God The Self And Nothingness Reflections Eastern And Western:

God, the Self, and Nothingness Robert Edgar Carter, 1990 Wordsworth and the Zen Mind John G. Rudy, 1996-03-28

This book demonstrates that Zen thought and art provide both a generative and a formative context for understanding the spirituality of the English poet William Wordsworth 1770 1850 Combining methods of modern literary scholarship with the philosophical initiatives of the Kyoto School the text crosses disciplines as well as cultures offering a nonmonotheistic nonpantheistic philosophical ground upon which to study what Wordsworth calls the tranquil soul and the one Presence that underlies the great whole of life Anticipating a variety of audiences the discourse progresses from general introductory level discussions of Zen philosophy and literature to the more technical philosophical idiom of the Kyoto School employing intertextual readings of a variety of Wordsworthian and Zen documents to broaden and deepen the East West dialogue as it has been unfolding since the pioneering work of D T Suzuki and Kitaro Nishida An important aspect of this study is its twofold purpose to situate Wordsworth more centrally in the evolving global community of intercultural and interreligious communication and to demonstrate the unique flexibility and universality of Zen as a medium of spiritual growth and aesthetic understanding

A Theological Anthropology of Self-Realization Jennifer Slater O.P. 2012-07-31 The book addresses the intriguing problem of human self realization precisely because of the diverse uses of the term which ranges from abstract philosophical theological theories to practical psychological spiritual applications Jennifer Slater draws the concept from Karl Rahner the twentieth German theologian who uses the term self realization in his theology on freedom and symbolism relating it to the basic free choice which the human person makes to be for or against God Divine Jennifer Slater explores this fundamental free choice which is at the same time a basic choice about oneself She writes from the understanding that the human person is radically free to become the choices she or he makes and freedom is the capacity for definitive self realization In the book she shows that in the exercising of freedom humans precisely as historical beings are also transcendent beings Jennifer grapples with the perception that since human self realization involves the power to make decisions which in reality actualizes a persons own reality how then does this self realization come about and where does the Divine fit into the process If self realization is related to the human self and to the Divine Self she then questions what constitutes the self and self realization This struggle practically employs the woman in general and in particular the woman consecrated to a vowed life The pervasive question throughout is What constitutes the self realization of a human woman being

Theo-Monistic Mysticism M. Stoeber, 1994-04-05 In response to some of the current explanations of mystic phenomena this book proposes an interpretive framework for understanding mysticism It clarifies various kinds of mystical experiences suggesting they are not wholly determined by subjective categories of interpretation and illustrates how they can be synthesised in a theistic mystic teleology In reference to Ramanuja Aurobinodo Sankara Eckhart Ruusbroec and Boehme monistic experiences are understood to culminate in higher theistic realizations to which other kinds of mysticism

Martin, 2024-04-05 We must establish our world order on the principles of human dignity if we want a credible future for humanity This book shows how and why this is so It investigates the meaning of human dignity in relation to current scholarly work as well as in terms of the depths of our subjective lives from which the concept of dignity arises It contrasts the concept of dignity with our current world system engulfed in endless wars immense inequality systems of economic injustice and on going environmental destruction It shows the relationship between dignity human rights and global moral principles and lays out ten fundamental principles for a planetary ethics The book contrasts the holistic paradigm uncovered by 20th century science with the fragmented paradigm that persists at the heart of the present world system showing how and why a conversion to holism and dignity is both necessary and possible Human Dignity and World Order shows that we have not yet fully understood our human existential situation as temporal beings oriented toward the future who possess the largely untapped power of a liberating utopian imagination Through examining our fundamental human condition it unveils our vast potential for self transcendence and transformation leading toward a redeemed and credible human future in which we flourish on the Earth within a planetary civilization of freedom justice peace and sustainable prosperity This book also presents the Constitution for the Federation of Earth as a paradigm or model for practical action toward a credible human future Altogether the book constitutes a watershed in human self understanding opening possibilities for the future hitherto ignored or misunderstood Every thoughtful person concerned for our common human future needs to read this book Imperial-Way Zen Christopher Ives, 2009-07-08 During the first half of the twentieth century Zen Buddhist leaders contributed actively to Japanese imperialism giving rise to what has been termed Imperial Way Zen Kodo Zen Its foremost critic was priest professor and activist Ichikawa Hakugen 1902 1986 who spent the decades following Japan's surrender almost single handedly chronicling Zen's support of Japan's imperialist regime and pressing the issue of Buddhist war responsibility Ichikawa focused his critique on the Zen approach to religious liberation the political ramifications of Buddhist metaphysical constructs the traditional collaboration between Buddhism and governments in East Asia the philosophical system of Nishida Kitaro 1876 1945 and the vestiges of State Shinto in postwar Japan Despite the importance of Ichikawa's writings this volume is the first by any scholar to outline his critique In addition to detailing the actions and ideology of Imperial Way Zen and Ichikawa's ripostes to them Christopher Ives offers his own reflections on Buddhist ethics in light of the phenomenon He devotes chapters to outlining Buddhist nationalism from the 1868 Meiji Restoration to 1945 and summarizing Ichikawa's arguments about the causes of Imperial Way Zen After assessing Brian Victoria's claim that Imperial Way Zen was caused by the traditional connection between Zen and the samurai Ives presents his own argument that Imperial Way Zen can best be understood as a modern instance of Buddhism's traditional role as protector of the realm Turning to postwar Japan Ives examines the extent to which Zen leaders have reflected on their wartime political stances and started to construct a critical Zen social ethic Finally he considers the resources Zen might offer its contemporary leaders as they pursue what they themselves have identified as a pressing task ensuring that henceforth Zen will avoid becoming embroiled in international adventurism and instead dedicate itself to the promotion of peace and human rights Lucid and balanced in its methodology and well grounded in textual analysis Imperial Way Zen will attract scholars students and others interested in Buddhism ethics Zen practice and the cooptation of religion in the service of violence and imperialism

Racial Conflict and Healing Andrew Sung Park, 2009-12-01 A Korean theologian approaches the issue of racial conflict including discrimination between minority communities and constructs a theology of seeing that aims to heal the ruptures of racism As ethnic tensions continue to simmer and occasionally erupt immigration and affirmative action laws are hotly debated in every ethnic minority African Americans Hispanic Americans Native Americans even Asian Americans the so called model minority struggle in the racially charged atmosphere of contemporary America In the aftermath of the Los Angeles riots of 1992 and the ensuing violence against Korean Americans Andrew Sung Park seeks a theological model that will help transform a society of oppression injustice and violence into a community of equity fairness and mutual consideration Park emphasizes that such a transformation does not and cannot begin only with good intentions but must be grounded in an understanding of all the socio economic and cultural issues that lead to oppression and tension Using the Korean term han to describe the deep seated suffering of racial oppression he then suggests resources for understanding and healing in both Christian and Asian traditions Part I of Racial Conflict and Healing describes the status quo from a Korean American perspective including discrimination against ethnic minorities and the discrimination they inflict on one another In Parts II and III Park suggests that American society as a whole needs a superordinate vision to form a unified community Park argues that our profoundly individualistic society must learn to understand an idea of self that is formed through relationship with others Finally in Part IV he presents a theological model a theology of seeing as a way to genuinely understand the other and to promote healing within our society
