Don't Jumbo Jets Flap Their Wings offers a fascinating explanation of how nature and human engineers each arrived at powered flight. What emerges is a highly readable account of two very different approaches to solving the same fundamental problems of moving through the air including lift, thrust, turning and landing. The book traces the slow and deliberate evolutionary process of animal flight in birds, bats and insects over millions of years and compares it to the directed efforts of human beings to create the aircraft over the course of a single century. Among the many questions the book answers: Why are wings necessary for flight? How do different wings fly differently? When did flight evolve in animals? What vision, knowledge and technology was needed before humans could learn to fly? Why are animals and aircrafts perfectly suited to the kind of flying they do? David E. Alexander first describes the basic properties of wings before launching into the diverse challenges of flight and the concepts of flight, aerodynamics and control to present an integrated view that shows both why birds have historically had little influence on aeronautical engineering and exciting new areas of technology where engineers are successfully borrowing ideas from animals.

Backpacking with the Saints Belden C. Lane, 2014-11-03 Carrying only basic camping equipment and a collection of the world's great spiritual writings, Belden C. Lane embarks on solitary spiritual treks through the Ozarks and across the American Southwest. For companions, he has only such teachers as Rumi, John of the Cross, Hildegard of Bingen, Dag Hammarskjöld and Thomas Merton, and as he walks, he engages their writings with the natural wonders he encounters. Bell Mountain Wilderness with Søren Kierkegaard, Moonshine Hollow with Thich Nhat Hanh demonstrating how being alone in the wild opens a rare view onto one's interior landscape and how the saints' writings reveal the divine in nature. The discipline of backpacking, Lane shows, is a metaphor for a spiritual journey. Just as the wilderness offered revelations to the early Desert Christians, backpacking hones crucial spiritual skills: paying attention, traveling light, practicing silence and exercising wonder. Lane engages the practice not only with a wide range of spiritual writings—Celtic, Catholic, Protestant, Buddhist, Hindu and Sufi, Muslim—but with the fascination of other lovers of the backcountry from John Muir and Ed Abbey to Bill Plotkin and Cheryl Strayed. In this intimate and down-to-earth narrative, backpacking is shown to be a spiritual practice that allows the discovery of God amidst the beauty and unexpected terrors of nature. Adoration, Lane suggests, is the most appropriate human response to what we cannot explain but have nonetheless learned to love. An enchanting narrative for Christians of all denominations, Backpacking with the Saints is an inspiring exploration of how solitude, simplicity and mindfulness are illuminated and encouraged by the discipline of backcountry wandering and of how the wilderness itself becomes a way of knowing, an ecology of the soul.

Wings in the Desert Amadeo M. Rea, 2022-04-12 There is a common but often unspoken arrogance on the part of outside observers that folk science and traditional knowledge, the type developed by Native communities and tribal groups, is inferior to the formal science practiced by Westerners. In this lucidly written and humanistic account of the O'odham tribes of Arizona and Northwest Mexico, ethnobiologist Amadeo M. Rea exposes the limitations of this assumption by exploring the rich ornithology that these tribes have generated about the birds that are native to their region He shows how these peoples observational knowledge provides insights into the behaviors mating habits migratory patterns and distribution of local bird species and he uncovers the various ways that this knowledge is incorporated into the communities traditions and esoteric belief systems Drawing on more than four decades of field and textual research along with hundreds of interviews with tribe members Rea identifies how birds are incorporated both symbolically and practically into Piman legends songs art religion and ceremonies Through highly detailed descriptions and accounts loaded with Native voice this book is the definitive study of folk ornithology It also provides valuable data for scholars of linguistics and North American Native studies and it makes a significant contribution to our understanding of how humans make sense of their world It will be of interest to historians of science anthropologists and scholars of indigenous cultures and folk taxonomy Animal Land Kade Chattan,1898 Critters of Michigan Alex Troutman,2023-04-25 Get the perfect kids introduction to Michigan s mammals birds reptiles and amphibians Put nature in the hands of children Critters of Michigan is your wildlife pocket guide that s informative concise and easy to use Written by wildlife biologist and debut author Alex Troutman this handy book presents 63 critters of the Great Lake State if an animal is in this book it s found in Michigan Each species is showcased in a professional quality photograph that s paired with such neat to know details as habitat range and preferred food sources Illustrations of the critter s tracks complement the information and a Did You Know paragraph provides fascinating trivia worth sharing with family friends and teachers Critters of Michigan includes important to know mammals birds reptiles and amphibians Book Features 63 critters only Michigan animals Full color photos of every species Concise descriptions and interesting Did You Know facts Attractive layout with kid appeal A portion of the proceeds from the sale of this book benefits Wildlife Forever to support their conservation efforts
