Scientific Representation Bas C. van Fraassen,2010-07-22 Bas C van Fraassen presents an original exploration of how we represent the world Science represents natural phenomena by means of theories as well as in many concrete ways by such means as pictures graphs table top models and computer simulations Scientific Representation begins with an inquiry into the nature of representation in general drawing on such diverse sources as Plato s dialogues the development of perspectival drawing in the Renaissance and the geometric styles of modelling in modern physics Starting with Mach s and Poincar s analyses of measurement and the problem of coordination van Fraassen then presents a view of measurement outcomes as representations With respect to the theories of contemporary science he defends an empiricist structuralist version of the picture theory of science through an inquiry into the paradoxes that came to light in twentieth century philosophies of science Van Fraassen concludes with an analysis of the complex relationship between appearance and reality in the scientific world picture

Encyclopedia of Nanoscience and Society David H. Guston,2010-07-14 Labeled either as the next industrial revolution or as just hype nanoscience and nanotechnologies are controversial touted by some as the likely engines of spectacular transformation of human societies and even human bodies and by others as conceptually flawed These challenges make an encyclopedia of nanoscience and society an absolute necessity Providing a guide to what these understandings and challenges are about the Encyclopedia of Nanoscience and Society offers accessible descriptions of some of the key technical achievements of nanoscience along with its history and prospects Rather than a technical primer this encyclopedia instead focuses on the efforts of governments around the world to fund nanoscience research and to tap its potential for economic development as well as to assess how best to regulate a new technology for the environmental occupational and consumer health and safety issues related to the field Contributions examine and analyze the cultural significance of nanoscience and nanotechnologies and describe some of the organizations and their products that promise to make nanotechnologies a critical part of the global economy Written by noted scholars and practitioners from around the globe these two volumes offer nearly 500 entries describing the societal aspects of nanoscience and nanotechnology Key Themes Art Design and Materials Bionanotechnology Centers Context Economics and Business Engagement and the Public Environment and Risk Ethics and Values Geographies and Distribution History and Philosophy Integration and Interdisciplinarity Nanotechnology Companies Nanotechnology Organizations

Eclipse of Man Charles T. Rubin, 2014-09-02 Tomorrow has never looked better Breakthroughs in fields like genetic engineering and nanotechnology promise to give us unprecedented power to redesign our bodies and our world Futurists and activists tell us that we are drawing ever closer to a day when we will be as smart as computers will be able to link our minds telepathically and will live for centuries or maybe forever The perfection of a post human future awaits us Or so the story goes In reality the rush toward a post human destiny amounts to an ideology of human extinction an ideology that sees little of value in humanity except the raw material for producing whatever might come next In Eclipse of Man Charles T Rubin traces the intellectual origins of the movement to perfect and replace the human race He shows how today's advocates of radical enhancement are like their forebears deeply dissatisfied with given human nature and fixated on grand visions of a future shaped by technological progress Moreover Rubin argues that this myopic vision of the future is not confined to charlatans and cheerleaders promoting this or that technology it also runs through much of modern science and contemporary progressivism By exploring and criticizing the dreams of post humanity Rubin defends a more modest vision of the future one that takes seriously both the limitations and the inherent dignity of our given nature

More Everything Forever Adam Becker, 2025-04-22 This wild and utterly engaging narrative Melanie Mitchell shows why Silicon Valley's heartless baseless and foolish obsessions with escaping death building AI tyrants and creating limitless growth are about oligarchic power not preparing for the future Tech billionaires have decided that they should determine our futures for us According to Elon Musk Jeff Bezos Sam Altman and more the only good future for humanity is one powered by technology trillions of humans living in space functionally immortal served by superintelligent AIs In More Everything Forever science journalist Adam Becker investigates these wildly implausible and often profoundly immoral visions of tomorrow and shows why in reality there is no good evidence that they will or should come to pass Nevertheless these obsessions fuel fears that overwhelm reason for example that a rogue AI will exterminate humanity at the expense of essential work on solving crucial problems like climate change What's more these futuristic visions cloak a hunger for power under dreams of space colonies and digital immortality The giants of Silicon Valley claim that their ideas are based on science but the reality is darker they come from a jumbled mix of shallow futurism and racist pseudoscience More Everything Forever exposes the powerful and sinister ideas that dominate Silicon Valley challenging us to see how foolish and dangerous these visions of the future are
