Aging Nation James H. Schulz,Robert H. Binstock,2008-05-15 Schulz and Robert H Social Insurance and Social Justice Leah Rogne,Carroll Estes,Brian Grossman,Brooke Hollister,Erica Solway,2009-03-23 We must tell the story of how social insurance programs have assured basic economic and health security for millions of Americans This book is a must read for anyone who cares about these goals From the Foreword by Barbara Kennelly President and CEO National Committee to Preserve Social Security and Medicare This politically charged provocative text serves as an introduction to social insurance programs examining all aspects of these hotly debated policies The editors cover cutting edge topics including Social Security and privatization universal health insurance and how America's changing demographics will impact social security in the years to come Five key sections cover the critical topics Social Insurance History Politics and Prospects examines the foundational social insurance principles upon which Social Security Medicare and other programs are based What's at Stake identifies the risks posed to women minorities and the elderly if they could no longer depend on social insurance programs The Ongoing Debates on Social Insurance discusses public opinions of social insurance programs and responds to arguments supporting privatization Critical Perspectives on Social Insurance Reform presents international experiences and policy trends and analyzes reform movements from a social justice perspective Teaching Social Insurance Critical Pedagogy and Social Justice presents pedagogical strategies to help students understand influence and engage in an informed debate about social policy    Social Security, 1998    Adulthood and Aging Dr. Vern L. Bengtson, PhD, 1996-07-03 In this volume distinguished scholars explore and apply the theoretical models of continuity and discontinuity to their research in adult development The chapters address the different ways in which continuity is affected by change over the life course as well as how individuals negotiate and maintain crucial continuities by adaptive change Topics include adult life crises illness sibling relationships and gender identity Each chapter is followed by an insightful commentary This book is a tribute to Bernice L Neugarten for her contributions to the field of adult development which includes the concept of continuities Contributors include W Andrew Achenbaum Robert H Binstock James Birren Bertram J Cohler Margaret Hellie Huyck Boaz Kahana Eva Kahana Sheldon S Tobin Lillian E Troll Steven H Zarit and others    The New Politics of Old Age Policy Robert B. Hudson, 2010-05-28 Resource added for the Psychology includes Sociology 108091 courses    Who Will Care for Us? Ronald Angel, Jacqueline L. Angel, 1999-06 An important contribution to the on going national dialogue concerning the need for planning for an increasingly aged population and its impact on our social political medical economic institutions Wisconsin Bookwatch Based on their assessments of the levels of need for the long term care among African American Latino and non Latino white older persons the authors offer viable and attractive possible alternatives to institutionalization in the long term care of the elderly Nurse Practitioner A major contribution Should be a part of every course on social gerontology long term care the demography of aging or formal informal support networks of the elderly Robert Joseph Taylor Institute for Social Research University of Michigan America is getting older By the year 2010 almost one in five Americans will be 65 years of age or older The combined forces of low fertility and longer life spans among all racial and ethnic groups have resulted in a disproportionate increase in the number of individuals over 65 and an even faster increase in the proportion of those individuals over eighty five As a result the nation faces an unprecedented challenge in addressing the economic medical and long term care needs of this older population at the same time that it assures the welfare of the young The growth of the cost of the long term care of the elderly is one of the major forces behind recent increases in Medicaid expenditures and any reformed health care financing system will have to find ways of providing high quality long term care to older Americans at a reasonable cost In a racially and culturally diverse nation like the United States official policy regarding the care of the elderly simply cannot be based on the assumption that the elderly are a culturally and socially monolithic population The cultural social and economic situations of the elderly simply differ too greatly and the family's role in their care is affected by important cultural and social factors In Who Will Care for Us Ronald J and Jacqueline L Angel argue that policies based on the assumption of a homogenous population will fail to take advantage of the opportunities that ethnic and cultural diversity offer for the long term care of the elderly The authors examine the great racial and ethnic diversity among the elderly in the contemporary U S in terms of living arrangements economic well being and reliance on formal and family based sources of support Based on their assessments of the levels of need for long term care among black Hispanic and non Hispanic white older persons they offer viable and attractive possible alternatives to institutionalization in the long term care of the elderly

Aging, Social Inequality, and Public Policy Fred C. Pampel,1998-02-25 Author Fred C Pampel treats age as a component of social inequality which gives rise to the three major themes of the text diversity in the experience of individuals differences in public policy and variations across nations

