Kramer, 2004 Charlie tries to use lucky charms to win a baseball game but all he really needs is his lucky pitching arm Disney Channel's Extraordinary Girls Christina H. Hodel, 2024-03-12 Between 2001 2011 Disney Channel produced several sitcoms aimed at tweens that featured female protagonists with extraordinary abilities e g celebrity and super magical powers In this book Christina H Hodel argues that while male counterparts in similar programs openly displayed their extraordinariness the female characters in these programs were often forced into hiding and secrecy which significantly diminished their agency She analyzes sitcom episodes commentary in magazine articles and web based discussions of these series to examine how they portrayed female youths and the impact it had on its adolescent viewers Combining close readings of dialogue and action with socioeconomic and historical contextual insights Hodel sheds new light on the attitudes of the creators of these programs mostly white middle aged Western heterosexual males and the long term impact on women today Ultimately her analysis shows these blockbuster sitcoms reveal that despite Disney s progress toward creating empowered girls the network was and still is locked into tradition This book is of interest to scholars of Disney studies cultural studies television studies and gender studies Dialogues of the World of Nature G. Azzi John G. Azzi, 2010-04 Personified dialogues of various entities from our natural world discussing arguing commenting on every day life s emotional p physical intellectual contingencies Home Sweat Home Elizabeth Patton, Mimi Choi, 2014-01-23 Coeditors Elizabeth Patton and Mimi Choi argue that an in depth examination of media images of housework from the mid nineteenth century to the early twenty first century is long overdue Modern depictions often imply that certain concerns can be resolved through excessive domesticity reflecting some of the complicated and unfinished issues of second wave feminism Home Sweat Home Perspectives on Housework and Modern Relationships reveals how widespread the cultural image of perfect housewives and the invisibility of household labor were in the past and remain today In this collection of essays contributors explore the construction of women as homemakers and the erasure of household labor from the middle class home in popular representations of housework They concentrate on such matters as the impact of second wave feminism on families and gender relations of popular culture especially in film television magazines and advertising on our views of what constitutes home life and gender relations and of changing views of sexuality and masculinity within the domestic sphere Home Sweat Home will interest students and scholars of gender cultural media and communication studies sociology and American history and appeal to anyone curious about housework gender relations and popular culture Cassie's Cowboy Diane Pershing, 2014-07-15 Cassie Nevins longed for someone to save the day someone like Cowboy Charlie the hero she d created for her daughter s bedtime stories and the hunk who d starred in a few of her own not so innocent fantasies Charlie followed the code of the Old West Act honorably work hard tell the truth and take responsibility So who was this stranger on her doorstep looking exactly like her cowboy right down to the dimple in one corner of his very kissable mouth All Cassie knew was this Charlie could make all her dreams come true including her deeply hidden desire for a happily ever after I and Sproggy Constance C. Greene, 2015-02-10 One boy figures out how to survive New York City his parents divorce and a new sister named Sproggy Adam is a real New Yorker He may only be a preteen but he's Manhattan through and through from his boys only club to his friendship with Charlie the building's doorman And like all real New Yorkers Adam takes bad news in stride The night his parents walk into his bedroom to tell him they're getting a divorce and his father is moving to England for two years is no exception Adam knows he'll be OK After all he's got his mother good friends and nice teachers But when his dad returns from Great Britain with a strange wife and a new sister for Adam he isn't exactly tap dancing for joy Especially since his new sister's name is Sproggy Even worse Dad expects Adam to show Sproggy around school It seems like things couldn't get any worse But somehow they do His friends They actually like her His teachers They think she's adorable She's taking over his comfortable Manhattan life and everyone expects him to be happy about it With absolutely no way out of this it's up to Adam to make things better After all everyone has to grow up eventually Loonyology Charles Bronson, 2011-11-09 Lifer Charlie Bronson's reputation precedes him Britain's most violent prisoner or does it Do we really know the true Charlie or are our impressions the result of media hype Well what is in no doubt is that Loonyology is 200% Bronson and will transport the reader on the dizziest no holds barred roller coaster ride of their lives from suspense and shock to laughter and tears and from Bronson the Solitary King to Bronson the Philosopher the Poet the Artist the Author the Joker the Walking Scar and the Freedom Fighter Now 55 years old and having spent most of his last 34 years as a maximum security Bronco Zoo inmate he's a much wiser man as he looks back on his crazy journey of unpredictable behaviour his ever alert mind darting from reminiscences of his teenage years to memories of fellow cons the screws the cranks letters and news reports prison life and procedures and the overall madness loonyology of the legal and penal systems peppering his stories with diary entries true gems of information sound advice and hilarious one liners Together with his many supporters and with the aid of a top lawyer Charlie is campaigning for the parole board to finally allow him his freedom but begging is not his style he calls a spade a spade and is determined to win with dignity fighting with his pen and his brain to achieve his aim of a life outside the cage In his words I chose to be a villain I'm not proud of it nor am I ashamed of it I have paid my debt to society and it's time to go home Battlefield Commission Curt Munson, 2016-01-21 Idealistic Marine Charlie McDowell represents the third generation of his family to serve his country in time of war But after two years in combat Charlie has a battlefield commission and wound so serious it threatens to waylay his military career He's forced to return home to conquer the rehabilitation that stands in the way of his return to active duty While there he also plans to finish his education and reconcile with the girl he loves Before any of that can happen though Charlie is rocked by trauma related depression nightmares and hallucinations that threaten to turn him into an emotional as well as physical cripple He realizes he must learn to deal with the horror of what he has seen and done overseas Charlie's fight to recover also demands he survive his new commanding officer a bitter man with an old score to settle who seems determined to drive Charlie from the service From the battlefield to the bedroom to the halls of academia Charlie McDowell is a man of his time and so much more but can he conquer his own demons to become the hero of his aspirations

The Colorblind Screen Sarah Nilsen, Sarah E. Turner, 2014-04-04 In The Colorblind Screen the contributors examine television's role as the major discursive medium in the articulation and contestation of racialized identities in the United States While the dominant mode of televisual racialization has shifted to a colorblind ideology that foregrounds racial differences in order to celebrate multicultural assimilation the volume investigates how this practice denies the significant social economic and political realities and inequalities that continue to define race relations today Focusing on such iconic figures as President Obama LeBron James and Oprah Winfrey many chapters examine the ways in which race is read by television audiences and fans Other essays focus on how visual constructions of race in dramas like 24 Sleeper Cell and The Wanted continue to conflate Arab and Muslim identities in post 9 11 television The volume offers an important intervention in the study of the televisual representation of race engaging with multiple aspects of the mythologies developing around notions of a post racial America and the duplicitous discursive rationale offered by the ideology of colorblindness Publisher's website
