ABSTRACT

Social security means the overall security for a person in the family, work place and society. Social security is a system to meet the basic needs as well as contingencies of life in order to maintain an adequate standard of living. It is not a charity rather a right. But women workers are living below the minimum accepted standards without adequate facilities and having very lower income that did not meet their daily needs of life. Objective of the study to know the present status of women workers in unorganized sector and to know the social Security Act in India, the study is based on purely from secondary sources collected from different articles newspaper and websites.

KEYWORDS: Social Security, Unorganized

1. INTRODUCTION

Social security is that government, which is the symbol and representative of society is responsible for fixing a minimum standard of living for all its citizens. Social Security is an instrument for social transformation and progress. The term "Unorganized" is often used in the Indian context to refer to the vast numbers of women and men engaged in different forms of employment. According to ILO "Social Security is the protection which society provides for its members through a series of Public measure, against the economic and social distress that otherwise would be caused by the stoppage or substantial reduction of earning resulting from sickness, maternity, employment, injury, unemployment, invalidity, old age and death."

Social Security of women have been widely and repeatedly discussed by the media and the government of India from time to time. However all the government acts are gender sensitive, although never dimensions have been added to make ensure women rights in the modern. Society the Hindu Marriage Act of 1956 explains the divisions of property in a Hindu joint family and explains the right of women. The maternity leaves for working class women. In case of separation, the women are give equal rights and the highest degree of emotional. Security hence there are many laws have been enacted by the government agencies to provide in built support to the society especially the women.

2. Review of Literature

The ILO definition (1972) incorporated the idea that informal sector had untapped development potential because of its flexibility and potential for creative response to economic change. The only specificity being absence of workers rights and social security in every other way, both form part of an integral whole.

According to G. Rajendran and S. Hema (2015) concluded that they are the most vulnerable and deprived section of the society in the need of protection, security, benefits and assistance.

Anthony P. D'Souza (2013) focused the status and contribution of unorganized sector focused more on the challenges and problems faced by the youth in selecting job as self-employment.

3. Objective of the Study

1. To study the present status of women workers in unorganized sector
2. To study the social security Act in India

4. Methodology

Data sources the study is based on purely secondary data collected from newspaper and websites etc.

5. Analysis and Interpretation

The Indian council of social science research, New Delhi has made several studies in a wide range of occupations in the unorganized sector on women. Studies which were conducted in the various part of the country reveals the awful conditions of the women labourers in the unorganized sector. It has been observed that a significant percentage of the jobs in this sector are managed by women drawn from lower caste and lower class women. Ignorance, tradition bound attitudes, illiteracy, lack of skills, seasonable nature of employment, heavy physical work of different types, long hours of work with limited payment, discrimination in wage structures of men and women, lack of guarantee of minimum wage, lack of job security, lack of comprehensive legislation to cover these labourers in unorganized informal sector., lack of minimum facilities at the work-site, ill-treatment, migration and disintegration of families, bondage and alienation, etc. are the characteristics of the employment women in the sector.

Most of the women are found to be employed in agricultural activities and in the unorganized sector. The employment of women is high in the unorganized sector such as part time helpers in households, construction center, match and beedi industries etc. An estimate by the world bank show that 90% of the women working in the unorganized sector are not included in the official statistics and then work is undocumented and considered as disguised wage work, unskilled, low paying and do not provide benefits to the workers. Statistics show that vast majority of Indian work in
