Forced Endings in Psychotherapy and Psychoanalysis Anne Power,2015-09-25 Forced Endings in Psychotherapy and Psychoanalysis Attachment and Loss in Retirement explores the ambivalence the therapist may feel about letting go of a professional role which has sustained them Anne Power explores the process of closing a private practice from the first ethical decision making through to the last day when the door of the therapy room shuts She draws on the personal accounts of retired therapists and others who had to impose an ending on clients due to illness in order to move house to take maternity leave or a sabbatical A forced ending is an intrusion of the clinician s own needs into the therapeutic space Anne Power shows how this might compromise the work but may also be an opportunity for deeper engagement Drawing on attachment theory to understand how the therapeutic couple cope with an imposed separation Power includes interviews with therapists who took a temporary break to demonstrate the commonality of challenges faced by those who need to impose an ending on clients Forced Endings in Psychotherapy and Psychoanalysis opens up an area which has been considered taboo in the profession so that future cohorts can benefit from the reflections and insights of this earlier generation It will support clinicians making this transition and aims to support ethical practice so that clients are not exposed to unnecessary risks of the sudden termination of a long treatment This book will be essential reading for practicing psychotherapists and psychoanalysts and to undergraduate and post graduate students in clinical psychology psychiatry and social work

A Course in Miracles Helen Schucman,2009-05-15 A Course in Miracles often called just the Course is a self study course for retraining the mind that is spiritual rather than religious in its perspective Although it uses Christian terminology it is ecumenical in its approach and its underlying ontology is reminiscent of ancient refrains echoing the world s mosthallowed traditions The Course is pragmatic in its method and its aim is a peaceful mind Knowledge is not the motivation for learning this course Peace is Nevertheless the Course frequently emphasizes its simplicity The edition of A Course in Miracles that is reproduced in this volume is sometimes referred to as the Hugh Lynn Cayce version because upon completion it had been delivered to Hugh Lynn Cayce son of the renowned psychic Edgar Cayce in 1972 before the manuscript was subjected to the substantial editing process that is described below

Managing Difficult Endings in Psychotherapy Lesley Murdin,2018-05-11 This book is about the difficulty of endings but it is also about learning from the endings that we know have gone wrong as well as those that have worked well It sets out how the psychological therapist can help a person to live well while life is available and to face the endings that confront all of us with honesty and the acceptance of our human fragility Therapists suffer through the fears and failures of the people they see as well as through their own endings These difficulties can either help each one to be more understanding and helpful or can lead to disaster This book is about making sure that we use experience as well as theory constructively

Navigating Midlife Dr. Pratiksha Prashant, A Course in Miracles Workbook Course in Miracles Society, 2006 The Workbook and Manual Pocket Edition contains the unabridged language of A Course in Miracles Original Edition taken from the original manuscript for this great spiritual classic It is designed to go anywhere and handle rough treatment of daily use

Course in Miracles Helen Schucman, 2008-10 The great classic work A Course in Miracles is devoted to teachings about who we are our relationships to God and with each other and the actually mental nature of our bodies and the world There are three constituent parts to the Course The Text a Workbook for Students and the Manual for Teachers The Text lays out the theoretical foundation for the metaphysical system of the Course The Workbook contains a series of 365 Lessons to be practiced daily for the purpose of retraining the mind and healing our perception Finally the Manual contains information for and about advanced teachers of God A Course in Miracles is also about miracles which students understand to be in part a shift in perception to healed vision But miracles are more than a shift in perception because the shift has consequences in the world as we see it The conversational tone of this Original Edition invites the novice student into conversation with the Author and even advanced students of A Course in Miracles have found a new clarity and a deeper understanding from their study of the Original Edition of the Course The restoration of the previously lost material and presentation of the text in its original sequence enlivens the conversation with the Author and gives him a presence that some feel is lacking in the later editions When encountering Schucman and Thetford's original edition students frequently find fresh clarity as they read its wording or new understanding Surely study of the Original Edition is essential to your curriculum

