Bernet, 2001-01-01 Storytelling is a precious vibrant tradition among the Native peoples of the Far North Collected here for the first time are stories from the communities of interior Alaska and the Yukon Territory These are the tales the people tell about themselves their communities and the world they inhabit Our Voices showcases twenty storytellers and writers who represent a full range of Athabaskan and related languages of Alaska and the Yukon Both men and women recount popular tales of ancient times that describe the origins of social institutions and cultural values as well as meaningful sometimes intimate stories about their own lives and families or the history of their people As representatives of an art transmitted through countless generations and now practiced with renewed interest and vigor by people reclaiming their cultural heritage these narratives create a broad brightly colored richly detailed picture of the world of the Far North present and past The Languages of Native North America Marianne Mithun, 2001-06-07 This book provides an authoritative survey of the several hundred languages indigenous to North America These languages show tremendous genetic and typological diversity and offer numerous challenges to current linguistic theory Part I of the book provides an overview of structural features of particular interest concentrating on those that are cross linguistically unusual or unusually well developed These include syllable structure vowel and consonant harmony tone and sound symbolism polysynthesis the nature of roots and affixes incorporation and morpheme order case grammatical distinctions of number gender shape control location means manner time empathy and evidence and distinctions between nouns and verbs predicates and arguments and simple and complex sentences and special speech styles Part II catalogues the languages by family listing the location of each language its genetic affiliation number of speakers major published literature and structural highlights Finally there is a catalogue of languages that have evolved in contact situations American Folk Art Kristin G.
