Gender Issues in International Education Maggie Wilson, Sheena Erskine, 2013-10-31 This book discusses equal opportunity for education in a global context Research findings from all over the world including Africa Asia Australia Europe and North America are presented Wilson and Erskine have compiled chapters addressing current gender issues as well as specific problems facing policy makers and professionals alike Critical Perspectives on International Education Yvonne Hébert, Ali A. Abdi, 2013-02-11 In rapidly globalizing spaces of life any research project on international education would necessarily have multi directional emphases with the quality of observations and analyses reflecting the expanding political economic and cultural intersections which characterize this potentially promising century To respond to these emerging learning and living contexts of our world this book brings together some of the most active and established scholars in the field As such the book represents important epistemic interventions that analyze and critique the institutional socio economic linguistic and pedagogical platforms of international education As the locus of international education cannot be detached from the pragmatics of social development the specific recommendations embedded in this book expand the debates and broaden the boundaries of learning projects that should enhance the lives of people especially those who are continually marginalized by the regimes of globalization Thus the book actively advocates for possibilities of human well beings via different formats of education in diverse locations of life Critical Perspectives on International Education offers a historically comprehensive intellectually honest and perspective rich scholarly exploration of a new education globalization dynamic This book courageously offers up diverse voices gathered into a robust and useful conversation regarding global education This book adds greatly to understanding why educational marketplaces must be driven by principles and practices that empower diverse peoples to secure sustainable knowledge benefits that contribute to personal local national and international well being This critical perspective reader will engage scholars researchers and citizens Jim Paul University of Calgary In the current intensifications of globalization and its resulting inequalities it is crucial to better understand the role of knowledge creation and knowledge dissemination Should knowledge be only a commodity to be sold in the market and a tool to increase economic capital or should it be a shared sociocultural capital aimed at improving democracy and the common good In Critical Perspectives on International Education Yvonne Hébert and Ali A Abdi assemble an impressive array of contributions from all over the world that address this question from a variety of critical perspectives and case studies I recommend this book to everyone interested in the connections between education citizenship development and human well being Daniel Schugurensky Arizona State University Education and the Scandinavian Welfare State in the Year 2000 Arild Tjeldvoll, 2013-10-31 This significant contribution to comparative education presents an authoritative discussion of the recent changes in Denmark Finland Iceland Norway and Sweden The implementation of a democratic educational policy in Scandinavia has been affected by the dominance of the Protestant Church mass immigration from Third World nations a growing belief in rugged individualism newfound respect for privatization and the market economy and the increasing unemployment of the technical revolution Education has been unable to adapt rapidly enough to meet the changing needs of this transformed Scandinavia In this comprehensive collection of articles contributors present their findings thoughts and concerns for the Scandinavia of both the 90s and the future      Civic Education in the Asia-Pacific Region John L. Cogan,Murray Print,2013-12-02 This book examines the approach to civic education in six societies located on the Pacific Rim Australia Japan Hong Kong Taiwan Thailand and the US In these scrupulously designed studies the contributors investigate the recent re emergence of civic education in this region Developments such as globalization nationalism and sovereignty have profound effects on how schools make good citizens These essays reveal how definitions of citizenship are contested and revised under such influences and interrogate differences in civic education from nation to nation As societies attempt to strike a balance between obedience and critical thinking schools become the primary site of these transformations Analyzing both educational policy and its implementation these contributors offer a groundbreaking comparative study that grounds civic education historically and politically      Preserving A Critical National Asset Education Dept (U S ),2008-11