Comparison of the United States with other nations is a central component of the book providing a greater understanding of the larger forces that shape old age

Medicare and Medicaid at 50 Alan B. Cohen,David C. Colby,Keith A. Wailoo,Julian E. Zelizer,2015-06-01 For fifty years Medicare and Medicaid have stood at the center of a contentious debate surrounding American government citizenship and health care entitlement In Medicare and Medicaid at 50 leading scholars in politics government economics health policy and history offer a comprehensive assessment of the evolution of these programs and their impact on society from their origins in the Great Society era to the current battles over the Affordable Care Act

Obamacare These highly accessible essays examine Medicare and Medicaid from their origins as programs for the elderly and poor to their later role as a safety net for the middle class Along the way they have served as touchstones for heated debates about economics social welfare and the role of government Medicare and Medicaid at 50 addresses key questions for understanding the past and future of health policy in America including What were the origins for these initiatives and how were they transformed over time What marks have Medicare and Medicaid left on society In what ways have these programs produced innovation even in eras of retrenchment How did Medicaid once regarded as a poor person's program expand its benefits and coverage over the decades to become the platform for the ACA's future expansion The volume's contributors go on to examine the powerful role of courts in these transformations along with the shifting roles of Congress public opinion and state governors in the programs ongoing evolution From Lyndon Johnson to Barack Obama on the left and from Ronald Reagan to George W Bush on the right American political leaders have tied their political fortunes to the fate of America's entitlement programs Medicare and Medicaid at 50 helps explain why and how those ongoing debates are likely to shape the future of the Affordable Care Act

Enduring Questions in Gerontology Debra J. Sheets, Dana Burr Bradley, PhD, Jon Hendricks, PhD, 2006 Enduring Questions in Gerontology provides a comprehensive perspective on the abiding issues in gerontology. Both current and future gerontologists will find this book useful in examining emerging dilemmas and creating a context for further progress in the field of aging. The most creative thinkers contributing to the gerontological literature reflect on their disciplines consider how key questions have emerged review how they have changed in the decades since gerontology entered the fray and speculate what may lie ahead. The resulting collection of essays offers a comprehensive perspective on the enduring questions in gerontology and how they have shaped our understanding of differences in the experience of old age. Key contributors to this volume include George L Maddox, Christine L Fry, Steven Austad, Kenneth Brummel Smith, Manfred Diehl, Martha Holstein, W Andrew Achenbaum, James E Birren. As an emerging or seasoned scholar you will find insights into the ways in which each disciplinary focus grapples with societal transitions identifies emerging issues and lays out strategies and salient perspectives for what should come next.

Challenges of an Aging Society Rachel Pruchno, Michael A. Smyer, 2007-09-10 In this important and timely collection some of the best minds in gerontology and bioethics including Nancy Dubler, Rick Moody, Andrew Achenbaum, Robert Hudson and Robert Binstock explore the ethical social and political challenges of an aging society. A unique combination of disciplines and perspectives from economics to nursing psychology to theology this valuable synthesis of theory and practice provides frameworks and analyses for considering the ethical issues of both individual and societal aging. The contributors address the major policy challenges of Social Security, Medicare and prescription drugs as well as ethical issues ranging from individual autonomy to family responsibility to distributive justice. Specific topics covered include end of life decision making, family relations across generations, age based intergenerational policies and the reform of Social Security. Macroeconomic Policies of Developed Democracies Robert J. Franzese, Jr,2002-02-11 This book synthesizes and extends modern political economic theory to explain the postwar evolution of macroeconomic policy in developed democracies Chapters 2 4 study transfers debt and monetary wage policy making and outcomes stressing that participation enhances transfer policy responsiveness to inequality and vice versa that policy making veto actors retard fiscal policy adjustments inducing greater long run debt responses to all other political economic stimuli and that monetary policy s nominal and real effects depend respectively on the broader political economic interest structure and on wage price bargainers sectorial composition and coordination Broadly the book argues that these developments have exacerbated the distributional conflicts inherent in the policies to which postwar governments had committed while undermining their more universally desired efficiency fostering roles Battles that once raged primarily over policies conducted within postwar commitment frameworks now rage over the putative reforms of the frameworks that will set the institutional rules within which democratic struggle over macroeconomic policy and free market competition will continue