Making Black History Dominique Haensell, 2021-10-04 This study proposes that rather than trying to discern the normative value of Afropolitanism as an identificatory concept politics ethics or aesthetics Afropolitanism may be best approached as a distinct historical and cultural moment that is a certain historical constellation that allows us to glimpse the shifting and multiple silhouettes which Africa as signifier as real and imagined locus embodies in the globalized yet predominantly Western cultural landscape of the 21st century As such Making Black History looks at contemporary fictions of the African or Black Diaspora that have been written and received in the moment of Afropolitanism Discursively this moment is very much part of a diasporic conversation that takes place in the US and is thus informed by various negotiations of blackness race class and cultural identity Yet rather than interpreting Afropolitan literatures merely as a rejection of racial solidarity as some commentators have they should be read as ambivalent responses to post racial discourses dominating the first decade of the 21st century particularly in the US which oscillate between moments of intense hope and acute disappointment Please read our interview with Dominique Haensell here <https://blog.degruyter.com/de-gruyters-10th-open-access-book-anniversary-dominique-haensell-and> her winning title making black history      Ruby Slippers Jonalyn Grace Fincher, 2009-08-30 Jonalyn Fincher wants to show that women can be both fully human and fully feminine Traditionally femininity has been a role women play a role defined by culture and simplistic sermons The author encourages women to look at the feminine roles or boxes that pinch their souls mother fashion devotee working wife intellectual Does God treat femininity as a role a judgement or a gift And when Jesus redeemed women what was it exactly that he redeemed Even after Eden Fincher points out God planned to redeem both men and women But for centuries women have been taught to devalue the very aspects of their souls that are unique and irreplaceable Femininity itself runs deeper than aprons frills or romance It begins with feminine souls who are living cameos of the triune God In Ruby Slippers Fincher takes a fresh direct look at the challenges she faced on her search for the feminine soul She goes step by step through what it means to be a woman and how to cultivate her soul choosing not to shy away from psychology theology or personal transparency In her journey she discovers an understanding of femininity that is timeless and groundbreaking The roles melt away into something like Dorothy s ruby slippers something women have always had the souls to walk today with freedom and femininity      Refresh Kimberly M. Drew, Jocelyn Green, 2016-09-27 More than one fifth of US households with children have at least one child with special needs Raising a child with special needs is spiritually emotionally mentally and physically challenging Parents of these children have higher rates of depression anxiety and divorce They need encouragement to restore hope and a passion for God in their lives but the realities of having to be parent nurse therapist and caregiver make it difficult to find the time or initiative to seek encouragement Written by two moms who understand this complicated balancing act Refresh is designed to provide just what these parents need The 90 day devotional guides parents to spiritual truths that can be applied to the demands they face every day It offers perspective and hope through the varying stages and phases families experience from diagnosis to loss and grief struggle readers face Their children represent a wide range of special needs including autism cerebral palsy Down syndrome genetic disorders chronic illness and more Drew and Green show how the truths of God s Word are relevant regardless of the diagnosis Their devotional illuminates the unique lessons and perspectives to be gained as a result of raising a child with special needs Insightful and powerful Refresh will help weary parents grow spiritual roots and reach the water of life once more      The Ethics of Special Ops Deane-Peter Baker, Roger Herbert, David Whetham, 2023-11-15 The field of military ethics has generally been attentive to emerging trends in modern warfare Cyber robotics and AI for example have inspired an abundant and flourishing literature One trend however has been largely overlooked the emergence of special operations as a prominent instrument of statecraft Drawing extensively on historical cases and first hand experience the authors of this book call attention to qualities inherent in special operations and special operators that challenge the moral framework which has long informed conventional military operations Moral theorists will find this analysis provocative while practitioners those who conduct or oversee special operations and have an interest in the moral wellbeing of special operators can put the authors insights to practical use Those who simply view with fascination the opaque world of special operations will find this book illuminating

Globaletics and Radicant Aesthetics in Australian Fiction Salhia Ben-Messahel,2018-01-23 This book focuses on the issues of space culture and identity in recent Australian fiction It discusses the work of 15 authors to show that in Australia the meaning of country remains critical and cultural belonging is still a difficult process Interrogating the definition of Australia as a post colonial nation and its underlying extension from Britain it applies Nicolas Bourriaud's concept of the Radicant to examine Australian writing beyond the post of post colonialism The book shows that some authors are engaged in writing about the country and the time in which they live but that they also share common critical views on the definition of multiculturalism the belonging to place and integration in the nation The volume suggests that theories of cultural hybridism presented as a decolonising methodology in fact dissolve singularity in the same way that globalisation creates standardisation It argues that 21st century Australian fiction depicts the subject as a radicant and that Australian culture constitutes a mobile entity unconnected to any soil

Ends of Empire Jodi Kim, 2004 Ends of Empire examines Asian American cultural production and its challenge to the dominant understanding of American imperialism Cold War dynamics and race and gender formation Jodi Kim demonstrates the degree to which Asian American literature and film critique the record of U S imperial violence in Asia and provides a glimpse into the imperial and gendered racial logic of the Cold War She unfolds this particularly entangled and enduring episode in the history of U S global hegemony one that contrary to leading interpretations of the Cold War as a simple bipolar rivalry was significantly triangulated in Asia The Asian American works analyzed here constitute a crucial body of what Kim reveals as transnational Cold War compositions which are at once a geopolitical structuring an ideological writing and a cultural imagining Arguing that these works reframe the U S Cold War as a project of gendered racial formation and imperialism as well as a production of knowledge Ends of Empire offers an interdisciplinary investigation into the transnational dimensions of Asian America and its critical relationship to Cold War history
