Re-Presenting Disability Richard Sandell, Jocelyn Dodd, Rosemarie Garland-Thomson, 2013-09-13 Re Presenting Disability addresses issues surrounding disability representation in museums and galleries a topic which is receiving much academic attention and is becoming an increasingly pressing issue for practitioners working in wide ranging museums and related cultural organisations. This volume of provocative and timely contributions brings together twenty researchers practitioners and academics from different disciplinary institutional and cultural contexts to explore issues surrounding the cultural representation of disabled people and more particularly the inclusion as well as the marked absence of disability related narratives in museum and gallery displays The diverse perspectives featured in the book offer fresh ways of interrogating and understanding contemporary representational practices as well as illuminating existing related debates concerning identity politics social agency and organisational purposes and responsibilities which have considerable currency within museums and museum studies Re Presenting Disability explores such issues as In what ways have disabled people and disability related topics historically been represented in the collections and displays of museums and galleries How can newly emerging representational forms and practices be viewed in relation to these historical approaches How do emerging trends in museum practice designed to counter prejudiced stereotypical representations of disabled people relate to broader developments in disability rights debates in disability studies as well as shifting interpretive practices in public history and mass media What approaches can be deployed to mine and interrogate existing collections in order to investigate histories of disability and disabled people and to identify material evidence that might be marshalled to play a part in countering prejudice What are the implications of these developments for contemporary collecting How might such purposive displays be created and what dilemmas and challenges are curators educators designers and other actors in the exhibition making process likely to encounter along the way How do audiences disabled and non disabled respond to and engage with interpretive interventions designed to confront undercut or reshape dominant regimes of representation that underpin and inform contemporary attitudes to disability John Dalton Elizabeth Musgrave, 2023-08-10 This book addresses the work of architect John Dalton 1927 2007 an important voice in mid century modernism in Australia whose work despite his being exhibited and published internationally and also winning several awards for his designs is woefully little known Published as part of the Bloomsbury Studies in Modern Architecture series which brings to light the work of significant yet overlooked modernist architects the book draws on previously unpublished archival documents including Dalton's drawings and paintings transcripts of lectures letters and articles plans and photographic images of built works to characterize the architect not only as a very talented designer but also as a pioneer of environmentalist thinking in Australia The book reveals how Dalton's architectural preoccupations parallel a transition in mid century modern architecture globally from functional efficiency and material rationalism to a concern with being in dialogue with the environment confirming a wider environmental turn that involved the integration of environmental with cultural considerations through relational thinking and which preceded and transcends the discipline s fascination with theoretical paradigms such as Critical Regionalism John Dalton Subtropical Modernism and the Turn to Environment in Australian Architecture is thus not only an important contribution to the existing scholarship on 20th century modernism but also to the current renewed interest in environmental design across the globe 150 Geoffrey London, Philip Goad, Conrad Hamann, 2017 Architect designed houses of the period 1950 65 proposed an innovative response to the social economic and climatic conditions of post war Australia At the same time they embraced the aesthetic technological and egalitarian aspirations of modern architecture An Unfinished Experiment in Living traces the emergence of this architectural phenomenon in Australia documenting the full range of its expression from the postwar optimism of the early 1950s through to the affluence of the 1960s It is a catalogue of the most significant houses of the period It includes comprehensive plans and period photographs of 150 houses from around Australia dating from a time when the great Australian dream was the single family house This book puts forward new research founded on the premise that the most significant houses of the 1950s and 60s represent an unfinished and undervalued experiment in modern living Issues such as the open plan the changing nature of the family the embrace of advances in technology the use of the courtyard and the orientation of the house to capture sun and privacy were valuable and critical lessons This is a compelling reminder of their continuing relevance Subject Architecture Design Australian History Sociology Designer Suburbs