Postsocialist Cinema in Post-Mao China Chris Berry, 2004-06-01 This book argues that the fundamental shift in Chinese Cinema away from Socialism and towards Post Socialism can be located earlier than the emergence of the Fifth Generation in the mid eighties when it is usually assumed to have occurred By close analysis of films from the 1949 1976 Maoist era in comparison with 1976 81 films representing the Cultural Revolution it demonstrates that the latter already breaks away from Socialism

Catastrophic Diplomacy Julia F. Irwin, 2024-01-09 Catastrophic Diplomacy offers a sweeping history of US foreign disaster assistance highlighting its centrality to twentieth century US foreign relations Spanning over seventy years from the dawn of the twentieth century to the mid 1970s it examines how the US government US military and their partners in the American voluntary sector responded to major catastrophes around the world Focusing on US responses to sudden disasters caused by earthquakes tropical storms and floods crises commonly known as natural disasters historian Julia F Irwin highlights the complex and messy politics of emergency humanitarian relief Deftly weaving together diplomatic environmental military and humanitarian histories Irwin tracks the rise of US disaster aid as a tool of foreign policy showing how and why the US foreign policy establishment first began contributing aid to survivors of international catastrophes While the book focuses mainly on bilateral assistance efforts it also assesses the broader international context in which the US government and its auxiliaries operated situating their humanitarian responses against the aid efforts of other nations empires and international organizations At its most fundamental level Catastrophic Diplomacy demonstrates the importance of international disaster assistance and humanitarian aid more broadly to US foreign affairs

Dam Internationalism Vincent Lagendijk, Frederik Schulze, 2024-07-11 During the 20th century dam building became a truly global endeavour Built around the world they generated networks of actors institutions and companies embedded in globally circulating technological knowledge and discourses of modernization and development This volume takes a global approach to the history of dams exploring the complex power relations and internationalist entanglements that shaped them Shedding new light on the globalization of technology and international power struggles that defined the 20th century Dam Internationalism shows that dams are artefacts in their own right and have created new and revisionist histories that urge us to rethink classic narratives From international cooperation to the importance of the Cold War and the capitalist socialist divide the success of western technology the prominence of the United States the alleged impotence of people affected by dams and the uniformity of infrastructure Each chapter showcases a different case study from Europe Asia Africa North and

South America to show that dams enabled marginalized countries and actors to articulate themselves and pursue their own political and socio economic goals in a century dominated by the Global North

Developing the Rivers of East and West Africa Heather J. Hoag, 2013-09-12 How did rivers contribute to the economic and political development of modern Africa How did African and European notions of nature's value and meaning differ And how have these evaluations of Africa's rivers changed between 1850 and the present day Drawing upon examples from across the African continent Developing the Rivers of East and West Africa explores the role African waterways played in the continent's economic social and political development and provides the first historical study of the key themes in African river history Rivers acted as more than important transportation byways their waters were central to both colonial and postcolonial economic development efforts This book synthesizes the available research on African rivers with new evidence to offer students of African and environmental history a narrative of how people have used and engaged the continent's water resources It analyzes key themes in Africa's modern history European exploration establishment of colonial rule economic development green politics and each case study provides a lens through which to view social economic and ecological change in Africa

A Path Toward Gender Equality Yoshie Kobayashi, 2004-04-23 The first study of state feminism in a non western nation state this volume focuses on the activities and roles of the Women's Bureau of the Ministry of Labor in post World War II Japan While state feminism theory possesses a strong capability to examine state society relationships in terms of feminist policymaking it tends to neglect a state's activity in improving women's status and rights in non western nations where the feminist movements are apathetic or antagonistic to the state and where the state also creates a vertical relationship with feminist groups

Liberal Rights and Political Culture Zhenghuan Zhou, 2013-10-14 This book argues that the liberal concept of rights presupposes and is grounded in an individualistic culture or shared way of relating and that this particular shared way of relating emerged only in the wake of the Reformation in the modern West

American Editor in Early Revolutionary China Neil O'Brien, 2004-03 This is a study of Sino American relations and the editorial policy of the China Weekly Review China Monthly Review published in Shanghai by John William Powell during the Chinese Civil War and the Korean War The Review supported US attempts in early 1946 to avert civil war through the creation of a coalition government By 1947 it reflected growing disillusionment with Guomindang policies and increasing sympathy for the demands of impoverished students and faculty for multi party democracy and peace As the Civil War shifted in favour of the Communists in late 1948 Powell and the Review counseled US businessmen to remain in Shanghai and urged the US government to establish working relations with the Communists and later to recognize the new regime Staying in Shanghai to report changes engendered by the Communist victory the Review's staff accommodated themselves to the new orthodoxy and to the regime's coordination of the press During the Korean War the Review opposed the expanding US air war becoming the foremost American purveyor of Chinese and North Korean allegations of American use of bacteriological weapons The Review was also utilized for the political indoctrination of US prisoners of war by the Chinese and North Koreans After closing the Review in July 1953 and returning to the United States Powell his wife Sylvia Campbell and assistant editor Julian Schuman were put on trial for sedition As the government narrowed its focus to the bacteriological warfare issue Powell and his lawyers countered by trying to prove the veracity of the charges seeking witnesses in China and North Korea Adverse publicity led to a mistrial in January 1959 and limitations in both the sedition and treason statutes ended plans to renew prosecution Powell and the Review had insisted that positive diplomatic and economic relations between China and the United States were both possible and desirable The gradual normalization of trade investment and political relations since the 1970s seemed to validate this belief In the post Cold War age when Sino American relations are often strained and tempestuous this book serves as a reminder of the value of making the extra effort to achieve understanding

The Central Politics School and Local Governance in Nationalist China Chen-cheng Wang, 2023-01-09 This book is a political history of global attempts to reduce politics to science and the results of such an attempt in modern China The book follows the discourses and activities of a special group of local officials in China's Nationalist government 1928-1949 These officials had been students or faculty at the Central Politics School CPS the only national university in modern Chinese history that trained professional bureaucrats according to the blueprint of the United States science of public administration conceived by Frank Goodnow Through its accounts of how these officials handled land administrative reforms the battlefield of statebuilding during World War II and rebellions of ethnic minorities the book discusses why some of the most talented CPS officials resorted to non modern humanistic political techniques and achieved a Chinese statecraft more efficient and sustainable than science As such the book invites readers to think whether science and the rational legal authority proposed by Woodrow Wilson and Max Weber is a proper conceptual framework for understanding politics in China and the rest of world
