Global Learning and Education Andrew Peterson, Paul Warwick, 2014-10-24. What is globalisation? How are its effects felt by different people across the world? How can we help young people flourish in a world characterised by globalisation? Conflict, poverty, breaches of human rights and environmental sustainability are everyday issues for global citizens today, old and young. Global Learning and Education presents a detailed and challenging introduction to a central concern facing education systems and curricula around the world. How young people understand and experience globalisation and how meaningful global learning can be developed. Encouraging a critical and reflective approach in order to advance understanding of a range of theoretical and practical factors, it considers the meaning and definitions of globalisation, global citizenship and global education. Global Learning and Education explores key issues including interconnectedness and interdependency, cultural diversity, social justice and sustainable development. It considers how global learning should and can imbue all aspects of education within curriculum subjects through project-based learning and through extra-curricular activities that help students participate and engage in global issues. It argues the importance of the mission and ethos of a school itself of shaping global learning for different educational contexts and of ensuring teaching and learning meets the needs of individual learners. Global Learning and Education is a comprehensive, thought-provoking, sometimes contentious introduction for educationalists concerned with what globalisation means for our young people. Illustrated throughout with case studies that seek to inspire creativity and hope and including questions and suggested reading for further investigation, it is essential reading for all those involved in the teaching and learning of young people as well as those studying this vital topic on Education Studies and Masters level courses.

Global and Local Internationalization Elspeth Jones, Robert Coelen, Jos Beelen, Hans de Wit, 2015-12-14. Offering a range of perspectives on internationalization in higher education from a globally dispersed group of authors, this book reflects the many facets of the theme. It reminds us that while internationalization is strongly connected to the globalization of society at the same time it is deeply embedded in local political, economic and social structures, systems and cultures. The increasing attention given to internationalization by institutions all around the world is leading to diversification and broadening of practice. This in turn deepens our understanding of what is needed to enhance the educational experiences of students and how the outcomes of internationalization contribute to the skills needed in a globalized and multicultural society. Yet inevitably the impact is becoming more noticeable locally and the six sections of the book focus on these dimensions: Internationalization in Local and Global Contexts; Local and Global Drivers for Change; Global and Local Dimensions of Curriculum Internationalization; The Outcomes of Local and Global International Education; Internationalization for Local and Global Employability; Regional and

National Cases of Local and Global Internationalization How can we define more precise learning outcomes that underpin learning and teaching How do we avoid the societal risks of internationalization and ensure that internationalization opportunities and benefits are shared equally How do we prevent brain drain and commercialization What are the values that underlie our actions These are just some of the questions that will occupy our minds locally and globally in the years to come and which this book seeks to highlight