Judith O'Callaghan, Charles Pickett, 2012-11-01 In the 1950s 60s and 70s architects like Harry Seidler Robin Boyd Ken Woolley Michael Dysart and Graeme Gunn applied their talents to project homes bringing high end design to the suburbs Backed by Pettit Sevitt Merchant Builders and other project builders architects created small deceptively simple houses which transformed the look of suburbia Today the distance between the architectural profession and suburban housing has never been greater with Australia s super sized energy guzzling project homes the biggest in the world With photographs by Max Dupain David Moore Wolfgang Sievers and Eric Sierins alongside original plans Designer Suburbs explores the relationship between architects builders and affordable housing since 1900 and the lessons we can learn from twentieth century designer suburbs Australia Harry Margalit, 2019-11-15 This book tells the story of the architects and buildings that have defined Australia s architectural culture since the founding of the modern nation through Federation in 1901 That year marked the beginning of a search for better city forms and buildings to accommodate the changing realities of Australian life and to express an emerging distinctive and eventually confident Australian identity While Sydney and Melbourne were the settings for many of the major buildings all states and territories developed architectural traditions based on distinctive histories and climates Harry Margalit explores the flowering of these many architectural variants from the bid to create a model city in Canberra through the stylistic battles that opened a space for modernism to the idealism of postwar reconstruction and beyond to the new millennium Australia reveals a vibrant and influential culture of the built environment at its best when it matches civic idealism with the sensuality of a country of stunning light and landscapes

Speaking of Buildings Naomi Stead, Janina Gosseye, Deborah van der Plaat, 2019-10-15 By and large architectural historians use texts drawings and photographs to craft their narratives Oral testimony from those who actually occupy or construct buildings is rarely taken as seriously Speaking of Buildings offers a rebuttal theorizing the radical potential of a methodology that has historically been cast as unreliable Essays by an international group of scholars look at varied topics from the role of gossip in undermining masculine narratives in architecture to workers accounts of building with cement in midcentury London to a sound art piece created by oral testimonies from Los Angeles public housing residents In sum the authors call for a renewed form of listening to enrich our understanding of what buildings are what they do and what they mean to people Karl Langer, 2021-12-30 Despite a European training and an early career working with Peter Behrens a migration from Vienna to the Australian state of Queensland positioned the architect Karl Langer 1903 1969 at the very edge of both European and Australian modernism Confronted by tropical heat and glare the economics of affordable housing fiercely proud and regional architectural practices and a suspicion of the foreign Langer moulded the European language of international modernism to the unique climatic and social conditions of tropical Australia This book will tell Langer's story through a series of edited essays focused on key themes and projects Published as part of the Bloomsbury Studies in Modern Architecture series which brings to light the work of significant yet overlooked modernist architects it is both an examination of an architect's work and international legacy and also a case study in the trans global dissemination of design ideas Studying the architect's built and proposed work both regional and metropolitan the scale and reach of Langer's practice will be considered for the first time showing how given his continued influence on the contemporary culture of tropical design Langer has been unjustly ignored by the historiography of both Australian and Modernist architecture to date Australian Houses of the Forties and Fifties Peter Cuffley, 1993 Covers the architecture furniture and History of the baby boom era Architecture in Brisbane Graham De Gruchy, 1988 This is a reprint of the edition which Colour illustrations throughout was first printed in 1988 Australia's Home Robin Boyd, 2015-09-04 Since its first publication by Melbourne University Press Australia s Home has been in constant demand The author summarises his story from 1788 to 1960 as a material triumph and an aesthetic calamity Readers have thoroughly enjoyed the combination of informative detail and quiet humour and the architectural features of a house a street or a suburb which have up until now been simply different gain an added interest and significance People read Australia s Home for pure pleasure as an eventful illuminating story Householders read it to see their house and streetscapes afresh through Boyd s eyes their own vision both criticised and enriched by his Architects and planners read it to agonise with Boyd over built forms and townscapes But the book is most remarkable of all as history a great bit of poaching by an architect journalist who never claimed to write history at all 'Scape', 2006