Scrase,2021-12-12 First Published in 1997 In much of the comparative education literature questions of educational inequality and lack of educational opportunity in the developing world stand as perplexing complex and difficult problems Yet while inequality in education remains one of the most researched and written about topics in the discipline the question of social justice and its relationship to education remains implicit This volume aims to reverse this trend to make the issue of social justice both in theory and practice central and explicit      Third World Education Anthony R. Welch,2002-05-03 This book debunks the argument that quality in education can only be achieved by limiting or trading off equality The quality of schooling is a major issue for Third World nations across the globe However there is no single measure which is universally accepted Whether it is as some economists might argue an issue of the number of desks per classroom or one of national sovereignty is widely disputed Defining equality in education becomes increasingly difficult in an era of globalization in which there exists a wide gap between rich and poor both within and between nations In the context of an international move towards New Right politics and neo liberal economic ideologies both the quality and equality of education are imperiled This book argues that any worthy definition of quality education must include the interests and participation of the underprivileged      Women, Education, and Development in Asia Grace C.L. Mak,2013-11-26 This volume of twelve original essays examines the interplay between women s education and development and if and how it has changed women s status in selected nations in Asia Educational expansion in recent decades have benefitted women in Asia at least in quantitative terms Industrialization has also created room for increased waged employment for them However the relative openness of these systems has not been paralleled at the cultural level Women in Asia which remains largely patriarchal are thus caught in contradictions This volume examines how women use and compromise with opportunities and limits in education the role of education in their economic participation and the enhancement and tension brought to their family roles The volume is edited from a cross national perspective The chapters each covering a nation rest on a common framework Each begins with a brief historical account of education for women It then investigates the extent women have been able to take advantage of them What follows is an analysis of how women use their education in the labor market and in the family Society's definition of women's roles in the family often acts to reduce the effect of schooling on women's economic participation This interplay is further complicated by such factors as social class and or caste religion and ethnicity

Qualitative Educational Research in Developing Countries Michael Crossley, Graham Vulliamy, 2013-10-15 This collection of 11 original in depth accounts of qualitative research and evaluation in developing countries argues that such innovative methods offer considerable advantages over traditional methods With examples drawn from Asia Africa the South Pacific Central America and the Caribbean each chapter focuses upon a specific method such as qualitative interviews fieldwork or document analysis and considers related theoretical and practical issues Key issues addressed include the identification of appropriate research questions access research ethics practitioner research case study evaluation North South collaboration and the potential of qualitative research for policy making and theory

School Leadership and Administration Allan Walker, Clive Dimmock, 2012-11-12 This text calls for a broader approach to comparative educational administration one which uses culture as the principle means of analysis The articles collected by Allan Walker and Clive Dimmock detail the educational practices and outcomes of other systems while taking into account the mediating influence of culture In this way these essays stress the specific aspects of the cultures studied and map out common ground for the study of administrators values beliefs and actions

International Handbook of Comparative Education Robert Cowen, Andreas M. Kazamias, 2009-08-22 A big project like this Handbook means that you incur debts and not only to your authors and your publisher As editors we along with our colleague Elaine Unterhalter who edited the section on postcolonialism would like to thank most warmly those authors who delivered on time and who did not fuss but just got on and did a rate job We would also like to thank all authors who did deliver which was almost everyone we asked We know that some of our authors worked in very difficult private circumstances as they were finishing their chapters and we hope the publication of the Volumes will later be for them a happy reminder of difficulties and disasters overcome The only sad theme is that some very close colleagues with whom we were working and for whom we had the greatest respect and liking became very ill and died while the volumes were being prepared We decided to ask for copyright permissions to publish something of theirs These permissions were graciously given by two major journals and with the agreement also of our publishers Springer Rolland Paulston and Terry McLaughlin have examples of their writing in this Handbook The New Immigrant and Language Marcelo M. Suárez-Orozco, Carola Suárez-Orozco, Desirée Qin-Hilliard, 2014-07-16 This six volume set focuses on Latin American Caribbean and Asian immigration which accounts for nearly 80 percent of all new immigration to the United States The volumes contain the essential scholarship of the last decade and present key contributions reflecting the major theoretical empirical and policy debates about the new immigration The material addresses vital issues of race gender and socioeconomic status as they intersect with the contemporary immigration experience Organized by theme each volume stands as an independent contribution to immigration studies with seminal journal articles and book chapters from hard to find sources comprising the most important literature on the subject The individual volumes include a brief preface presenting the major themes that emerge in the materials and a bibliography of further recommended readings In its coverage of the most influential scholarship on the social economic educational and civil rights issues revolving around new immigration this collection provides an invaluable resource for students and researchers in a wide range of fields including contemporary American history public policy education sociology political science demographics immigration law ESL linguistics and more
