Myths of Termination Judy Leopold Kantrowitz, 2014-07-25 Psychoanalysis can make a huge difference in the lives of patients their families and others they encounter Myths have developed however about how psychoanalysis should end what patients experience and what analysts do These expectations come primarily from accounts by analysts in the analytic literature which are often perpetuated in an oversimplified form in teaching Patients perspectives are rarely presented In her book Judy Leopold Kantrowitz seeks to address this omission Exploring the accounts of 82 former analysands she illustrates the rich diversity of psychoanalytic endings and ways of maintaining analytic benefits after ending in presenting patients experiences Kantrowitz provides correctives for some myths about termination Myths of termination What patients can teach psychoanalysts about endings is not a book that seeks to refute or support any specific idea about a best way of ending analysis but rather to show that there are countless ways of having a satisfactory conclusion to the process Nor is the author espousing any particular analytic theory Kantrowitz sets out to show that an oversimplified view of psychoanalytic endings not only diminishes an appreciation of the diversity of psychoanalytic outcomes but may also interfere with the creativity of individual psychoanalysts In this book former analysands describe and illustrate how their analyses ended They reflect on the effect of non mutual endings due to external factors moving retirement illness or death or psychological factors wishing to avoid facing some issue the impact of post analytic contact and the ways in which they have held on to their analytic benefits after ending their analyses Myths of termination confronts and refutes the myths about the termination phase of psychoanalysis that are passed from generation to generation It is a refreshing and insightful study that will be welcomed by psychoanalysts psychodynamic therapists such as clinical psychologists social workers and others trained or in training to do clinical work     End-User Considerations in Educational Technology Design Roscoe, Rod D.,Craig, Scotty D.,Douglas, Ian,2017-06-16 Emerging technologies have enhanced the learning capabilities and opportunities in modern school systems To continue the effective development of such innovations the intended users must be taken into account End User Considerations in Educational Technology Design is a pivotal reference source for the latest scholarly material on usability testing techniques and user centered design methodologies in the development of technological tools for learning environments Highlighting a range of pertinent topics such as multimedia learning human computer interaction and online learning this book is ideally designed for academics researchers school administrators professionals and practitioners interested in the design of optimized educational technologies     Cézanne and the End of Impressionism Richard Shiff,2014-12-15 Drawing on a broad foundation in the history of nineteenth century French art Richard Shiff offers an innovative interpretation of C zanne s painting He shows how C zanne s style met the emerging criteria of a technique of originality and how it satisfied critics sympathetic to symbolism as well as to impressionism Expanding his study of the interaction of C zanne and his critics Shiff considers the problem of modern art in general He locates the core of modernism in a dialectic of making technique and finding originality Ultimately Shiff provides not only clarifying accounts of impressionism and symbolism but of a modern classicism as well

Understanding Consumer Decision Making Thomas J. Reynolds,Jerry C. Olson,2001-05 This edited volume will help business and academic researchers understand the means end approach to understanding consumers This is a qualitative marketing research method to gain customer insight into decision making     Sustainable Energy Systems: From Primary to End-Use João Carlos de Oliveira Matias,Leonel Jorge Ribeiro Nunes,Radu Godina,2019-09-03 This book focuses on sustainable energy systems While several innovative and alternative concepts are presented the topics of energy policy life cycle assessment thermal energy and renewable energy also play a major role Models on various temporal and geographical scales are developed to understand the conditions of technical as well as organizational change New methods of modeling which can fulfil technical and physical boundary conditions and nevertheless consider economic environmental and social aspects are also developed     Statistical Techniques for Neuroscientists Young K. Truong,Mechelle M. Lewis,2016-10-04 Statistical Techniques for Neuroscientists introduces new and useful methods for data analysis involving simultaneous recording of neuron or large cluster brain region neuron activity The statistical estimation and tests of hypotheses are based on the likelihood principle derived from stationary point processes and time series Algorithms and software development are given in each chapter to reproduce the computer simulated results described therein The book examines current statistical methods for solving emerging problems in neuroscience These methods have been applied to data involving multichannel neural spike train spike sorting blind source separation functional and effective neural connectivity spatiotemporal modeling and multimodal neuroimaging techniques The author provides an overview of various methods being applied to specific research areas of neuroscience emphasizing statistical principles and their software The book includes examples and experimental data so that readers can understand the principles and master the methods The first part of the book deals with the traditional multivariate time series analysis applied to the context of multichannel spike trains and fMRI using respectively the probability structures or likelihood associated with time to fire and discrete Fourier transforms DFT of point processes The second part introduces a relatively new form of statistical spatiotemporal modeling for fMRI and EEG data analysis In addition to neural scientists and statisticians anyone wishing to employ intense computing methods to extract important features and information directly from data rather than relying heavily on models built on leading cases such as linear regression or Gaussian processes will find this book extremely helpful Multi-Attribute

Decision-Making Method Based on Neutrosophic Soft Rough Information Muhammad Akram, Sundas

Shahzadi, Florentin Smarandache, Soft sets SSs neutrosophic sets NSs and rough sets RSs are different mathematical models for handling uncertainties but they are mutually related In this research paper we introduce the notions of soft rough neutrosophic sets SRNSs and neutrosophic soft rough sets NSRSs as hybrid models for soft computing Transactions of the IRE Professional Group on Microwave Theory and Techniques, 1953 Endings and Beginnings Herbert J.

Schlesinger, 2013-04-15 What sets off the termination of analysis and psychodynamic therapy from the variety of endings that enter into all human relationships So asks Herbert J Schlesinger in Endings and Beginnings On Terminating Psychotherapy and Psychoanalysis a work of remarkable clarity conceptual rigor and ingratiating readability Schlesinger situates termination which he understands variously as a phase of treatment a treatment process and a state of mind within the family of beginnings and endings that permeate one another throughout the course of therapy For Schlesinger therapeutic endings cannot be aligned with the final phase of treatment ending phase phenomena are ongoing accompaniments of therapeutic work They occur whenever patients achieve some portion of their treatment goals and supervene when therapy stagnates Small wonder that an assessment of the patient's relationship to time and capacity to end therapy are key aspects of diagnostic evaluation By linking beginning and ending phases not to the chronology of treatment but to the patient's experience of it Schlesinger brings revivifying insight to a host of psychodynamic concepts Nor does he shy away from a trenchant critique of the instrumental medical model of psychiatric and psychotherapeutic training which militates against the therapeutic exploration of treatment endings Schlesinger's exemplification of how to begin treatment from the point of view of ending his sensitive delineation of the mid treatment ending crises characteristic of vulnerable patients his richly woven case vignettes illustrating various ending contingencies and permutations these inquiries are gems of pragmatic clinical wisdom Endings and Beginnings distills lessons learned over the course of a half century of practicing teaching and
