The socially volatile period of the Vormärz 1830–1848 and the 1848 Revolution in Germany produced a wealth of political protest songs. Songs for a Revolution makes available twenty-two prominent protest songs from that time both lyrics in German and English and melodies. It also chronicles the songs' reception suppressed after the revolution they fell into obscurity despite intermittent revivals by the workers' movement and later in the Weimar Republic until they were appropriated as democratic cultural heritage by the folk and political song movements of East and West Germany after 1945. The songs reflect the new oppositional political consciousness that emerged during the post-1830 period of restoration and led to the revolution. The book makes use of broadsides, songbooks, newspaper reports, and manuscripts to document the songs' transmission and shed light on the milieus in which they circulated. It also demonstrates how the appropriation of these songs by the German Liedermacher and folk scene shaped today's cultural memory of the 1848 period. It illuminates the functioning of political ideology in these reception processes which in turn have given rise to myths that have influenced the discourse on the 1848 songs.
