Educating African American Males Detroit's Malcolm X Academy Solution:

Educating African American Males Clifford Watson, 1996 Documents the success stories of Detroit's Malcolm X Academy Academically Gifted African American Male College Students Fred A. Bonner II, 2010-01-22 The first ever study of African American giftedness at the collegiate level focusing on two extraordinary case studies At a time when so many studies of African American students focus on the factors of failure Academically Gifted African American Male College Students fills a conspicuous void in the research literature on post secondary education by focusing on success Like no other work before it this remarkable study goes deep inside the experiences of academically gifted African American men who successfully navigate their way through rigorous college level programs At the heart of the unique and long overdue work are two real life stories of African American male students one at a Historically Black College and University HBCU and the other at a Traditionally White Institution TWI In presenting comparing and contrasting these two cases the book identifies a number of personal characteristics and institutional approaches driving their notable achievements The result is a guidebook both for gifted African American male students and for the institutions looking to strengthen their support for them particularly in science technology engineering and mathematics STEM disciplines The Separation Solution? Juliet A. Williams, 2016-02-02 Since the 1990s there has been a resurgence of interest in single sex education across the United States and many public schools have created all boys and all girls classes for students in grades K through 12 The Separation Solution provides an in depth analysis of controversies sparked by recent efforts to separate boys and girls at school Reviewing evidence from research studies court cases and hundreds of news media reports on local single sex initiatives Juliet Williams offers fresh insight into popular conceptions of the nature and significance of gender differences in education and beyond The African-American Male Jacob U. Gordon, 1999-07-30 The plight of the Black male in American society has been well documented by scholars and practitioners Although Black males represent only 6 percent of the American population they represent about 40 percent of the prison population the number of Black males in prison and jail exceeds the number of Black males in higher education The homicide rates for Black males were 72.5 percent per 100,000 nearly eight times higher than for White males This bibliographic volume explores the extent to which American academia has addressed these problems It will be an invaluable resource for researchers as well as practitioners in social service programs In addition to more than 400 annotated publications the book includes a selected list of works on the African American male and a compilation of doctoral dissertations This publication will serve as a reference in public as well as academic libraries human service agencies government policymaking agencies and in academic courses in gender and ethnic studies criminal justice and social psychology City of Disposessions Kyle T. Mays, 2022-05-24 In July 2013 Detroit became the largest city in U.S. history to declare bankruptcy The underlying causes were decades of deindustrialization white flight and financial mismanagement More recently it has been heralded a comeback city as wealthy white residents resettle there Yet as Kyle T

Mays argues we cannot understand the current state of Detroit without also understanding the longer history of Native American and African American dispossession that has defined the city since its founding. How has dispossession impacted the development of modern U S cities? And how does comparing the historical experiences of Native Americans and African Americans in an urban context help us comprehend histories of race sovereignty and colonialism? Using archives, oral and family histories, and community documents, City of Dispossession is a cultural, intellectual, and social history that argues that physical and symbolic forms of dispossession of Native Americans and African Americans and their reactions to dispossession have been central to Detroit's modern development. The book begins with the first settlement by the Frenchman Cadillac in 1701 and chronicles how the logic of dispossession has continued into the present through a wide range of forms that include memorialization of the disappearing Indian, the physical dispossession of African Americans through urban renewal and gentrification. Mays also chronicles the wide-ranging forms of expression through which Black and Indigenous Detroiters have contested dispossession, such as the Red and Black Power movements and culturally relevant education. Through lively accessible prose as well as historical and contemporary examples, City of Dispossession will be of interest to readers of urban studies, Indigenous Studies, and critical ethnic studies.

Encyclopedia of African American Education

Kofi Lomotey, 2010. The Encyclopedia of African American Education covers educational institutions at every level from preschool through graduate and professional training, with special attention to historically Black and predominantly Black colleges and universities. Other entries cover individuals, organizations, associations, and publications that have had a significant impact on African American education. The Encyclopedia also presents information on public policy affecting the education of African Americans, including both court decisions and legislation. It includes a discussion of curriculum, concepts, theories, and alternative models of education, and addresses the topics of gender and sexual orientation, religion, and the media. The Encyclopedia also includes a Reader's Guide provided to help readers find entries on related topics. It classifies entries in sixteen categories: Alternative Educational Models, Associations and Organizations, Biographies, Collegiate Education, Curriculum, Economics, Gender, Graduate and Professional Education, Historically Black Colleges and Universities, Legal Cases, Pre-Collegiate Education, Psychology and Human Development, Public Policy, Publications, Religious Institutions, Segregation, Desegregation. Some entries appear in more than one category. This two-volume reference work will be an invaluable resource not only for educators and students but for all readers who seek an understanding of African American education both historically and in the 21st century.

