A Place in El Paso Gloria López-Stafford, 1996. This memoir of growing up in El Paso in the 1940s and 1950s creates an entire city the way a barrio awakens in the early morning sun, the thrill of a rare desert snow, the taste of fruit flavored raspadas on summer afternoons, the money boys who beg from commuters passing back and forth to Juarez, and the mischief of children entertaining themselves in the streets. López-Stafford shows readers El Paso through the eyes of Yoya, short for Gloria, the high spirited narrator who is five years old when the book begins. Yoya is a survivor. Her young mother has died, leaving her in the care of her much older father who tries to provide for his family by selling used clothing. Her brother Carlos, Padre Luna, and a community of children and women assume responsibility for Yoya, but like the inexplicable loss of her mother, unexpected changes separate her from her beloved barrio. The search for su lugar, her place, becomes a search for identity as Gloria seeks to understand her various homes and families.

Cieślicka, 2015-10-17 The collected essays in this volume present an overview and state of the field of traditional and recently developed methodological approaches to the study of bilingual reading comprehension. It critically reviews and examines major findings from classical behavioral approaches such as the visual moving window, rapid serial visual presentation, RSVP, and eye tracking, as well as newly developing neuropsycholinguistic methodologies such as Event Related Potentials (ERPs) and Functional Magnetic Resonance Imaging (fMRI). Written to address a timely topic, Methods in Bilingual Reading Comprehension Research updates the field of bilingual reading by critically examining the contributions of the various behavioral and technologically based reading techniques used to understand psychological processes underlying written language comprehension. Each topic is covered first from a theoretical and then from an experimental viewpoint. Moreover, the volume contributes to the development and establishment of Bilingual Reading as a subfield of bilingual sentence processing and fills a significant gap in the literature on bilingual language processing and thought. Significantly, Methods in Bilingual Reading Comprehension Research presents an overall view of some of the typical psycholinguistic techniques and approaches, as well as proposing other possible tasks that may prove viable in investigating such theoretical issues as bilingual lexical ambiguity resolution or how bilingual speakers might resolve multiple sources of potentially conflicting information as they comprehend sentences and discourse during the communicative process. In addition to aid reader comprehension and encourage readers to acquire hands-on experience in the creation and development of experiments in the realm of bilingual reading research, each chapter includes a list of key words, suggested student research projects, and questions to both help the reader review the chapter and expand upon the reading. With its comprehensive coverage of a crucial subfield of psycholinguistics and language processing, Methods in Bilingual Reading Comprehension Research is an invaluable and informative resource for all students and researchers in bilingualism, neurolinguistics, bilingual cognition, and other related fields.
