Educating Young Handicapped Children A Developmental Approach:

Educating Young Handicapped Children S. Gray Garwood,1983      Assessment of Young Developmentally Disabled Children Theodore D. Wachs,Robert Sheehan,2013-06-29 Our knowledge of the cognitive and social emotional functioning of developmentally disabled infants and preschoolers derives in large part from our assessment of such children This book has been developed to familiarize readers with the characteristics of developmentally disabled children and to introduce to readers aspects of measurement that are of relevance to the assessment of atypical infants and preschoolers The book has been developed with clinicians and prospective clinicians in mind These are individuals who are committed to the care and education of developmentally disabled infants and preschoolers and the families of those children The book has thus been written to provide support for the use of assessment data in planning early intervention programs Of special note in the development of this edited book is that it is divided into four major parts with interrelated chapters in each part The authors of chapters in Parts II and III had access to the chapters in Part I before writing their chapters The summary chapters found in Part IV were similarly written by authors having access to all chapters in Parts I III This approach to the development of an edited book was chosen as a way of ensuring an integration of major concepts throughout the book This process is also a reflection of our belief that assessment is an interdisciplinary process involving the synthesis of a number of diverse interests

Education and Disability in Cross-Cultural Perspective Susan Jeanne Peters,2013-11-26 A radical departure from previous chronicles of education for people with disabilities this book views special education from a broader perspective Its central thesis is that cultural values and expectations play a dominant role in understanding the structure and function of special education While theories of the social construction of disability have been written about in a growing body of research since the 1960s no attempt has been made to create a cross cultural framework This work offers such a framework Eight chapters written by educators in each country's educational system cover the following nations China Great Britain Hungary Japan Iran Pakistan United States and Zimbabwe Historical discussions in each chapter provide a context for current practice An index and illustrations are also included

William E. MacLean Jr.,2012-12-06 In the 16 years since the publication of the second edition of this volume psychological theory and research in mental retardation has continued to expand and extend scientific theoretical and clinical understanding of this most complex and challenging human condition Explicit effort has been made to translate theory and research into useful and efficacious assessment intervention prevention and policy actions This third edition provides an opportunity to critique major conceptual developments and empirical research in an effort to stimulate further behavioral research of practical social importance The Handbook presents work by prominent contributors to a major scientific endeavor that has grown dramatically during the last three decades The challenge for each author was to identify important theoretical and empirical issues provide a critical selective review of exemplary research and discuss the questions that remain unanswered in each area In short the goal for this third edition was to consolidate the knowledge gained during the past 30 years and to present a blueprint for future research in mental retardation the broader field of learning disabilities and other developmental disorders such as autism Providing totally different coverage and direction from the previous edition this text fills a crucial instructional need in graduate courses related to the psychology of mental retardation With its emphasis on psychological research and theory it offers an important alternative to many available texts that primarily emphasize the application of research      Hearing on the Reauthorization of the Education of the Handicapped Act Amendments of 1984 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Education and Labor. Subcommittee on Select Education,1984    Cognitive Approaches in Special Education David A. Sugden,1989 The central message of Sugden's book is that work in special education should be interactive in nature A child approaching a learning situation brings cognition and strategies and these should be used in enabling the child to be actively involved in the learning process      Resources for Teaching Young Children with Special Needs Penny Low Deiner,1983 Provides general curriculum adaptations and guidelines and over 300 activities for children with special needs      Language Development and Social Interaction in Blind Children Miguel Perez Pereira,Gina Conti-Ramsden,2019-12-09 The Classic Edition of this foundational text includes a new preface from Miguel Perez Pereira examining how the field has developed since first publication The volume provides an in depth account of blind children's developing communicative abilities with particular emphasis on social cognition and language acquisition from infancy to early school age It provides insights into why the development of blind children may differ from that of sighted children and explores development of theory of mind and perspective taking in language learning It also discusses the caregiver child interaction research on early intervention and practical strategies for blind children that can assist parents and practitioners The up to date preface discusses recent neurological research and the comparison between the psychological development of visually impaired and autistic children Language Development and Social Interaction in Blind Children continues to facilitate dialogue between those interested in the study of typically developing children and those interested in the development of children who are blind and challenges some widely held beliefs about the development of communication in blind children     The World of Deaf Infants Kathryn P. Meadow-Orlans, Patricia Elizabeth Spencer, Lynne Sanford Koester, 2004-06-17 What is the impact of an infant's diminished hearing on the infant and its parents? How does communication develop in cases of diminished hearing? How does diminished hearing affect social and cognitive development? What types of early interventions can improve communication and development in infants with diminished hearing? The World of Deaf Infants presents the results of a 15 year research study that addresses these questions. Through their research perhaps the largest long term comparison of deaf and hearing infants Meadow Orlans's team provides a comprehensive and intimate look into the world of deaf infants. For a core group of 80 families that includes all four combinations of parent infant hearing status data was collected longitudinally at 9, 12, 15 and 18 months and mother infant interactions were recorded and observed in both structured and unstructured settings. Mothers' facial, vocal and tactile behaviors during interactions were related to infants' temperament and stress. Mothers' linguistic and communication behaviors as well as their overall responsiveness were related to children's language and the effects of support provided to mothers were evaluated and explored. The results were dramatic particularly those on infant attachment behaviors and the importance of visual attention to the overall development of deaf infants. This comprehensive work provides a foundation on which researchers, teachers, students and parents can build to improve communication, cognitive and social development and to enhance the world of deaf infants.     Towards Inclusive Education in Zimbabwe Michael Makoele, Tsitsi Chataika, 2025-02-24 This book aims to provide a comprehensive review of the state of inclusive education in Zimbabwe since the adoption of the philosophy in 1994. While literature exists that accounts for the situation regarding special and inclusive education in Zimbabwe there is a need for a more thorough and complete understanding of the state of inclusive education in the country. This book explores and reflects on the perspectives of various stakeholders within the Zimbabwean education system. It offers a conceptual understanding of the implementation of inclusive education in a postcolonial and politically troubled Zimbabwe and provides recommendations for policy development and formulation as well as the development and strengthening of inclusive teaching and learning practices. The insights offered in this book could have a significant impact on clarifying the roles of stakeholders and ensuring that education provision leads to student support that addresses the needs of all students in Zimbabwe.

The Assessment of Learning Disabilities Larry B. Silver, 1989     Research Awards Index,
    Research Grants Index National Institutes of Health (U.S.). Division of Research Grants, 1972     Developmental Visual Dysfunction Rhoda P. Erhardt, MS, OTR/L, FAOTA, 1990-11-05 This book follows 3 case studies of children with cerebral palsy mild, moderate and severe from infancy to adulthood. Traditional frames of reference from medical, educational and developmental models are presented to create a functional approach to the assessment and management of the motor components of vision. The wire coil bound edition of 210 pages contains 134 photographs and illustrations which help to clarify normal and atypical development of vision and suggest ways to integrate intervention programs into home school and community activities.
