End Of The Past Ancient Rome The Moder:

The End of the Past Aldo Schiavone, 2000 THIS SEARCHING INTERPRETATION of past and present addresses fundamental questions about the fall of the Roman Empire Why did ancient culture once so strong and rich come to an end Was it destroyed by weaknesses inherent in its nature Or were mistakes made that could have been avoided was there a point at which Greco Roman society took a wrong turn And in what ways is modern society different Western history is split into two discontinuous eras Aldo Schiavone tells us the ancient world was fundamentally different from the modern one He locates the essential difference in a series of economic factors a slave based economy relative lack of mechanization and technology the dominance of agriculture over urban industry Also crucial are aspects of the ancient mentality disdain for manual work a preference for transcending rather than transforming nature a basic belief in the permanence of limits Schiavone s lively and provocative examination of the ancient world the eternal theater of history and power offers a stimulating opportunity to view modern society in light of the experience of our forebears

Ancient Economies, Modern Methodologies Peter Fibiger Bang, Mamoru Ikeguchi, Harmut G. Ziche, 2006 Ancient Economies Modern Methodologies is a collection of essays which focuses on the art of questioning it is about ideas and analytical experiment Ancient economic history has developed enormously since the publication of M I Finley s The Ancient Economy in 1973 Much new material has been brought to bear on the debate on the character of economic life in the Greek and Roman world But at the same time discussions have been going round in circles This is because not enough attention has been given to the questions ancient historians ask and the concepts with which they approach the economy In this collection an attempt is made to renew the terms of the debate by presenting a wide variety of new analytical approaches to ancient economic history ranging from literary theory cross cultural comparison statistical analysis of archaeological data to neo institutional economics and model building

The Making of Modern Property Anna di Robilant, 2023-07-27 In this original intellectual history Anna di Robilant traces the history of one of the most influential legal political and intellectual projects of modernity the appropriation of Roman property law by liberal nineteenth century jurists to fit the purposes of modern Europe Drawing from a wealth of primary sources many of which have never been translated into English di Robilant outlines how a broad network of European jurists reinvented the classical Roman concept of property to support the process of modernisation By placing this intellectual project within its historical context she shows how changing class relations economic policies and developing ideologies converged to produce the basis of modern property law Bringing these developments to the twentieth century this book demonstrates how this largely fabricated version of Roman property law shaped and continues to shape debates concerning economic growth sustainability and democratic participation

The Idea of Work in Europe from Antiquity to Modern Times Catharina Lis, 2016-12-05 This volume takes a fresh and innovative approach to the history of ideas of work concerning perceptions attitudes cultures and representations of work throughout Antiquity and the medieval and early modern periods Focusing on developments in Europe the contributors approach the subject from a variety of angles considering aspects of work as described in literature visual culture and as perceived in economic theory As well as external views of workers the volume also looks at the meaning of work for the self perception of various social groups including labourers artisans merchants and noblemen and the effects of this on their self esteem and social identity Taking a broad chronological approach to the subject provides readers with a cutting edge overview of research into the varying attitudes to work and its place in pre industrial society

The Realist Tradition in International Relations Barry Scott Zellen, 2011-08-19 This comprehensive foundation for the study of realism will introduce students in disciplines as varied as philosophy international relations and strategic studies to the majestic breadth of the realist tradition that unifies them all The Realist Tradition in International Relations The Foundations of Western Order introduces the principal theorists who have shaped and defined the realist tradition This once dominant theory of international politics has reemerged to provide a shared foundation for understanding political theory international relations theory and strategic studies The work is comprised of four volumes each focusing upon a distinct period and the pivotal contributors writing in that era Volume 1 State of Hope looks at the classical era when chaos reigned supreme Volume 2 State of Fear goes through the early modern period and the emergence of the modern state Volume 3 State of Awe explores the age of total war with its unprecedented dangers Volume 4 State of Siege examines the present era of insurgency and asymmetrical conflict A truly monumental work this sweeping study will surely foster a new appreciation of the rich tapestry of realist thought and its continuing relevance to the study of world politics