Language Diversity in the Classroom

Geneva Smitherman, Victor Villanueva, 2003-11-05. It's no secret that in most American classrooms, students are expected to master standardized American English and the conventions of Edited American English if they wish to succeed. Language Diversity in the Classroom: From Intention to Practice works to realign these conceptions through a series of provocative yet evenhanded essays that explore the ways we have enacted and continue to enact our beliefs in the integrity of the many languages and

Englishes that arise both in the classroom and in professional communities Edited by Geneva Smitherman and Victor Villanueva the collection was motivated by a survey project on language awareness commissioned by the National Council of Teachers of English and the Conference on College Composition and Communication All actively involved in supporting diversity in education the contributors address the major issues inherent in linguistically diverse classrooms language and racism language and nationalism and the challenges in teaching writing while respecting and celebrating students own languages Offering historical and pedagogical perspectives on language awareness and language diversity the essays reveal the nationalism implicit in the concept of a standard English advocate alternative training and teaching practices for instructors at all levels and promote the respect and importance of the country s diverse dialects languages and literatures Contributors include Geneva Smitherman Victor Villanueva Elaine Richardson Victoria Cliett Arnetha F Ball Rashidah Jammi Muhammad Kim Brian Lovejoy Gail Y Okawa Jan Swearingen and Dave Pruett The volume also includes a foreword by Suresh Canagarajah and a substantial bibliography of resources about bilingualism and language diversity

Black Man Emerging Joseph L. White, James H. Cones III, 2013-10-18 In the face of centuries of institutional and interpersonal racism in light of the signals they receive from society and given the choices they must make about what they want from life and how to go about getting it how can Black men in America realize their full potential In Black Man Emerging psychologists Joseph L White and James H Cones III fashion a moving psychological and social portrait that reflects their personal views on the struggle of Black men against oppression and for self determination Using numerous case histories and biographical sketches of Black men who have failed and those who have prevailed the authors describe strategies for responding to racism and entrenched power underscoring the healing capacity of religion family Black consciousness movements mentorships educational programs paid employment and other positive forces They also explore the concept of identity as it applies to being Black and male and the influence of Black men on American culture Black Man Emerging is a poignant and personal discussion of the issues facing and felt by Black men in this country and an important commentary on the conflicts born of human diversity

The African American Experience in Cyberspace Abdul Alkalimat,2003-12-20 The World Wide Web is the greatest source of information used by students and teachers media and library professionals as well as the general public There is so great a flow of information that it is necessary to have a tool for guiding one to the best and most reliable sources This important new guide to the African American experience in cyberspace fills this need for people in all areas of Black Studies and Multiculturalism There is no search engine list that can match the quality of sites to be found in this book Alkalimat provides an easy to use directory to the very best websites that deal with the African American Experience The first section covers every aspect of African American history while a second section deals with a diverse set of topics covering society and culture Each chapter has a brief essay extensively annotation on the five best sites for each topic and then a group of good sites and a short bibliography This book is designed for a course at the high school or college level This book should be kept near every home computer that people use to surf the web for Black content Most people have found out that the major corporations and governments have been the dominant uploaders of information into cyberspace This volume is different because it is a serious introduction to the full democratic use of the web These websites will introduce people to the people who are serious about ending the digital divide because they are busy uploading information about the most excluded and marginalized people the African American community Many of these sites are being established by Black Studies academic programmes as well as community based organizations and institutions

Gender, Race, and Nationalism in Contemporary Black Politics N. Alexander-Floyd,2007-08-06

An examination of the interrelationship between gender race narrative and nationalism in black politics specifically within American politics as a whole The author not only highlights the critical role of race and gender she goes further to show how they operate to define political discourse and to determine public policy

