Predicting the Unthinkable, Anticipating the Impossible Georgie Anne Geyer, 2017-09-04 In the 1980s most Americans scoffed at the idea that the Communist empire could collapse but Georgie Anne Geyer was already outlining that probability In the 1990s the world was stunned by wars that raged across post Yugoslavia and their viciousness but Geyer on a trip to Belgrade in 1989 interviewed top officials and anticipated the conflicts When 9/11 occurred she used common sense and said This was inevitable the terrorists had already attacked the World Trade Center in 1993 and criminals always return to the scene of the crime Geyer argues that while the United States was being praised everywhere during this era of indispensable power as the greatest power the world has known it actually had started on the road to decline It had won the Cold War but had immediately embarked upon more Vietnam like small wars of tremendous cost in Iraq and Afghanistan Across the board it was no longer paying its way while its domestic culture was being vulgarized at every turn This book explains how when and where these declines happened Geyer studies the history of nations and of peoples observes human nature particularly as influenced by religion and ideology and is a close analyst of the acts of men and women when they perceive they have been humiliated by others or by history She warns

What do the mysterious Roman author Vegetius the Byzantine emperor Leo VI and the Chinese general Li Jing all have in common They are three of the dozens of authors across the medieval Mediterranean world and beyond who wrote works of military literature sometimes called military handbooks manuals or treatises This book brings together a multidisciplinary international team of scholars who present cutting edge essays on diverse aspects of medieval military literature While some chapters offer novel approaches to familiar authors like Vegetius some present research on under valued topics like Byzantine military illustrations and others provide holistic studies on subjects like early modern treatises they all move the discussion of medieval military literature forward Contributors are Michael B Charles Georgios Chatzelis Pierre Cosme Maxime Emion Immacolata Eramo Michael Fulton David Graff John Haldon Catharine Hof John Hosler Savvas Kyriakidis ukasz R ycki Katharina Schoneveld Georgios Theotokis Conor Whately Michael Whitby and Nadya Williams Papa Cigüeña Manolo Sabino,2011-06-16 Pap Cig e a es m s que un personaje fant stico es la genial creaci n de la preocupada mente del autor que lo rescata de la fantas a del ayer cuando los padres dec an a sus hijos que las Cig e as los tra an de Paris para traerlo a las realidades de hoy para que le cuente a sus hijos la verdad hist rica de la zona que el destino les hab a se alado para hacer las entregas de los ni os que el Se or hab a asignado a las madres Cat licas de Cuba y por ende de Miami Capital del Exilio Cubano Al haber escogido la ruta tomada por el Almirante Crist bal Col n para llegar a las Indias Occidentales hoy Am rica y describir a sus hijos el d a la hora y el lugar donde Col n la descubriera as como la ruta que continuara y lo sucedido en dicha ruta convirti este libro en una obra am n de interesante en did ctica En esta alucinante obra el autor logra mezclar la fantas a con la realidad con tanta pureza que hizo surgieran momentos en que el lector se encuentre en una encrucijada en la que se le hace dif cil encontrar donde est la realidad y donde la ficci n sobre todo cuando se refiere a la Revoluci n Cubana ya que sta se ha mantenido por m s de 50 a os tratando de hacer creer que su ut pico sistema es la salvaci n de los pueblos no que es el verdadero culpable del descalabro econ mico de los pa ses que lo han aplicado S lo los que conocen a fondo el modo operandi de los comunistas cubanos encontraran la ruta que los conduce a la realidad transparente Lo que s es bien comprensible que esta obra es una de las m s amena y entretenida que se haya escrito en este siglo pues mientras le va ense ando cuando y donde Crist bal Col n descubri Am rica y va describiendo la geograf a y lugares donde

Miles South Jeff Metzger, 2005-08-01 90 MILES SOUTH is a story of adventure culture shock and ill advised romance. A young American risks prison and fines by illegally smuggling himself into Cuba. He grows obsessed with the crumbling streets of Havana, the history, the politics and most of all the people. But at the same time he feels a searing pain every time he opens his eyes to the ubiquitous poverty and prostitution. And of course there is a girl. Our somewhat befuddled hero grows infatuated with a beautiful girl of dubious profession but he does not seem to be psychologically capable of taking that step from his suburban universe to a relationship with a Magdalene of the third world. But he comes back this time as a reporter covering the pope's historic visit to Cuba in 1998. As he follows both the pope and the lovely Susanna around Havana he attempts to solve the puzzle of politics, religion and love on that mysterious island and he finds himself entrenched in an exhausting wrestling match of values. Letters to Osama D. Alexander Holiday, 2003-12-22

