The Embodied God Brittany E. God's Beauty Parlor Stephen D. Moore,2001 God's Beauty Parlor opens the Bible to the contested body of critical commentary on sex and sexuality known as queer theory and to masculinity studies The author pursues the themes of homoeroticism masculinity beauty and violence through such texts as the Song of Songs the Gospels the Letter to the Romans and the Book of Revelation      Six Month Program Spiritual Conditioning Pat Jantomaso,2012-01-13 The title suggests several things to the reader The two words SPIRITUAL AND CONDITIONING are words that most people don't get too excited about regardless of age or religious persuasion Although I believe that most would acknowledge both are important What could be more important than a combination of sound physical and spiritual conditioning Everybody realizes that both require personal initiative Easier said than done That's obvious concerning the overall physical condition of the majority of Americans Undeniably our deplorable physically unfit condition and subsequent problems is well documented Likewise it appears the majority of nominal Christians are spiritually unfit choosing to remain babes in Christ often times for years suffering adverse consequences Why The lack of disciplined spiritual conditioning growth and maturity and the initiative to resolve Granted not easy as it requires work effort and discipline Now enters Excuses quenching any initial desires to get fit Knowingly choosing unfit over fit is a debilitating choice over the desire to become healthier happier and stronger physically and spiritually This book is not intended to be an indictment of the Christian populace only a bona fide remedy to rectify this predicament It follows God's directives Unabashed honesty with self will necessitate appropriate action Suffice it to say God highly advocates spiritual conditioning over the physical 1Timothy 4:7-9 Physical workouts have some benefit but a disciplined spiritual conditioning program makes you fit for all things all the time especially for the present difficult days and the coming turbulent times Thank God for his revealing Word and powerful comforting Holy Spirit who strengthens you and I to stand steadfast when others quit Take this to heart and let it become your constant motivation to get into and stay in top spiritual shape Come along with me in this disciplined program and enjoy permanent benefits and rewards Today is your time to make it happen      God: An Anatomy Francesca Stavrakopoulou,2022-01-25 An astonishing and revelatory history that re-presents God as he was originally envisioned by ancient worshippers with a distinctly male body and with superhuman powers earthly passions and a penchant for the fantastic and monstrous A rollicking journey through every aspect of Yahweh's body from top to bottom yes that too and from inside out Ms Stavrakopoulou has almost too much fun The Economist The scholarship of theology and religion teaches us that the God of the Bible was without a body only revealing himself in the Old Testament in words mysteriously uttered through his prophets and in the New Testament in the body of Christ The portrayal of God as corporeal and masculine is seen as merely metaphorical figurative or poetic But in this revelatory study Francesca Stavrakopoulou presents a vividly corporeal image of God a human shaped deity who walks and talks and weeps and laughs who eats sleeps feels and breathes and who is undeniably male Here is a portrait arrived at through the author's close examination of and research into the Bible of a god in ancient myths and rituals who was a product of a particular society at a particular time made in the image of the people who lived then shaped by their own circumstances and experience of the world From head to toe and every part of

The Religion of Paul the Apostle John Ashton,University Lecturer in New Testament Studies John Ashton,2000-01-01 Paul the Apostle has traditionally been viewed as a thinker and theologian and scholars have focused almost exclusively on his ideas rather than on his religious experience In this book a leading New Testament scholar challenges this view of Paul John Ashton demonstrates how closely Paul s own career resembles that of a typical shaman and he shows how every important aspect of Paul s life and ministry may be illuminated by focusing on his experience Drawing not only on Paul s letters but also on contemporary writings in the Jewish and Hellenistic worlds Ashton discusses a number of important issues relevant to the understanding of Paul and to the origins of Christianity whether Paul is properly described as a convert a mystic an apostle a prophet or a charismatic what his attitude was to the Jewish traditions he inherited why he felt called upon to preach not to his fellow Jews but to the Gentiles what accounts for the remarkable success of his strange new Gospel and how we can explain his language of spirit possession Christ lives in me In addressing these issues Ashton demonstrates that to regard Christianity simply as a religion of the word is to ignore a vital truth about its origins     Gay Religion Scott Thumma,Edward R. Gray,2004-12-10 Conflicts over homosexuality and gay rights threaten to break apart denominations if not North American society These heated theological and political debates have as well obscured the fact that many gays and lesbians are religiously active individuals Gay Religion is the first book to give a straightforward presentation of the spiritual lives practices and expressions of gays lesbians bisexuals and transgender Drawing from a wide range of religious traditions new and established scholars explore the range of gay religious expression in denominations sects and even outside recognized religious institutions The essays ask what these religious innovations mean to the continually evolving religious environment of North America With its helpful section introductions and an appendix providing profiles of organizations involved Gay Religion is a unique and compelling resource for anyone interested in homosexuality and American religion

