El Largo Atardecer Del Caminante:

Largo atardecer del caminante Abel Posse, 2017-09-25 El verdadero descubridor de los Estados Unidos fue un individuo que se lanzó a la caminata más colosal que mente humana ha concebido. Lo hizo a pie desnudo casi como un nativo americano sin evangelios ni catecismos. Así fue como Alvar Núñez de Vaca atravesó lo desconocido desde Florida a Texas para luego descender hasta Ciudad de México. Abel Posse cierra el círculo de su particular Trilogía del Descubrimiento con una obra que es mucho más que una autobiografía novelada ofrecida en una magistral serie de flashbacks: es una lectura honda y descarnada de la visión de la llegada de los europeos al Nuevo Mundo de un aventurero que llegó a ser nombrado Adelantado y gobernador del Río de la Plata para luego luchar contra la poligamia y la esclavitud de los indios en Paraguay. Núñez de Vaca acabó sus días arruinado que no vencido en Sevilla donde Posse sitúa el origen de una narración de un viejo soldado que todavía quiere creer en el poder de la fe y la bondad. Un día atraca en Sevilla del siglo XV un barco cargado con esclavos americanos entre los que encuentra a su hijo Amadís. Este suceso vuelve a conectarle con su pasado y desencadena un relato con un dramático y asombroso desenlace. El autor exhibe un soberbio dominio del tono intimista para alguien cuyo epitafio firmó el propio inca Garcilaso de la Vega en Valladolid apelando al Consejo de Indias con el propósito de ver restablecido su honor y sus bienes que le fueron confiscados cuando fue apresado en Asunción. El largo atardecer del caminante Abel Posse, 2017

A Twice-told Tale Santiago Juan-Navarro, Theodore Robert Young, 2001 Essays on Iberian views of the age of conquest through literature and cinema Memory, Metaphor and Time Consciousness in a Cronica: Abel Posse's "El Largo Atardecer Del Caminante" as an "appropriation" of the "Relacion" of Alvar Nunez Cabeza de Vaca Christopher J.

Schaefer, 2007 The present study examines the way that human time consciousness is instantiated in narrative and the way it is manifested in the 1542 relacion of Alvar Nunez Cabeza de Vaca. The chronicle was hermeneutically appropriated by Abel Posse in his novel El largo atardecer del caminante. Posse interprets the original chronicle through the lens of a provocative lacuna in the 1542 Zamora edition of the relacion. I analyze time consciousness in the chronicle and novel providing a brief sketch of the investigation of time by Augustine and time consciousness by Husserl and Heidegger. Paul Ricoeur in Time and Narrative proposes that human internal time consciousness occurs through the medium of narrative. Since the experience of time consciousness is shaped through narrative, one perceives shifts of temporal awareness in the temporal and deictic markers of the chronicle of Cabeza de Vaca. The temporal shift the language reflects adumbrates a concomitant shift in the radicalization of consciousness on the part of the shipwrecked sixteenth century conquistador. This shift in consciousness enabled him to identify more completely with the Amerindians with whom he lived for almost a seven year period from 1528-1534. The temporal shift moves from a Judeo-Christian historically oriented time consciousness to a time consciousness that is cyclical and of the hunter-gatherer as outlined by Mircea Eliade. The Argentine author Abel Posse plays upon the dialectic of memory and forgetfulness creating a post-modern Heideggerian anti-hero. I examine the way that Ricoeur and Levinas see selfhood and identity as mediated through narrative The notion of identity is examined through the phenomena of memory and forgetfulness as well as the question as to how memory and forgetfulness constitute the both the novelist s and the historian s debt Posse suggests alternative possibilities in the chronicle that open the horizon of experience of the reader to a new interpretation of the work vis a vis the reader s re figuration of the chronicle through prism of Mimesis 3 Latin American Novels of the Conquest Kimberle S. López,2002 The fictionalized explorers and conquistadors represented in this corpus all identify with certain aspects of Amerindian culture significantly those elements that are most distinct from European culture such as cannibalism and human sacrifice but also feel the need to distance themselves from these others in order to protect their own European cultural identity In most cases the conquistadors themselves are represented as outsiders within the enterprise of imperialism due to ethnic religious or sexual differences from the norm This representation turns the gaze inward toward the other within European culture underscoring the complex origins of Latin American cultures in the violent encounter between the Amerindians and the conquistadors By examining these issues Lopez s Latin American Novels of the Conquest illuminates the ways in which Latin American novelists used their literary imaginations to embody their ambivalence regarding their own transcultural heritage as children of both the colonized and the colonizer BOOK

Hernández,2006 He demonstrates how these novelists use major and marginal figures to reflect upon the ways that institutional powers invoke episodes from the discovery and conquest to legitimate the present and also to critique the recent historical past especially in the case of Uruguay and Argentina which endured military dictatorships in the 1970s and 1980s

