The Introspective Realist Crime Film Luis M. García-Mainar, 2016-06-10 This book explores the formal and thematic conventions of crime film the contexts in which these have flourished and their links with the social issues of a globalized world The crime film has traditionally been identified with suspense a heterogeneous aesthetic and a tacit social mind However a good number of the crime films produced since the early 2000s have shifted their focus from action or suspense and towards melodrama in narratives that highlight the social dimension of crime intensify their realist aesthetics and dwell on subjectivity With the 1940s wave of Hollywood semi documentary crime films and 1970s generic revisionism as antecedents these crime films find inspiration in Hollywood cinema and constitute a transnational trend With a close look at Steven Soderbergh s Traffic 2000 David Fincher s Zodiac 2007 Jacques Audiard s Un prophète 2009 and Tomas Alfredson s Tinker Tailor Soldier Spy 2011 this book sets out the stylistic and thematic conventions contexts and cultural significance of a new transnational trend in crime film

New Transnationalisms in Contemporary Latin American Cinemas Dolores Tierney, 2018-01-23 In the late 1990s and early 2000s Latin American films like Amores perros Y tu mamá también and Cidade de Deus enjoyed an unprecedented level of critical and commercial success in the world market Benefitting from external financial and or creative input these films were considered examples of transnational cinema Through a textual analysis of six filmmakers Alejandro Gonzalez Inarritu Alfonso Cuarón Guillermo del Toro Fernando Meirelles Walter Salles and Juan Jose Campanella this book examines these transnational films and the subsequent wave of commercially successful deterritorialized films by the same directors It argues that although films produced within the structures of the United States film industry may have been commercially successful they are not necessarily apolitical or totally divorced from key notions of national or continental identity Bringing a new perspective to the films of Latin America s transnational auteurs this is a major contribution towards understanding how different genres function across different cultures

Global Genres, Local Films Elena Oliete-Aldea, 2017-06-29 The acute processes of globalisation at the turn of the century have generated an increased interest in exploring the interactions between the so called global cultural products or trends and their specific local manifestations Even though cross cultural connections are becoming more patent in filmic productions in the last decades cinema per se has always been characterized by its hybrid transnational border crossing nature From its own inception Spanish film production was soon tied to the Hollywood film industry for its subsistence but other film traditions such as those in the Soviet Union France Germany and in particular Italy also determined either directly or indirectly the development of Spanish cinema Global Genres Local Films The Transnational Dimension of Spanish Cinema reaches beyond the limits of the film text and analyses and contextualizes the impact of global film trends and genres on

Spanish cinema in order to study how they helped articulate specific national challenges from the conflict between liberalism and tradition in the first decades of the 20th century to the management of the contemporary financial crisis This collection provides the first comprehensive picture of the complex national and supranational forces that have shaped Spanish films revealing the tensions and the intricate dialogue between cross cultural aesthetic and narrative models on the one hand and indigenous traditions on the other as well as the political and historical contingencies these different expressions responded to
