Enemy Is Within A Jungian Psychoanalytic Approach To The Of Judith:

The Enemy is Within Helen Efthimiadis-Keith, 2021-10-01 Efthimiadis Keith addresses questions of the historicity of the book of Judith using a more subjective definition of truth than simple fact or fiction she interprets the text through Jungian methodology as a dream of the unconscious psyche of the Jewish people true in its reflection of their collective identity at the time of the text's composition The author merges Terrence Dawson's literary theory concerning the discernment of the effective protagonist of a narrative with Jungian's method of dream interpretation to analyze the text subjectively from the effective protagonist's point of view The author then extrapolates the book's contents onto a hypothetical historical situation to contextualize the book within the Jewish identity and uses her findings to conduct objective analysis The Enemy is Within Helen Efthimiadis-Keith, 2002 Intertextual Explorations in Deuterocanonical and Cognate Literature

Doedens, 2022-08-01 This volume is written in the context of trauma hermeneutics of ancient Jewish communities and their tenacity in the face of adversity i.e. as recorded in the MT LXX Pseudepigrapha the Deuterocanonical books and even Cognate literature In this regard its thirteen chapters are concerned with the most recent outputs of trauma studies They are written by a selection of leading scholars associated to some degree with the Hungaro South African Study Group Here trauma is employed as a useful hermeneutical lens not only for interpreting biblical texts and the contexts in which they were originally produced and functioned but also for providing a useful frame of reference As a consequence these various research outputs each in their own way confirm that an historical and theological appreciation of these early accounts and interpretations of collective trauma and its implications perceived or otherwise is critical for understanding the essential substance of Jewish cultural identity As such these essays are ideal for scholars in the fields of Biblical Studies particularly those interested in the Pseudepigrapha the Deuterocanonical books and Cognate literature International Review of Biblical Studies, Volume 51 (2004-2005) Bernhard Lang, 2006-02-01 Formerly known by its subtitle Internationale Zeitschriftenschau f r

Construction, Coherence and Connotations
 Pierre J. Jordaan, Nicholas P. L. Allen, 2016-08-22 These fourteen selected essays were originally read at the LXXSA international conference Construction Coherence and Connotation in Septuagint Apocryphal and Cognate Literature 28 30 August 2015 hosted by the North West University Potchefstroom South Africa Here the intention was to apply new critical theory and approaches to the fields of Old Testament Scripture as well as associated Apocryphal and Cognate literature with a specific focus on the interrelated recurring theme of the Wisdom of the deity and its decryption and reception at various times in history In this regard it was felt that this theme and associated source texts had been largely overlooked in recent scholarship Here the aim was to attract recent research by both leading national as well as international scholars which not only shed new light on Old Testament Apocrypha and so called Pseudepigraphical literature but which also critically reviewed certain biblical wisdom texts which are foundational for both the Christian as well as Jewish communities As a consequence many of the essays deal with the apocryphal Wisdom of Sirach However important contributions may also be found apropos Micah Daniel Baruch 2 Maccabees Tobit Susanna Judith and the works of Josephus Flavius

Qur'anic Hermeneutics Abdulla Galadari, 2018-08-09 This book is open access and available on www.bloomsburycollections.com Qur'anic Hermeneutics argues for the importance of understanding the polysemous nature of the words in the Qur'an and outlines a new method of Qur'anic exegesis called intertextual polysemy By interweaving science history and religious studies Abdulla Galadari introduces a linguistic approach which draws on neuropsychology This book features examples of intertextual polysemy within the Qur'an as well as between the Qur'an and the Bible It provides examples that intimately engage with Christological concepts of the Gospels in addition to examples of allegorical interpretation through inner Qur'anic allusions Galadari reveals how new creative insights are possible and argues that the Qur'an did not come to denounce the Gospel which is one of the stumbling blocks between Islam and Christianity but only to interpret it in its own words

Hearing Mark's Endings Bridget Gilfillan Upton, 2006-01-01 Hearing Mark's Endings has two foci it represents an attempt to show that ancient popular texts are written to be read aloud and further develops an aurally attuned hermeneutic to interpret them by The contents of the book include rhetorical readings of the ancient popular texts by Xenophon of Ephesus An Ephesian Tale and the ending of Mark's Gospel These readings which highlight the aural nature of the texts are followed by a methodological justification for using Speech Act Theory as a hermeneutical tool and further readings of Xenophon's romance and three endings of the Gospel of Mark The book concludes that Speech Act Theory has indeed much to offer to the interpretation of these texts The particular usefulness of this work lies in the contribution it makes to New Testament hermeneutics in the testing of a particular underused methodology to illuminate ancient popular literature It will prove to be useful to all those interested in interdisciplinary methodological studies of biblical and other ancient popular literature

One Text, Thousand Methods Patrick Chatelion Counet, Ulrich Berges, 2021-08-30 Essays in this volume describe the shift in biblical exegesis within the last several decades from the interpretation of biblical texts as the outcome of historical development or diachronic methodology to the exploration of the text as the result of a reading process rather than a historical process or synchronic methodology Each essay examines a text from the Old or New Testament through the lens of one of the many modern synchronic methods used in postmodern literary interpretation The methods discussed include ideology criticism semantic and poetic analysis cognitive linguistics drama theory narratology deconstruction and anthropology and intertextuality The authors of this work challenge biblical scholars not to just perform exegesis but to explore the methods and aims underlying their interpretations