Achieving Blackness Algernon Austin, 2006-04-10 Achieving Blackness offers an important examination of the complexities of race and ethnicity in the context of black nationalist movements in the United States By examining the rise of the Nation of Islam the Black Power Movement of the 1960s and 1970s and the Afrocentric era of the 1980s through 1990s Austin shows how theories of race have shaped ideas about the meaning of Blackness within different time periods of the twentieth century Achieving Blackness provides both a fascinating history of Blackness and a theoretically challenging understanding of race and ethnicity Austin traces how Blackness was defined by cultural ideas social practices and shared identities as well as shaped in response to the social and historical conditions at different moments in American history Analyzing black public opinion on black nationalism and its relationship with class Austin challenges the commonly held assumption that black nationalism is a lower class phenomenon In a refreshing and final move he makes a compelling argument for rethinking contemporary theories of race away from the current fascination with physical difference which he contends sweeps race back to its misconceived biological underpinnings Achieving Blackness is a wonderful contribution to the sociology of race and African American Studies

African American Literacies Elaine B. Richardson, 2003 This book addresses the literacy problems of African American students providing educators with an African American centred theory of rhetoric and composition

Critical Race, Feminism, and Education M. Pratt-Clarke, 2010-12-20 Critical Race Feminism and Education provides a transformative next step in the evolution of critical race and Black feminist scholarship Focusing on praxis the relationship between the construction of race class and gender categories and social justice outcomes is analyzed An applied transdisciplinary model integrating law sociology history and social movement theory demonstrates how marginalized groups are oppressed by ideologies of power and privilege in the legal system the education system and the media Pratt Clarke documents the effects of racism patriarchy classism and nationalism on Black females and males in the single sex school debate

Young, Gifted, and Black Theresa Perry, Claude Steele, 2012-09-11 An important and powerful book that radically reframes the debates swirling around the academic achievement of African American students Boston Review The solutions offered by each essay are creative inspirational and good old common sense Los Angeles Times In 3 separate but allied essays African American scholars Theresa Perry Claude Steele and Asa Hilliard examine the alleged achievement gap between Black and white students Each author addresses how the unique social and cultural position Black students occupy in a society which often devalues and stereotypes African American identity fundamentally shapes students experience of school and sets up unique obstacles Young Gifted and Black provides an understanding of how these forces work opening the door to practical powerful methods for promoting high achievement at all levels In the first piece Theresa Perry argues that the dilemmas African American students face are rooted in the experience of race and ethnicity in America making the task of achievement distinctive and difficult Claude Steele follows up with stunningly clear empirical psychological evidence that when Black students believe they are being judged as members of a stereotyped group rather than as individuals they do worse on tests Finally Asa Hilliard argues against a variety of false theories and misguided views of African American achievement sharing examples of real schools programs and teachers around the country that allow African American students to achieve at high levels Now more than ever Young Gifted and Black is an eye opening work that has the power to not only change how we talk and think about African American student achievement but how we view the African American experience as a whole

Without Justice For All Adolph Reed Jr., 2018-02-12 Without Justice for All The New Liberalism and Our Retreat from Racial Equality questions examines and explains the way a new orthodoxy of American leaders has contributed to the social stratification and inequality which plagues America today By looking at the history of our social policies since the New Deal as well as the status of specific policy arenas essayists show how political shifts over the past fifty years have moved us away from a more egalitarian politics Throughout the book responds critically to the now conventional argument that liberalism must be reconfigured in ways that retreat from immediate identification with the interests of labor minorities and the poor From a look at federal housing policy and the failure of New Deal social programs to an examination of long established public assistance programs and Affirmative Action Without Justice for All is a timely and important contribution to the dialogue on race in modern America Michigan Law Review, 2002

A Call For Change Council of the Great City Schools, 2012-12-15 In October 2010 the Council of the Great City Schools released a major report on the academic status of African American males A Call for Change The Social and Educational Factors Contributing to the Outcomes of Black Males in Urban Schools The Council then commissioned a series of solution briefs from some of the nation s leading scholars and experts to help it think through an effective set of strategies to address the academic needs of African American males This e book is a compilation of those papers
