Rethinking Free Trade, Economic Integration and Human Rights in the Americas María Belén Olmos Giupponi,2017-01-26 This monograph offers the first systematic overview of the protection of human rights in trade agreements in the Americas Traditionally trade agreements in the Americas were concerned with economic questions and paid little attention to human rights However in the wake of the new regionalism which emerged at the end of the last century more clauses addressing social issues such as labour rights and environmental standards were inserted in trade agreements As economic integration increased a framework for the protection of human rights evolved This book argues that this framework allows for human rights protection on a transnational level while constructing regional identities Looking at the four key regional integration processes namely the Caribbean Community the Central American Integration System the Andean Community of Nations and the Southern Common Market and also at the North American Free Trade Agreement it shows how the integration process has reached a considerable degree of consolidation Writing on key sources in English for the first time this book will be essential reading for all free trade and human rights scholars Water System Science and Policy Interfacing Philippe Quevauviller, 2009-11-20 Recent discussions among scientists and policy makers have highlighted that knowledge generated by many research and demonstration projects is not reaching policymakers in an efficient way Conversely the consideration of research results by the policy making community is not straightforward and difficulties arise in integrating the latest research developments in legislation The difficulty is enhanced by the fact that the policy making community is not defining its role as client sufficiently well and the dialogue and communication channels are far from ideal to ensure an efficient flow of information An increasing number of experts consider that improvements could be achieved through the development of a science policy interface so that R D results are synthesised in a way to efficiently feed policy implementation and that short medium and long term research needs may be identified This book examines the issue of integrating science into policy with an emphasis on water system knowledge and related policies An important feature of the book is the discussion of science policy interfacing needs illustrated by examples from authors from different countries in relation to water system management This publication is timely in that the science policy interfacing is now identified as a key challenge worldwide with regard to integrated water resource management and therefore the book will be of great interest to scientists water managers and stakeholders Readers will also benefit from a better understanding of the needs benefits and drawbacks of an established transfer mechanism of scientific outputs to policies The Routledge International Handbook of Economic Sociology Milan Zafirovski, 2023-05-12 This handbook presents a systematic and comprehensive overview of economic sociology an exemplary interdisciplinary field which draws on theoretical frameworks and empirical findings from both economics and sociology to present a unique lens on the interdependence of the economy and society The handbook is arranged in four parts which together present the current state of the art of economic sociology as well as pointing toward future directions for research The first part outlines the theoretical foundations of economic sociology and its relations to other fields particularly with regard to other alternative approaches to economics and looks at conceptions and definitions of economic sociology vary The second part provides an overview of the historical development of economic sociology from classical political economy to the present day The third part explores the main problematics of economic sociology analyzing the economy in relation to particular social institutions the state ideology culture and art religion gender race ethnicity and more The fourth part focuses on the principal branches including sociology of the market industrial organization and work uncertainty distribution and inequality money and finance and the environment The stellar international cast of contributors is drawn from both economics and sociology therefore presenting a holistic view of the field and contributing to a rejuvenation of economic sociology within economics It is an indispensable reference work for researchers and students across a broad range of sociological and economic disciplines Handbook of Nigerian Labour

Relations Dafe Otobo,2025-09-24 We attempt here to bring together a practical blend of essential theorising in the broad area of industrial relations or labour relations or employment relations depending on one's preference with practical issues and challenges facing trade unions public and private employers regulatory agencies and concerned interests in the Nigerian economy The Handbook is also a quick access resource pool of basic facts essential official policies basic national laws on and all international labour conventions relevant to Nigerian tripartite labour relations Employers and their associations labour organisations regulatory agencies relevant local and international experts and academics consultants researchers and students among others should find this book useful Climate Crisis Economics Stuart P. M. Mackintosh,2025-04-25 Climate Crisis Economics A Race of Tipping Points draws on economics political economy scientific literature and data to gauge the extent to which our various communities political economic and business are making the essential leap to a new narrative and policy approach that will accelerate us towards the necessary transition to a decarbonised economy and sustainable future Time is fast running out to avoid tipping points of no return warns Mackintosh The book draws out policies and practices with both national and local examples which demonstrate various complementary approaches that are empowering states and people as they seek to pursue the carbon neutral goal The author delineates a climate crisis economics approach that is fit for purpose and which can help achieve necessary climate change goals in the decades ahead This new 2nd edition has been thoroughly updated throughout including new material on the Biden administration and countries outside the United States and Europe new chapters on tipping point dangers and the need for a just transition It includes key questions for students and supplemental reading for each chapter Written in an accessible voice Climate Crisis Economics A Race of Tipping Points makes the case for a new model of climate crisis economics and new narratives to address the climate change dangers ahead It will appeal to academics students investors and professionals from varying disciplines including politics international political economy and international economics Environmental and Ecological Sustainability Through Indigenous Traditions Binay Kumar Pattnaik,2024-07-26 This book explores the environmental and ecological wisdom inherent in some of the indigenous traditions of traditional communities from developing societies like Argentina Brazil India Mexico Sri Lanka and Thailand It throws light on how these discrete and unrecognized traditions have enabled communities to live in harmony with nature for ages Despite the best efforts of the modern states through policy making intensive R D for eco friendly technologies and products social and environmental impact assessment studies SEIAS and cost benefit analysis CBA of projects environmental and ecological degradation continues mostly in developing societies which house large number of traditional communities This book explores their traditions consisting of world views or cosmologies eco savvy customs indigenous knowledge systems involving community based occupations and practices skills and crafts and so on This book shows that when interpreted in consonance with scientific environmentalism these traditions reveal their inbuilt environmental wisdom mirroring sacredness of nature that have instilled built in conservation practices are key to sustainability The conception of indigenous traditions that subsume environmental and ecological sustainability as well as cultural identity is studied in the book from the vantage of multi disciplinary perspectives This book reflects two streams of thought i stream of social anthropology arguing for the inbuilt strength of indigenous traditions that necessitate empathetic understanding with their own rights for recognition and survival and ii stream of indigenous knowledge systems being technically effective only necessitate validation and certification by modern scientific knowledge system for wider use The book is of great use to policy makers and non government players in addition to researchers and academicians working in the area of sustainable development and indigenous traditional communities      Tourism in India Mr. Rohit
