International Handbook of Educational Policy Nina Bascia, Alister Cumming, Amanda Datnow, Kenneth Leithwood, David Livingstone, 2008-05-14 Nina Bascia Alister Cumming Amanda Datnow Kenneth Leithwood and David Livingstone This Handbook presents contemporary and emergent trends in educational policy research in over fifty chapters written by nearly ninety leading researchers from a number of countries It is organized into five broad sections which capture many of the current dominant educational policy foci and at the same time situate current understandings historically in terms of both how they are conceptualized and in terms of past policy practice The chapters themselves are empirically grounded providing illustrations of the conceptual implications contained within them as well as allowing for comparisons across them The serenity within chapters with respect to jurisdictional particularities and contrasts allows readers to consider not only a range of approaches to policy analysis but also the ways in which policies and policy ideas play out in different times and places The sections move from a focus on prevailing policy tendencies through increasingly critical and outsider perspectives on policy They address in turn the contemporary strategic emphasis on large scale reform substantive emphases at several levels on leadership and

governance improving teacher quality and conceptualizing learning in various domains around the notion of literacies and concluding nally with a contrasting topic workplace learning which has had less policy attention and thus allows readers to consider both the advantages and disadvantages of learning and teaching under the bright gaze of policy International

Practice Theory and Education

Julianne Lynch, Julie Rowlands, Trevor Gale, Andrew Skourdoumbis, 2016-11-25 Practice Theory and Education challenges how we think about practice examining what it means across different fields and sites It is organised into four themes discursive practices practice change and organisations practising subjectivity and professional practice public policy and education Contributors to the collection engage and extend practice theory by drawing on the legacies of diverse social and cultural theorists including Bourdieu de Certeau Deleuze and Guattari Dewey Latour Marx and Vygotsky and by building on the theoretical trajectories of contemporary authors such as Karen Barad Yrjo Engestrom Andreas Reckwitz Theodore Schatzki Dorothy Smith and Charles Taylor The proximity of ideas from different fields and theoretical traditions in the book highlight key matters of concern in contemporary practice thinking including the historicity of practice the nature of change in professional practices the place of discursive material in practice the efficacy of refiguring conventional understandings of subjectivity and agency and the capacity for theories of practice to disrupt conventional understandings of asymmetries of power and resources Their juxtaposition also points to areas of contestation and raises important questions for future research Practice Theory and Education will appeal to postgraduate students academics and researchers in professional practice and education and scholars working with social theory It will be of particular interest to those who wish to move beyond the limiting configurations of practice found in contemporary neoliberal new managerialist and narrow representationalist discourses
