With his trademark fearlessness and bracing sense of humor, Schechter digs deep into a wealth of sources to unearth a treasure trove of surprising facts, amusing anecdotes, practical information, and timeless wisdom about that undiscovered country to which we will all one day travel. Topics include: Death anxiety: is your fear of death normal or off the scale? You can't take it with you or can you? Wacky wills and bizarre bequests. The hospice experience: going out in comfort and style. Deathbed and funeral etiquette: how to help the dying and mourn the dead with dignity. Death on demand: why the right to die movement may be the next big thing. Goodbye everybody: famous last words. The embalmer's art: all dressed up and nowhere to go. Behind the scenes at your local funeral home. Alternative burial choices: from coral reefs to outer space. From the cold, hard facts of death to lessons in the art of dying well, from what happens in the body's last living moments to what transpires in the ground or in the furnace, from near-death experiences to speculation on the afterlife, The Whole Death Catalog leaves no gravestone unturned.

On African Music Kofi Agawu, Victor Kofi Agawu, 2023 Written by one of the best-known academic writers on African music, On African Music is a collection of seven essays addressing various techniques, influences, and scholarly approaches to African music. After a concise introduction spelling out the rationale for the book, successive chapters develop answers to questions such as: How does a minimalist impulse animate creativity in Africa, and does Western minimalism differ from African minimalism? How do we explain the prevalence of iconic effects in African expressive forms? How has European tonality functioned as a colonizing force in African music? Why is the written art music of the continent talked about so little when it has been in existence since the middle of the nineteenth century How might the discipline of music theory be rejuvenated by aid from Africa What are the strengths and limitations of ethnotheory as a methodology Who is who in theorizations of African rhythm and how might we explain the shape of the existing archive This book thus deals with analytical and interpretive issues the politics of scholarship and salient features of African music Laced with provocative viewpoints on each page On African Music should appeal not only to readers curious about the structural underpinnings of African music but also to those who wish to reflect critically and philosophically on how we study and write about the music of the continent how we might approach its global status with a firm understanding from the inside and what our priorities might be in promoting an empowering cosmopolitan discourse

Colonial Heritage, Memory and Sustainability in Africa Mawere, Munyaradzi, Mubaya, Tapuwa R., 2015-12-12 This book serves as a drive and medium for constructive analysis critical thinking and informed change in the broad area of cultural heritage studies. In Africa how to overturn the gory effects and reverse the wholesale obnoxious and unpardonable losses suffered from the excruciating experience of colonialism in a manner that empowers the present and future generations remains a burning question. Colonial and liberation war heritage have received insignificant attention. The relevance nature and politics at play when it comes to the role of memory and colonial heritage in view of nation building and sustainability on the continent is yet to receive careful practical and theoretical attention and scrutiny from both heritage scholars and governments. Yet colonial heritage has vast potentials that if harnessed could reverse the gargantuan losses of colonialism and promote sustainable development in Africa. The book critically reflects on the opportunities constraints and challenges of colonial heritage across Africa. It draws empirical evidence from its focus on Zimbabwe South Africa Nigeria Ghana Zambia and Mozambique to advance the thesis that cultural heritage in Africa and in particular colonial heritage faces challenges of epic proportions that require urgent attention.

Civil Society and the Political Imagination in Africa John L. Comaroff, Jean Comaroff, 1999 The essays in this important new collection explore the diverse unexpected and controversial ways in which the idea of civil society has recently entered into populist politics and public debate throughout Africa. In a substantial introduction anthropologists Jean and John Comaroff offer a critical theoretical analysis of the nature and deployment of the concept and the current debates surrounding it. Building on this framework the contributors investigate the problem of civil society across their regions of expertise which cover the continent. Drawing creatively on one another's work they examine the impact of colonial ideology postcoloniality and development practice on discourses of civility the workings of everyday politics the construction of new modes of selfhood and the pursuit of moral community. Incisive and original the book shows how struggles over civil society in Africa reveal much about larger historical forces in the post Cold War era. It also makes a strong case for the contribution of historical anthropology to contemporary discourses on the rise of a new world order.