Making Contact Glenn Burger,2003-02-26 When civilizations first encounter each other a cascade of change is triggered that both challenges and reinforces the identities of all parties Making Contact revisits key encounters between cultures in the medieval and early modern world Contributors cross disciplinary boundaries to explore the implications of contact Scott D Westrem examines the imagined Africa depicted in the Bell Mappamundi Day to day accommodations between the religious identities of Vilnius in the Polish Lithuanian Commonwealth are explored by David

Frick Steven F Kruger argues that medieval Christian identity was destabilized by the living Talmudic tradition Individual Jesuits who were critical to the success of contact in Japan are evaluated by Nakai Ayako Linda Woodbridge argues that Elizabethan attitudes towards aboriginals paralleled their attitudes towards English vagrants Despite a nod to Arcadian conventions travel narratives of Virginia were preoccupied with finding wealth according to Paul W DePasquale s research Rick H Lee examines the conflicting loyalties of Pierre Raddisson in the New World Richard A Young demonstrates that the Florida shipwreck narratives of Cabeza de Vaca were groomed for intended audiences past and present This rich interdisciplinary collaboration contributes to the debate on boundaries between disciplines as well as boundaries between the Middle Ages and the early modern period and also between historical and theoretical perspectives Making Contact draws our attention to the important ways in which historic encounters with contrasting others have shaped the identities of both individual and corporate selves over a span of five centuries Encyclopedia of Latin American Literature Verity Smith,1997-03-26 A comprehensive encyclopedic guide to the authors works and topics crucial to the literature of Central and South America and the Caribbean the Encyclopedia of Latin American Literature includes over 400 entries written by experts in the field of Latin American studies Most entries are of 1500 words but the encyclopedia also includes survey articles of up to 10 000 words on the literature of individual countries of the colonial period and of ethnic minorities including the Hispanic communities in the United States Besides presenting and illuminating the traditional canon the encyclopedia also stresses the contribution made by women authors and by contemporary writers Outstanding Reference Source Outstanding Reference Book Decolonizing Indigeneity Thomas Ward,2016-12-20 While there are differences between cultures in different places and times colonial representations of indigenous peoples generally suggest they are not capable of literature nor are they worthy of being represented as nations Colonial representations of indigenous people continue on into the independence era and can still be detected in our time The thesis of this book is that there are various ways to decolonize the representation of Amerindian peoples Each chapter has its own decolonial thesis which it then resolves Chapter 1 proves that there is coloniality in contemporary scholarship and argues that word choices can be improved to decolonize the way we describe the first Americans Chapter 2 argues that literature in Latin American begins before 1492 and shows the long arc of Mayan expression taking the Popol Wuj as a case study Chapter 3 demonstrates how colonialist discourse is reinforced by a dualist rhetorical ploy of ignorance and arrogance in a Renaissance historical chronicle Agustin de Z rate s Historia del descubrimiento y conquista del Per Chapter 4 shows how by inverting the Renaissance dualist configuration of civilization and barbarian the Nahua Aztecs who were formerly considered barbarian can be civilized within Spanish norms This is done by modeling the categories of civilization discussed at length by the Friar Bartolom de las Casas as a template that can serve to evaluate Nahua civil society as encapsulated by the historiography of Fernando de Alva Ixtlilxochitl a possibility that would have been available to Spaniards during that time Chapter 5 maintains that the colonialities of the pre Independence era survive but that Criollo indigenous dialogue is capable of excavating their roots to extirpate them By comparing the discussions of the hacienda system by the Peruvian essayist Manuel Gonz lez Prada and by the Mayan Quich eye witness to history Rigoberta Mench this books shows that there is common ground between their viewpoints despite the different genres in which their work appears and despite the different countries and the eight decades that separated them suggesting a universality to the problem of the hacienda which can be dissected This book models five different decolonizing methods to extricate from the continuities of coloniality both indigenous writing and the representation of indigenous peoples by learned elites

Early Visions and Representations of America M. Carmen Gomez-Galisteo, 2012-11-22 When the Europeans first arrived in America they had a number of preconceptions prejudices expectations and hopes about what life in the New World would be like This book examines the different visions and representations of America conveyed in the writings of Spanish conquistador lvar N ez Cabeza de Vaca and the Pilgrim leader William Bradford taking both writers within their respective literary and historical contexts Anthologies of American literature have consistently ignored Spanish language achievements on the grounds of a restrictive interpretation of American literature based on linguistic boundaries Consequently Spanish language texts such as Cabeza de Vaca s or the account by the Hidalgo de Elvas to name but two examples have been marginalized in the narrative of American literary