A Spirit of Dialogue Christopher N. Okonkwo,2008 A groundbreaking study A Spirit of Dialogue examines through extensive interdisciplinary research theory and close reading the intricate reconstructions extensions and resonances of the West African myth of spirit children the Born to Die in contemporary African American neo slave narratives Arguing that the myth called Ogba je in Igbo language and b k in Yoruba has had over thirty years of uncharted presence in African American literature Okonkwo advances a compelling case absent in extant scholarship He traces Ogburne the Born to Die's appearance in African American texts to a convergence of factors They include but are not limited to the impact of Chinua Achebe's Things Fall Apart the 1960s emergence of the contemporary neo slave narrative the 1960s and 1970s black consciousness Black Power movement and the cultural agenda gendered politics and centripetal philosophy of the Black Arts movement's nationalist aesthetic African American identity questions of the post civil rights and the multicultural eras and the thematic shifts as well as the African diaspora orientation of African American fiction of the post nationalist aesthetic period A Spirit of Dialogue focuses on the sometimes neglected and understudied works of four canonical African American writers Octavia E Butler's Wild Seed and Mind of My Mind Tananarive Due's The Between John Edgar Wideman's The Cattle Killing and Toni Morrison's Sula and Beloved Okonkwo demonstrates persuasively how the mythic spirit child informs the content and form of these novels offering Butler Due Wideman and Morrison a non occidental code by which to engage collectively with the various issues integral to the history experience of African descended people The paradigm functions then as the nexus of a life affirmative dialogue among the six novels as well as between them and other works of African religious and literary imagination particularly Things Fall Apart and Ben Okri's The Famished Road

Spectacles of Empire Christopher A. Frilingos, 2013-03-25 The book of Revelation presents a daunting picture of the destruction of the world complete with clashing gods a multiheaded beast armies of heaven and the final judgment of mankind The bizarre conclusion to the New Testament is routinely cited as an example of the early Christian renunciation of the might and values of Rome But Christopher A Frilingos contends that Revelation's relationship to its ancient environment was a rather more complex one In Spectacles of Empire he argues that the public displays of the Roman Empire the games of the arena the execution of criminals the civic veneration of the emperor offer a plausible context for reading Revelation Like the spectacles that attracted audiences from one end of the Mediterranean Sea to the other Revelation shares a preoccupation with matters of spectatorship domination and masculinity Scholars have long noted that in promising a complete reversal of fortune to an oppressed minority Revelation has provided inspiration to Christians of all kinds from liberation theologians protesting globalization to the medieval Apostolic Brethren facing death at the stake But Frilingos approaches the Apocalypse from a different angle arguing that Revelation was not merely a rejection of the Roman world in favor of a Christian one rather its visions of monsters and martyrs were the product of an empire whose subjects were trained to dominate the threatening other By comparing images in Revelation to those in other Roman era literature such as Greek romances and martyr accounts Frilingos reveals a society preoccupied with seeing and being seen At the same time he shows how Revelation calls attention to both the risk and the allure of taking in a show in a society which emphasized the careful scrutiny of one's friends enemies and self Ancient spectators Frilingos notes whether seated in an arena or standing at a distance as Babylon burned frequently discovered that they themselves had become part of the performance

A Point Is Which Has No Part

Liz Waldner, 2000-04 Liz Waldner's bold new collection takes its title and its inspiration from Definition 1 of Euclid's Elements of Geometry. Its six sections—point, line, circle, square, triangle, and point again—are explorations of various kinds of longing and loss: sex, death, exile, story, love, and time. Drawing from culture high and low—Eno and Aquinas, Lassie and Donne, Silicon Valley and Walden Pond—these poems offer proof of and proof against the mortal, right-lined circle of memory and identity. The innocence and Keatsian beauty of Euclid's geometry become poignant from a perspective that encompasses all that is non-Euclidean, as well as space-time and the theory of matter. With rare wit and linguistic daring, Waldner opens resonant channels of communication that show there is indeed more than meets the eye or the mind in her poems: Hand to Mouth, Twist and Shout, Cold comes slow up out of the darkness among the leaves that smell so good when bruised, Do you too recognize me, god so soon, Her First Reckoning, Pour wine into vessels, the violet of woods, wine of the reddening stars, You are god, you can do it, Your lover calls you, St John the Conqueror, I have heard her, This is the name of a root, Asperge the thousands and thousands of rooms in which photosynthesis promises sun to the acolyte cells, Rain yourself on a leaf, Birch, The bark is malleable as mushroom flesh, Show that you know me, Scratch out my name with this tree, My name of trees, On the day I arrive at the door of my death, myself now hard to tell from the trees that had hid it from me, I will demand that you love me, You made me like this, Why did you make me like this, Transitive, Intransitive, Extemporaneous Measures, Two crows above the marsh, sew, Stitch the seventeen sleek shades of blue to the shadow-patterned greens below, See fit to make me a suitable view, who having nowhere to else to go might as well wear this world well, Llama necks periscope the view yonder across the water, you testing the air, now a crow chases a redwing, blackbird through, What can I show you who sees, I don't believe, For now, what the eye of the needle sees through, through, through clouds, birds, me, trees, soon in, out with, to something moving, something moved, a stitch in time, s an avenue, future's sutures, revenue, the shining hour improved.     Uncensored
