Health (but can) Anca Griffiths,Alyson McGregor,Marjorie Jenkins,2024-01-22 For women health is the ultimate glass ceiling And for too many of us the tools we have make it impossible to win at health The fact is almost nothing in our global health marketplace is designed to serve and heal women From external factors like the global male centric medical model the predatory wellness industry and the commoditization of traditional health practices to internal challenges like stacked societal and familial expectations and our need to power through at all costs women are beset with health related obstacles from all sides However when asked most women will say I m fine Somewhere along the way we decided that being a woman is a problem to be fixed not a gift to be embraced Our health systems at best minimize and at worst outright ignore key physiological transitions like menstruation postpartum perimenopause and menopause meaning that women are not supported through the most impactful health experiences of their lives yet we re convinced that somehow we are the problem In this groundbreaking book Anca Griffiths Marjorie Jenkins MD and Alyson McGregor MD tackle the complex issue of the women s global health marketplace With bold insights and piercing clarity they expose the hidden issues within our current systems break down the four key reasons why women aren t winning at health and show you what you can do to take back control of your health journey With additional contributions from recognized global experts they lay a strong groundwork to empower women everywhere to thrive beyond the current status quo because when women are well everyone wins      A

Menopausal Memoir Anne C Herrmann,2014-01-14 The only extended first person narrative about menopause A Menopausal Memoir Letters from Another Climate explores the connection between menopause mourning and memory through nine fictional letters written to different addressees The letters explain the author s own experience of having a hysterectomy without her permission during surgery for endometriosis and being thrown into instant menopause Herrmann expresses her experiences differently in each letter based on the recipient s gender sexual identity and age revealing the complexities of accepting menopause Psychotherapists psychologists physicians medical students academics and those interested in women s health and women s studies will receive insight into one woman s experience and will learn how our bodies mold our sexual identity and shape many aspects of our lives Writing these letters from the point of view of a scholar engaged in personal narrative but not in the familiar narrative of a woman married with children Herrmann examines her journey of loss recovery and healing through feminist theory The letters in A Menopausal Memoir reveal many other issues including the relationship between the female body and the meanings attached to it the different ways women tell their stories about difficult experiences negotiating the relationship between growing older and sexual identity the body's response to the loss of organs that form inform its history the connection between body identity and disease A highly personal yet theoretical approach to the experience of menopause A Menopausal Memoir explores how changes in the body affect your sexual identity your relationships and your feelings as a woman

The Soul's Way MARIANNE BRADY, 2011-03-30 The Souls Way is the story of a mother and a wife who at thirty three began a search for truth her truth Like a journey to the ends of the Earth this was a journey to the inner workings of her heart a journey that at first was painful and almost ended her life to one of healing forgiveness love and passion Marianne believed that because she was a high school dropout she was destined for an ordinary life She went on to discover that this was the belief system of her own mind a system she found could be changed with determination and strength teaching us all to listen to the voice within something that we as a society have long forgotten Mariannes words reach out to touch everyones soul as the truth is a universal language the language of love We can all achieve the life of our dreams through faith and trust believing in miracles and Gods divine plan for us Let go of that inner control freak we call the ego and participate in the game of life