A People's History of Civilization John Zerzan, 2018-04-10 The American anarchist primitivist philosopher and author John Zerzan critiques agriculture based civilization as inherently oppressive and advocates drawing upon the life of hunter gatherers as an inspiration for what free society should look like Subjects of his criticism include domestication language symbolic thought and the concept of time This book includes sixteen essays ranging from the beginning of civilization to today s general crisis Zerzan provides a critical perspective about civilization A People s History of Civilization includes chapters about Patriarchy The City and its Inmates War Enters the Picture The Bronze Age The Axial Age The Crisis of Late Antiquity Revolt and Heresy Modernity Takes Charge Who Killed Ned Ludd Cultural Luddism Industrialism and Resistance Decadence WWI Civilization s Pathological Endgame In recent years John Zerzan co editor of Black and Green Review has successfully toured Europe to speak from his primitivist perspective regarding contemporary civilization Zerzan calls Eugene Oregon World History and the Eonic Effect John C. Landon,2010-04-27 At a time when theories of evolution are undergoing renewed controversy the study of the Eonic Effect can break the deadlock by looking at world history in the light of evolution The assumption that evolution occurs at random is the crux of the dispute and one confused with issues of religion and secularism We can detect a non random pattern in the record of civilization itself to see evolution in action on a stupendous scale We live in the first generations with enough data to detect this phenomenon In the confusion of evolutionary theories the unexpected discovery of deep level structure can allow us to deconstruct fl at history and assess claims of directionality in evolution In the process the theory of natural selection applied to human evolution is seen to fail a photo finish test The book provides a new model for the study of the overlap of history and evolution and a critique of current views of the descent of man Modern Times and the Living Past Henry William Elson,1921 Roman Triumphs and Early Modern English Culture Anthony Miller,2001-06-07 This is the first comprehensive study of the revival and appropriation of the Roman triumph from the 1580s to the 1650s English versions of the triumph included ceremonial re enactments poetic or pictorial representations and stage performances As well as many non canonical writers Spenser Marlowe Shakespeare Marvell and Milton all produced versions The book includes an original survey of ancient literary models and the work of humanist antiquarians and shows how all its texts are implicated in contemporary political conflicts and discourses The Middle East in Modern World History Ernest Tucker,2016-05-23 The Middle East in Modern World History focuses on the history of this region over the past 200 years It examines how global trends during this period shaped the Middle East and how these trends were affected by the region s development Three trends from the past two centuries are highlighted The region as a strategic conduit between East and West The development of the region s natural resources especially oil The impact of a rapidly globalizing world economy on the Middle East Globalization and Transculturality from Antiquity to the Pre-Modern World Serena Autiero,Matthew Adam Cobb,2021-09-30 This book explores how globalization and transculturality are useful theoretical tools for studying pre modern societies and their long distance connections Among the themes explored are how these concepts can enhance our understanding of trade networks the spread of religions the diffusion of global fashions the migration of technologies public and private initiatives and wider cultural changes In this book archaeologists and ancient historians demonstrate how in diverse contexts from the Bronze Age to colonial times humanity displayed an urge and an incredible capacity to connect with distant lands and people Adopting and modifying approaches originally developed for the study of contemporary societies it is possible to enhance our understanding of the human past not only in economic terms but also the cultural significance of such interconnections This book provides both the wider public and the specialist reader with a fresh point of view on global issues relating to the past in turn allowing us to look anew at developments in the contemporary world Its large chronological and geographical scope should prove appealing to those who want more than mere Eurocentric history Teachers and students of world history and archaeology will find this book a useful resource

Representing Imperial Rivalry in the Early Modern Mediterranean Barbara Fuchs, Emily Weissbourd, 2015-01-01 Representing Imperial Rivalry in the Early Modern Mediterranean explores representations of national racial and religious identities within a region dominated by the clash of empires Bringing together studies of English Spanish Italian and Ottoman literature and cultural artifacts the volume moves from the broadest issues of representation in the Mediterranean to a case study early modern England where the Mediterranean turn has radically changed the field The essays in this wide ranging literary and cultural study examine the rhetoric which surrounds imperial competition in this era ranging from poems commemorating the battle of Lepanto to elaborately adorned maps of contested frontiers They will be of interest to scholars in fields such as history comparative literary studies and religious studies

Serial Forms Clare Pettitt, 2020-06-03 Serial Forms The Unfinished Project of Modernity 1815 1848 proposes an entirely new way of reading the transition into the modern It is the first book in a series of three which will take the reader up to the end of the First World War moving from a focus on London to a global perspective Serial Forms sets out the theoretical and historical basis for all three volumes It suggests that as a serial news culture and a stadial historicism developed together between 1815 and 1848 seriality became the dominant form of the nineteenth century Through serial newsprint illustrations performances and shows the past and the contemporary moment enter into public visibility together Serial Forms argues that it is through seriality that the social is represented as increasingly politically urgent The insistent rhythm of the serial reorganizes time recalibrates and rescales the social and will prepare the way for the 1848 revolutions which are the subject of the next book By placing their work back into the messy print and performance culture from which it originally appeared Serial Forms is able to produce new and exciting readings of familiar authors such as Scott Byron Dickens and Gaskell Rather than offering a rarefied intellectual history or chopping up the period into Romantic and Victorian Clare Pettitt tracks the development of communications technologies and their impact on the ways in which time history and virtuality are imagined
