Good Work When Excellence And Ethics Meet:

Good Work Howard Gardner, Mihaly Csikszentmihalyi, William Damon, 2001-10-03 Three world class psychologists discuss the importance of expert but socially responsible Good Work in a market driven world 30 000 first printing Good Work

Howard E. Gardner, Mihaly Csikszentmihalyi, William Damon, 2002-08-22 What does it mean to carry out good work What strategies allow people to maintain moral and ethical standards at a time when market forces wield unprecedented power and work life is being radically altered by technological innovation These are the questions at the heart of this important collaboration by three leaders in psychology Enlivened with stories of real people facing hard decisions Good Work offers powerful insight into one of the most important issues of our time and indeed into the future course of science technology and communication

From Morality to Mental Health Mike W. Martin, 2006-04-20 Morality and mental health are now inseparably linked in our view of character Alcoholics are sick yet they are punished for drunk driving Drug addicts are criminals but their punishment can be court ordered therapy The line between character flaws and personality disorders has become fuzzy with even the seven deadly sins seen as mental disorders In addition to pathologizing wrong doing we also psychologize virtue self respect becomes self esteem integrity becomes psychological integration and responsibility becomes maturity Moral advice is now sought primarily from psychologists and therapists rather than philosophers or theologians In this wide ranging accessible book Mike W Martin asks are we replacing morality with therapy in potentially confused and dangerous ways or are we creatively integrating morality and mental health According to him it s a little bit of both He surveys the ways in which morality and mental health are related touching on practical concerns like love and work self respect and self fulfillment guilt and depression crime and violence and addictions Terming this integrative development the therapeutic trend in ethics Martin uses examples from popular culture various moral controversies and draws on a line of thought that includes Plato the Stoics Freud Nietzsche and contemporary psychotherapeutic theories Martin develops some interesting conclusions among them that sound morality is indeed healthy and that moral values are inevitably embedded in our conceptions of mental health In the end he shows how both morality and mental health are inextricably intertwined in our pursuit of a meaningful life This book will be of interest to philosophers psychologists psychiatrists and sociologists as well as the general reader

The Craftsman Richard Sennett, 2009-02-05 Why do people work hard and take pride in what they do This book a philosophically minded enquiry into practical activity of many different kinds past and present is about what happens when people try to do a good job It asks us to think about the true meaning of skill in the skills society and argues that pure competition is a poor way to achieve quality work Sennett suggests instead that there is a craftsman in every human being which can sometimes be enormously motivating and inspiring and can also in other circumstances make individuals obsessive and frustrated The Craftsman shows how history has drawn fault lines between craftsman and artist maker and user technique and expression practice and theory and that individuals pride in their work as well as modern society in general suffers from these historical divisions But the past lives of crafts and craftsmen show us ways of working using tools acquiring skills thinking about materials which provide rewarding alternative ways for people to utilise their talents We need to recognise this if motivations are to be understood and lives made as fulfilling as possible Conservation Psychology

Susan Clayton, Gene Myers, 2015-09-28 People are inseparable from natural ecosystems and understanding how people think about experience and interact with nature is crucial for promoting environmental sustainability as well as human well being This is the new edition of what is now the leading textbook in conservation psychology the field that explores connections between the study of human behavior and the achievement of conservation goals Completely updated this book summarizes theory and research on ways in which humans experience nature it explores people s conceptions of nature and environmental problems their relationship with nature and their moral lenses on nature and examines ways to encourage conservation oriented behavior at both individual and societal levels Throughout the authors integrate a wide body of research demonstrating the role of psychology in promoting a more sustainable relationship between humans and nature New sections cover human perceptions of environmental problems new examples of community based conservation and a positive psychology perspective that emphasizes the relevance of nature to human resilience Additional references are to be found throughout this edition along with some new examples and a reorganisation of chapters in response to reader feedback

This fascinating volume is used for teaching classes to senior undergraduate and graduate students of Conservation Psychology Environmental Psychology and Conservation Science in departments of Psychology Geography Environmental Science and Ecology and Evolution It is equally suitable as a starting point for other researchers and practitioners psychologists conservation biologists environmental scientists and policy makers needing to know more about how psychological research can inform their conservation work

