Developments in Graves' Ophthalmopathy Mark F. Prummel,2012-12-06 Recent Developments in Graves

Ophthalmopathy offers an overview of the pathogenesis assessment and management of patients with thyroid associated eye disease Each chapter is written by an expert and truly represents the current state of the art on the particular topic This book can therefore almost be considered a textbook on this enigmatic disorder Recent Developments in Graves Ophthalmopathy is designed for all those interested in this disease including basic scientists clinical endocrinologists ophthalmologists radiotherapists and orbital surgeons The book gives a comprehensive overview of all aspects of Graves ophthalmopathy Subjects covered include the pathology of Graves eye disease and the controversial views on its autoimmune pathogenesis assessment of the eye changes using reliable measurements medical management of Graves eye disease with an overview of the many treatment options available to the clinician including orbital radiotherapy and other immunosuppressive treatments management of the thyroid disease and finally the techniques for performing various surgical procedures which are explained and illustrated Thyroid Eye Disease Rebecca S. Bahn,2012-12-06 Patients afflicted with thyroid eye disease or Graves ophthalmopathy GO may experience not only pain and visual loss but also disfigurement Full understanding of pathogenesis has been elusive and treatment modalities are imperfect As with other conditions more effective intervention will follow only after a better understanding of pathogenesis is reached The goal of this volume is to give an overview by leaders in the field of the present state of the art both in pathogenesis and clinical aspects of GO Much attention has been directed towards determining which cells within the orbit are targets of the autoimmune process and how these and other cells might participate in the local inflammatory process It is now generally agreed that orbital fibroblasts preadipocyte fibroblasts and adipocytes are the targeted and activated cells in GO and that full length TSH receptor TSHr is expressed in these cells Further there is growing consensus that this receptor is up regulated in the orbit in GO residing primarily in newly differentiated adipocytes However it is also evident given a sufficiently sensitive assay that TSHr is detectable in fibroblasts and adipocytes from the normal orbit and other anatomic sites as well It will be important to determine whether the observed increase in orbital TSHr expression itself initiates the orbital autoimmune process Also to be decided is whether orbital lymphocytes from GO patients specifically recognize this receptor and what factor or factors unique to Graves disease might stimulate TSHr expression in orbital cells Neuroendocrinology ,1994 International Archives of Allergy and Immunology ,1994 Stereotactic and Functional Neurosurgery ,1993 Directory of Published Proceedings ,1996 Journal of Endocrinological Investigation ,1996 Thyroid Eye Disease Jonathan J. Dutton,Barrett Haik,2002-08-07 This reference details the anatomy and physiology of the thyroid gland the environmental and genetic factors associated with Graves disease and the immunological mechanisms responsible for related systemic disorders and inflammations of the eye and adjacent tissue structures Written by more than 60 esteemed international authorities Thyroid Eye Cellular Physiology and Biochemistry ,1995 Index of Conference Proceedings ,1993 Thyroid ,1997 Clinical and Experimental Rheumatology ,1996 The Cumulative Book Index ,1995 A world list of books in the English language Thyroid Disease Stephen A.
