Going Hollywood The War Years:

Going Hollywood: The War Years, 1988 Specters of War Elisabeth Bronfen, 2012-10-03 Specters of War looks at the way war has been brought to the screen in various genres and at different historical moments throughout the twentieth century and into the twenty first Elisabeth Bronfen asserts that Hollywood has emerged as a place where national narratives are created and circulated so that audiences can engage with fantasies ideologies and anxieties that take hold at a given time only to change with the political climate Such cultural reflection is particularly poignant when it deals with America's traumatic history of war The nation has no direct access to war as a horrific experience of carnage and human destruction we understand our relation to it through images and narratives that transmit and interpret it for us Bronfen does not discuss actual conflicts but the films by which we have come to know and remember them including All Quiet on the Western Front The Best Years of Our Lives Miracle at St Anna The Deer Hunter and Flags of Our Fathers Battles and campaigns the home front and women who wait narratives war correspondents and court martials are also explored as instruments of cultural memory Bronfen argues that we are haunted by past wars and by cinematic reconceptualizations of them and reveals a national iconography of redemptive violence from which we seem unable to escape Wag the Dog Larry Beinhart, 2009-04-29 Once upon a time there was a mean dying GOP chairman who had a brilliant scheme to assure that his man would retain the office of president of the United States of America And the only man who could pull off this elaborate plan was a celebrated Hollywood director Add to the mix a left coast gumshoe named Broz who is trapped among cover ups undercover work and his own morality a cast of bicoastal desperate characters and the stage is set for a powerful D C L A production From Edgar award winning author Larry Beinhart Wag the Dog was the most brilliant political satire of the last decade It was made into a classic film by Barry Levinson and fortunately is now back in print The Encyclopedia of Film James Monaco, 1991 An alphabetical reference on the major film figures stars producers directors writers et al past and present Each entry provides a substantial career biography and a complete listing of all films the individual has been involved with Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR The Game Must Go On John Klima, 2015-05-05 A sweeping study of American baseball during World War II from the players who enlisted to their replacements and the overall effects on the game On December 7 1941 as the battleships in Pearl Harbor smoldered one of the most powerful athletes in America Detroit Tigers MVP Hank Greenberg made a tumultuous decision to leave the baseball field for the field of war His decision left baseball's place during the war uncertain as more and more ballplayers famous and unknown alike put off their careers to go into the fight President Franklin Roosevelt was faced with a difficult decision stop all professional baseball for the good of the victory but in doing so risk losing a vital part of morale He decided that whatever it took the game must go on This is the story of American baseball during World War II of both the players who left to join the war and the ones who struggled to keep the game alive on the home front Taking the place of the big shots turned soldiers sailors and combat pilots were misfit