Five Minds for the Future Howard Gardner, 2009-02-01 We live in a time of relentless change The only thing that is certain is that new challenges and opportunities will emerge that are virtually unimaginable today How can we know which skills will be required to succeed In Five Minds for the Future bestselling author Howard Gardner shows how we will each need to master five minds that the fast paced future will demand The disciplined mind to learn at least one profession as well as the major thinking science math history etc behind it The synthesizing mind to organize the massive amounts of information and communicate effectively to others The creating mind to revel in unasked questions and uncover new phenomena and insightful apt answers The respectful mind to appreciate the differences between human beings and understand and work with all persons The ethical mind to fulfill one's responsibilities as both a worker and a citizen Without these minds we risk being overwhelmed by information unable to succeed in the workplace and incapable of the judgment needed to thrive both personally and professionally Complete with a substantial new introduction Five Minds for the Future provides valuable tools for those looking ahead to the next generation of leaders and for all of us striving to excel in a complex world Howard Gardner cited by Foreign Policy magazine as one of the one hundred most influential public intellectuals in the world and a MacArthur Fellowship recipient is the Hobbs Professor of Cognition and Education at the Harvard Graduate School of Education Mind, Learning and Knowledge in Educational Contexts Elisa Frauenfelder, Flavia

Santoian, 2003 Bioeducational sciences are a broad field of study uniting concepts from many disciplines education psychology and neuroscience At the heart of bioeducational sciences lie the fundamental questions of mind brain and nature nurture relationships linked to educational practical aspects Bioeducational sciences may have three main lines of research 1 epigenetic perspectives studies on filogenetic evolution evolutionary perspectives and mind brain ontogenesis ontogenetic perspectives 2 biodynamic perspectives analysis of biological bases of learning process biological perspectives and individual rethinking as a whole whole organismic perspectives 3 synergic perspectives mind is distributed and situated and knowledge structures are embedded in domain specific contexts cultural and domain specific perspectives The aim of this volume is to identify key foundational questions and classical areas of study characterizing bioeducational sciences as a field of research that considers both the extent to which biologically prepared structures constrain individual cognitive functioning and the relations between individual cognitive development and cultural domains Believing education part of the cultural elaboration process and recognizing the importance of neuroscience research findings for educational practice this volume focuses on topics such as the epigenesis of mind cognitive development learning processes knowledge structures theories of mind and folk theories interaction between emotion and cognition cognition and metacognition and between symbolic and biological systems across various disciplines and through a cross cultural perspective

Scholarship and Christian Faith Douglas Jacobsen, Rhonda Hustedt Jacobsen, 2004-04-08 This book enters a lively discussion about religious faith and higher education in America that has been going on for a decade or more During this time many scholars have joined the debate about how best to understand the role of faith in the academy at large and in the special arena of church related Christian higher education The notion of faith informed scholarship has of course figured prominently in this conversation But argue Douglas and Rhonda Jacobsen the idea of Christian scholarship itself has been remarkably under discussed Most of the literature has assumed a definition of Christian scholarship that is Reformed and evangelical in orientation a model associated with the phrase the integration of faith and learning The authors offer a new definition and analysis of Christian scholarship that respects the insights of different Christian traditions e g Catholic Lutheran Anabaptist Wesleyan Pentecostal and that applies to the arts and to professional studies as much as it does to the humanities and the natural and social sciences The book itself is organized as a conversation Five chapters by the Jacobsens alternate with four contributed essays that sharpen illustrate or complicate the material in the preceding chapters The goal is both to map the complex terrain of Christian scholarship as it actually exists and to help foster better connections between Christian scholars of differing persuasions and between Christians and the academy as a whole

Changing Minds Howard Gardner, 2006-09-01 Think about the last time you tried to change someone s mind about something important a voter s political beliefs a customer s favorite brand a spouse s decorating taste Chances are you weren t successful in shifting that person s beliefs in any way In his book Changing Minds Harvard psychologist Howard Gardner explains what happens during the course of changing a mind and offers ways to influence that process Remember that we don't change our minds overnight it happens in gradual stages that can be powerfully influenced along the way This book provides insights that can broaden our horizons and shape our lives
