Learning Chinese in a Multilingual Space Peiru

Tong,Linda Tsung,2022-05-25 This book examines the benefits of an Australian in country study ICS in China programme and explores ways to maximise the short term ICS experience in a multilingual space The book employs an ecological perspective which has seldom been used to examine the study abroad context It emphasises the importance of the space itself as an arena of interaction belonging and power where conduct and modes of communication are often regulated by political authorities and societal expectations Specifically the book focuses on the following the extent to which the ICS facilitated interaction in different settings the way in which interaction during ICS contributed to language learning the degree in which the interaction during ICS contributed to culture learning and the role of identity in the learning process in the ICS The main argument of the book is that while the ICS promoted multilingual learning space for in class and out of class interactions which further facilitated language and culture learning to a great extent Australian students identities and self concepts also played a core mediating role throughout individual learning trajectories

Contextual Language Learning Yu-Ju Lan,Scott

Grant,2021-08-31 This book presents research and developments in the virtual augmented technology and mixed reality used in language learning and teaching It provides the readers with a comprehensive overview of contextual language learning with the support of immersive technology From theoretical foundations methodological issues the features of virtual and augmented reality and educational practices of language learning to the future of immersive technology for and research on language learning During the past two decades abundant research on different realities has recognized the potential of language learning in virtual augmented and mixed reality environments Wang et al 2020 Lin Lan 2015 Given insufficient studies of Chinese learning in immersive contexts reported in existing literature this book includes several excellent studies about using immersive technologies for Chinese learning in addition to other foreign language learning such as English as a foreign language EFL Since learning Chinese has grown significantly as a global trend the authors vitally consolidate and synthesize various theoretical foundations visions and recent research and practices in the context of Chinese teaching from broader and more diverse perspectives On the other hand the chapters about EFL learning also shed light on the research on contextual language learning Thus the chapters included in this book will likely provide readers with a deep and extensive understanding of the potential of the smart combination of immersive technologies and language learning More issues for future research will undoubtedly be inspired by reading the chapters in this book

Multilingual Digital Storytelling Jim Anderson, Vicky Macleroy, 2016-03-02 Classrooms are increasingly multicultural in their social composition and students are increasingly connected through digital media to local and global networks. However, pedagogy has failed to take full advantage of the opportunities these resources represent. Multilingual Digital Storytelling draws attention to the interfaces between learner engagement, creativity and critical digital literacy as well as addressing the multilingual within the multiliteracies framework. Addressing a significant gap in the field of multiliteracies by focusing on multilingualism, this book explores new digital spaces for language learning and methods of extending understandings of youth literacy in an increasingly interconnected world. Drawing on innovative and multi-site research projects based in mainstream and community schools in London and overseas, this book discusses how young people become engaged creatively and critically with literacy by demonstrating how digital storytelling can be used as a tool for language development. The book begins by considering linguistic, cultural, cognitive and social dimensions of language learning from a theoretical perspective, whilst the second part focuses on practical case studies that reflect and illustrate these theoretical principles. Offering a powerful new perspective on multiliteracies pedagogy, Multilingual Digital Storytelling will appeal to researchers and academics in the fields of education, applied linguistics, sociology and youth and community studies. It will also be an invaluable resource for teachers, teacher educators, curriculum planners and policymakers. Liberating

Language Education Vally Lytra, Cristina Ros i Solé, Jim Anderson, Vicky Macleroy, 2022-02-04 This book responds to a growing body of work in sociolinguistics and applied linguistics that places an emphasis on situated descriptions of language education practices and illuminates how these descriptions are enmeshed with local institutional and wider social forces. It engages with new ways of understanding language that expand its meaning by including other semiotic resources and meaning-making practices and bring to the fore its messiness and unpredictability. The chapters illustrate how a translingual and transcultural orientation to language and language pedagogy can provide a point of entry to reimagining what language education might look like under conditions of heightened linguistic and cultural diversity and increased linguistic and social inequalities. The book unites an international group of contributors presenting state-of-the-art empirical studies drawing on a wide range of local contexts and spaces from linguistically and culturally heterogeneous mainstream and HE classrooms to complementary community school and informal language learning contexts. Education and Society in the Middle East and North Africa Milton George, S. Sergio Saleem Scatolini, 2020-01-17 In the past the Middle East and the so-called Muslim world used to be beacons of learning and critical thought. Although historical variables such as conquest, internal conflict and colonization demoted their position on the global stage, changes are now in the offing. In these interesting times, a growing number of educators, thinkers and visionaries are trying both to find and to generate new approaches to the past, present and future of the region. This book is a collection of articles which reflect on various aspects related to education and society in the Middle East and North Africa also known as the MENA region their peoples and educational processes It provides a platform for people to join the global conversation and to contribute to it with data which are relevant to regional concerns research and practices This is necessary because many of the theories and research findings which are still being used to understand the region were generated elsewhere and despite their lack of regional representativeness were generalized as the most trustworthy interpretive tools across the world Hence there is a need for the world to open up to the voices from the MENA region
