The Revolutionary City Mark R. Beissinger, 2022-04-12 How and why cities have become the predominant sites for revolutionary upheavals in the contemporary world Examining the changing character of revolution around the world The Revolutionary City focuses on the impact that the concentration of people power and wealth in cities exercises on revolutionary processes and outcomes Once predominantly an urban and armed affair revolutions in the twentieth century migrated to the countryside as revolutionaries searched for safety from government repression and discovered the peasantry as a revolutionary force But at the end of the twentieth century as urban centers grew revolution returned to the city accompanied by a new urban civic repertoire espousing the containment of predatory government and relying on visibility and the power of numbers rather than arms Using original data on revolutionary episodes since 1900 public opinion surveys and engaging examples from around the world Mark Beissinger explores the causes and consequences of the urbanization of revolution in the late twentieth and early twenty first centuries Beissinger examines the compact nature of urban revolutions as well as their rampant information problems and heightened uncertainty He investigates the struggle for control over public space why revolutionary contention has grown more pacified over time and how revolutions involving the rapid assembly of hundreds of thousands in central urban spaces lead to diverse ad hoc coalitions that have difficulty producing substantive change The Revolutionary City provides a new understanding of how revolutions happen and what they might look like in the future

The Global Revolution Silvio Pons,2014-08-28 The Global Revolution A History of International Communism 1917 1991 establishes a relationship between the history of communism and the main processes of globalization in the past century Drawing on a wealth of archival sources Silvio Pons analyses the multifaceted and contradictory relationship between the Soviet Union and the international communist movement to show how communism played a major part in the formation of our modern world The volume presents the argument that during the age of wars from 1914 to 1945 the establishment of the Soviet state in Russia and the birth of the communist movement had an enormous impact because of their promise of world revolution and international civil war Such perspective appeared even more plausible in the aftermath of the Second World War and of revolution in China which paved the way for the expansion of communism in the post colonial world Communism challenged the West in the Cold War by means of anti capitalist modernization and anti imperialist mobilization showing itself to be a powerful factor in the politicization of global trends However the international legitimacy of communism declined rapidly in the post war era Soviet power exposed its inability to exercise hegemony as distinct from domination The consequences of Sovietization in Europe and the break between the Soviet Union and China were the primary reasons for the decline of communist influence and appeal Since communism lost its political credibility and cultural cohesion its global project had failed The ground was prepared for the devastating impact of Western globalization on communist regimes in Europe and the Soviet Union

Societal Dynamics Frederick Betz, 2011-11-25 At both a micro information level and a macro societal level the concepts of knowledge and wisdom are complementary in both decisions and in social structures and institutions At the decision level knowledge is concerned with how to make a proper choice of means where best is measured as the efficiency toward achieving an end Wisdom is concerned with how to make a proper choice of ends that attain best values At a societal level knowledge is managed through science technology and innovation And while science technology is society's way to create new means with high efficiencies they reveal nothing about values Technology can be used for good or for evil to make the world into a garden or to destroy all life It is societal wisdom which should influence the choice of proper ends ends to make the world a garden How can society make progress in wisdom as well as knowledge Historically the disciplines of the physical sciences and biology have provided scientific foundations for societal knowledge But the social science disciplines of sociology economics political science have not provided a similar scientific foundation for societal wisdom To redress this gap Frederick Betz examines several cases in recent history that display a fundamental paradox between scientific technological achievement with devastating social effects i.e. historical events of ideological dictatorships in Russia Germany China and Yugoslavia He builds a new framework for applying social science perspectives to explain societal histories and social theory Emerging from this methodological and empirical investigation is a general topological theory of societal dynamics This theory and methodology can be used to integrate history and social science toward establishing grounded principles of societal wisdom
