Cinematic Representations of Alzheimer's Disease Raquel Medina, 2018-08-09 This book offers a cross cultural approach to cinematic representations of Alzheimer's disease in non mainstream cinema Even though Alzheimer's disease the most common form of dementia is a global health issue it is not perceived or represented homogeneously around the world Contrary to very well known mainstream films the films discussed do not focus on the negative aspects normally associated with Alzheimer's disease but on the importance of portraying the perspective of the persons living with Alzheimer's and their personhood. Similarly, this book analyses how the films use Alzheimer's as a trope to address issues relating to different areas of life and society such as, for example, family matters, intergenerational relationships, gender issues, national traditions versus global modernity, and caring for people with dementia. By examining an array of films from crime fiction to documentary that each present non-stigmatising representations of Alzheimer's disease, this in-depth study ultimately demonstrates the power of culture in shaping meaning.
