make mistakes and learn from them Initially we tried to blame others for our mistakes But that did not make our lives any easier It just deepened our pain and misery We had to learn to face our fears instead of projecting them onto each other Returning to the Garden we are different than we were when we left hellbent on expressing our creativity at any cost We return humble and sensitive to the needs of all We return not just as created but as co creator not just as son of man but also as son of God

Illuminations on the Road to Nowhere Paul Ferrini,2001-05 There comes a time for all of us when the outer destinations no longer satisfy and we finally understand that the love and happiness we seek cannot be found outside of us It must be found in our own hearts on the other side of our pain This book makes it clear that we can no longer rely on outer teachers or teachings to find our spiritual identity Nor can we find who we are in relationships where boundaries are blurred and one person makes decisions for another If we want to be authentic we can t allow anyone else to be an authority for us nor can we allow ourselves to be an authority for another person This provocative book challenges many of our basic assumptions about personal happiness and the meaning of our relationship with others and with God

Creating a Spiritual Relationship Paul Ferrini,1998 This book is designed for people who are either in a committed relationship or want to be A committed relationship is one path toward spiritual growth and transformation It is not the only path nor is it a very easy path The seven spiritual laws discussed in Part Two of this book provide a roadmap for couples who are committed to their mutual spiritual growth This simple but profound guide to growth and happiness for couples will help you and your partner weather the ups and downs of your relationship so that you can grow together and deepen the intimacy between you

Reconstructing Education Greta Hofman Nemiroff, 1992-05-30 Drawing on elements of progressive education existential theory feminist pedagogy and values education critical humanism combines the holistic psychological concerns of humanistic education with the sociopolitical contextualization of critical pedagogy Developed over the past seventeen years in one of North America s most experimental postsecondary programs The New School of Dawson College this theory and practice responds to both the personal and the political needs of students Reconstructing Education is at once a review of this century s educational theories an account of the work at the school and an empowering illustration of the way in which schools can incite the motivation of students and encourage them to become active members in a truly democratic society The case study chapters on The New School give concrete examples of how this philosophy is manifested in the school s methodology structure and pedagogy and draws heavily on the written work of teachers and students To formulate a similar approach for a specific school it is essential to combine a rigorous analysis of existing educational models with the dialectical process of creating and recreating a new model defined by the articulation of both learners and teachers affective cognitive and socially constructed needs This is a valuable book for anyone concerned with alternative approaches to education and for courses on educational theory or the philosophy of education