In I Use To Fall Down his first major compilation of his poems which was favorably received Mr Holiday took the reader on a whirlwind of emotional topics from nuclear proliferation, Washerwoman Blues to starving children in Somalia, Il Walad from police brutality, Rest In Peace, Cop Killers and When the Cops Drive By to reflections on his twenty one years under the New York City foster care system. Somehow Mama Knew, Stop Laughing At Me and What Dad Might Have Said. He has attempted to be honest, some have said too brutally honest about abuse, the very abuse he has experienced at the hands of care takers and that abuse which he sees perpetrated by man against man. With Letters to Osama Mr Holiday runs the gambit again of topics as current as the war over Iraq, the ugliness of 9/11 and he continues to be brutally honest in his criticisms and observations of the Bush Administration, the UN and other world leaders and the roles they play in the world's conflicts, foreign and domestic. D.

Alexander Holiday is a native New Yorker raised in foster care and was stricken with Gillian Barre Syndrome also called Ascending Paralysis at the age of ten. He holds a Master of Arts degree from the State University of New York at Albany. He is currently working on his autobiography In the Care of Strangers: The Autobiography of A Foster Child. His work can be found on the web at www.feelingandform.com, www.albanypoets.com and www.poetix.net/columbia.htm. I Use to Fall Down:

50 + 25 + 25 Selected Poems D. Alexander Holiday, 2005-06-21 This edition of I Use to Fall Down 50 25 25 Selected Poems contains all of the fifty 50 original poems that first appeared in the original chap book of the same name plus twenty five 25 pieces that first appeared in Letters to Osama, Old and New Musings on Foreign and Domestic Terrorism and Other Matters with an additional twenty five new poems. The original chap book was a labor of love having comprised many of the pieces which appeared in the book during the Amadou Diallo trial of four New York City police officers charged with this young unarmed African males murder The murder was senseless but the trial was a travesty of justice a mockery of both the justice system in America and specifically how it relates to people of color and Black people in general and very specifically to black men in particular The trial was to put Amadou ergo black people black men on trial and to make whites see that black people are just guilty guilty of being the wrong color So I had written one and sometimes more than one poem per day during the duration of the trial which began at the end of January and primarily took place during February What is sort of ironic and lends credence to my position about racism in this country is that Amadou was shot and killed in the month of February which is Black History Month and his trial was conducted and ended in the month of February again Black History Month Amadou was found guilty and his murderers went free innocent of all charges Tragic but this oftentimes is justice for blacks in America In addition to writing all those poems during Black History Month about the trial and I had been working nearly two doors down from the very courthouse at the time I hit on the idea of putting a few of the trial poems and others that I had written into a chap book that I would sell locally but the chap book would primarily be for me something to have in my personal library a monument to Amadou and others a testament for Black America I worked on a computer at the local public library drafting each page and getting my printouts from the reference desk librarians After doing all that work the manuscript was ready to be printed into book format by a local Kinkos Amazingly once I actually had a few books in my hand one of the very librarians who had been working at the times I was in and had helped with getting my printed pages for me offered to buy a few copies of this very chapbook putting one in the local archives and about three in general circulation The library even hosted a reading for me I am very proud of the chap book and I had done about three others prior to this one which has gone through several versions of both the cover and the very style of the book and this is why Im making it available again for readers A few of the poems would later in appear in Letters to Osama my first major publication of my work which I am also very proud of This new version of I Use to Fall Down now has a new and exciting cover design twenty five poems from Letters to Osama and some new poems about everything from deaths of celebrities to politics and wars There is humor sadness revenge writing and plain anger at people places and things Being misanthropic is just not easy I hope that readers will both come away from my work having learned something and enjoyed the way I attempted to present the message
