Educating Hearts And Minds Reflections On Japanese Preschool And Elementary Education:

Educating Hearts and Minds Catherine C. Lewis,1994 Educating Hearts and Minds Catherine C. Lewis,1995-01-27

How do children become eager motivated learners and caring responsible citizens Educating Hearts and Minds first published in 1995 is a portrait of Japanese preschool and early elementary education which examines these questions Its thesis which will surprise many Americans is that Japanese schools are successful because they meet children s needs for friendship belonging and contribution This book brings to life what actually happens inside Japanese classrooms What do children learn How do they learn What values are emphasised and how are they taught In a sharp departure from most previous accounts this book suggests that Japanese education succeeds because all children not just the brightest or best behaved somehow come to feel like valued members of the school community Ironically Japanese teachers credit John Dewey and other progressive Western educators for many of the techniques that make Japanese schools both caring and challenging This book brings to a wider readership the voices of Japanese classroom teachers voices that are at once deeply consonant with Western aspirations and deeply provocative Teaching and Learning in Japan Thomas P. Strategic Help Seeking Stuart A. Karabenick,2012-12-06 There is considerable agreement that more successful learners are active engaged and self regulating learners who understand and are motivated to apply learning strategies under appropriate conditions One important strategic activity is seeking help when necessary rather than giving up or engaging in fruitless persistence Research on strategic help seeking has matured significantly in recent years This volume captures the current state of knowledge research and theory on help seeking as a strategic learning resource It is international in scope with contributors from the U S the Netherlands Japan and Israel As a whole the book suggests that strategic adaptive help seeking is a critical school readiness skill that is facilitated by mastery oriented classroom achievement and social goals by teachers who invite questions rather than those who ask them and by cultural characteristics that support student inquiry A conceptual overview is followed by three chapters that examine help seeking from complementary theoretical perspectives and make important distinctions between forms of help seeking two chapters that focus on how learners achievement and social goals affect classroom help seeking one chapter specifically devoted to cross cultural comparisons of help seeking in Western cultures and in Japan two chapters that examine the most frequent manifestation of help seeking that of question asking and one chapter that explores help seeking in the information age the library reference process information technology and computer mediated communication All chapters include attention to the implications of research and theory for help seeking in instructional settings Strategic Help Seeking is an excellent resource for educational researchers and practitioners including teachers school administrators instructional designers reference librarians Sharing Jesus in the Buddhist World Steve Spaulding,2003 This book on Christian missions to the Buddhist world not only provides understanding of many Buddhist cultures but provides culturally relevant ideas on sharing Jesus with Buddhists around the world It lives up to the editors goal to provide the global church with knowledge and understanding of the Buddhist world and how to reach it for Christ Language and Education in Japan Y. Kanno,2015-12-26 The first critical ethnography of bilingual education in Japan Based on fieldwork at five different schools this examines the role of schools in the unequal distribution of bilingualism as cultural capital It argues that schooling gives children unequal access to bilingualism thus socializing them into different futures The Japanese Family Diana Adis Tahhan,2014-06-27 This book explores how the relationship between child and parent develops in Japan from the earliest point in a child s life through the transition from family to the wider world first to playschools and then schools It shows how touch and physical contact are important for engendering intimacy and feeling and how intimacy and feeling continue even when physical contact lessens It relates the position in Japan to theoretical writing in both Japan and the West on body mind intimacy and feeling and compares the position in Japan to practices elsewhere Overall the book makes a significant contribution to the study of and theories on body practices and to debates on the processes of socialisation in Japan
