Headhunters Mira Donnelly, AI, 2025-03-20 Papua Headhunters explores the multifaceted history of headhunting among Papua's tribes and the transformative impact of colonialism. The book examines headhunting not merely as a violent act but as an integral part of Papuan cosmology deeply intertwined with social organization and identity formation. For example, headhunting played a role in male initiation rites and ancestor veneration. Colonial intervention brought disruption, suppressing traditions and introducing new technologies that reshaped Papuan society. This study offers a historical overview, analyzing motivations, rituals, and social structures related to headhunting. It draws from ethnographic accounts, missionary records, and oral histories, providing a balanced account of Papuan traditions. The book progresses by first establishing the pre-colonial context, then delving into the origins and societal functions of headhunting, and finally analyzing the impact of colonial contact and its contemporary legacy, addressing controversies and emphasizing cultural context.

Headhunting

In The Solomon Islands: Around The Coral Sea Caroline Mytinger, 2016-01-18 More than 80 years ago, Caroline Mytinger, a portrait artist and her childhood friend Margaret Warner, set out by freighter from San Francisco with little more than 400 in their pocket and a tin of paints to their name. Their objective was to paint portraits of the tribal people of Papua New Guinea and the Solomon Islands before the encroachment of modern European-style culture changed their lives forever. This gripping book tells of the two women's experiences whilst travelling through Melanesia between 1926 and 1930.

Headhunters of Papua [by] Tony Saulnier, with the Collaboration of Marcel Bisiaux [Translation of Margaret Shenfield]. Tony Saulnier, Among Papuan Headhunters E. Baxter Riley, 1925 West Papuan Decolonisation

Eileen Hanrahan, 2021-02-01 In alignment with Indigenous Politics, an emerging sub-field of Politics and IR, this book considers West Papuan Indigenous nationhood. Combining Settler Colonial Studies and Critical Indigenous Theory, the research opens up sovereignty as a political category of analysis to reveal an embedded nation within Indonesia. In June 2000, the Second Papuan People's Congress in Jayapura rejected the basis on which West Papua had been incorporated into Indonesia and resolved that the people of Papua have been sovereign as a nation and a state since 1 December 1962. Indonesian president Wahid firmly opposed this resolution, and state officials posted historical narratives on the Australian Embassy website that legitimated Indonesia's incorporation of the once non-self-governing territory. A mapping and analysis of these narratives demonstrate a settler colonial present within Southeast Asia. It is argued that the US's appeasement of Indonesia's takeover in the 1960s was based on the Great Powers' concern to promote its strategic and economic status in the region. This is a timely intervention that contributes to a growing debate on settler colonialism as a mode of domination that characterises the global present and involves locales not normally seen as settler colonial. West Papua fits the bill. Associate Professor Lorenzo Veracini, author of Settler Colonial Studies: A Theoretical Overview.

Thrills Untapped 2

Michael R. Pitts, 2025-06-20 A sequel to Thrills Untapped Neglected Horror Science Fiction and Fantasy Films 1928 1936 this volume provides coverage of over 150 feature films that contain genre elements but have been overlooked by most sources covering the history of horror science fiction and fantasy movies It covers feature length productions serials and documentaries detailing domestic and foreign films from both major and minor companies along with independent outfits For each title there are complete cast and credits in depth plot synopsis an evaluation of the movie and contemporary critical reviews Also included are a bibliography and index along with approximately 80 photographs and illustrative material This volume aims to reintroduce these films to new audiences and give them the attention they have so long deserved The Papuan Languages of New Guinea William A. Foley, 1986-11-20 This introduction to the descriptive and historical linguistics of the Papuan languages of New Guinea provide an accessible account of one of the richest and most diverse linguistic situations in the world The Papuan languages number over 700 or 20 per cent of the world's total in more than sixty language families Less than a quarter of the individual languages have yet been adequately documented and in this sense William Foley's book might be considered premature However in the search for language universals and generalisations in linguistic typology it would be foolhardy to neglect the information that is available In this respect alone the present volume systematically organised on mainly typology principles is particularly timely and useful In addition the processes of linguistic diffusion are present in New Guinea to an extent probably paralleled elsewhere on the globe The Papuan Languages of New Guinea will be of interest not only to general and comparative linguists and to typologists but also to sociolinguists and anthropologists for the information it provides on the social dynamics of language content British Film Catalogue Denis Gifford, 2016-04-01 First published in 2001 The standard work on its subject this resource includes every traceable British entertainment film from the inception of the silent cinema to the present day Now this new edition includes a wholly original second volume devoted to non fiction and documentary film an area in which the British film industry has particularly excelled All entries throughout this third edition have been revised and coverage has been extended through 1994 Together these two volumes provide a unique authoritative source of information for historians archivists librarians and film scholars

Forced to Flee Peter W. Van Arsdale, 2006-01-01 Author Peter W Van Arsdale presents first hand fieldwork conducted over a 30 year span in six refugee homelands ranging from Sudan to Bosnia This expert research bridges the emergent refugee and human rights regimes while addressing theories of obligation justice and structural violence Violence and the Body Arturo J. Aldama, 2003-05-28 Violence and the Body Race Gender and the State explores the relationship between subalternity the discourse and technology of the body and the rise and proliferation of racial colonial sexual domestic and state violence examining the materiality of violence on the otherized body Grounded in U S Mexico border and Latin American cultural studies the essays in this collection intersect discussions of subalternity violence and discourses of the body in a transethnic feminist and global cultural studies context They provide a global mapping of contemporary modes and acts of physical and representational violence and demonstrate how discourses of otherization are reinforced and interanimated through violence on what Elizabeth Grosz has called the intensities and flows of the body Family and Gender in the Pacific Margaret Jolly, 1989-11-24 A 1989 examination of the effect of mission evangelism and colonial intervention on the family life of Pacific peoples West New Guinea Dylan Gaffney, Marlin Tolla, 2025-02-20 This book explores the human past in West New Guinea otherwise known as Indonesian Papua West Papua or Irian Jaya The western part of New Guinea and its surrounding islands were critical for the early peopling of the Pacific region over 50 000 years ago when Homo sapiens moved out of Africa and into Asia seafaring through the islands of Wallacea as far as New Guinea the Bismarck Archipelago and the Solomon Islands After arriving on the shores of West New Guinea people adapted to diverse environments including coral reefs tropical rainforests swamps montane cloud forests and savannah grasslands Over millennia people transformed these habitats by burning and cutting the forests translocating plants and animals and managing access to resources Food production later emerged in the region as the global climate warmed up around 10 000 years ago Between 4000 3000 years ago the Austronesian languages began to enter West New Guinea with its speakers settling around the coasts and offshore islands New forms of exchange connected people and particularly within the last 2000 years drew West New Guinea into global networks The objects produced and traded at ethnographic contact like pottery stone axes string bags shell ornaments and wooden carvings can be informative about these networks but they are increasingly changing as people navigate and transform their material worlds in the present The examination of these objects in museums not only casts light on their makers traders and collectors but also highlights the ongoing connections that Papuans have with their material culture in the twenty first century The 22 chapters in this book contribute novel perspectives and critical data on each of these themes The authors come from archaeology social anthropology biological anthropology linguistics museology palaeoecology and beyond They write about a wide array of West New Guinea s regions including the highlands north and south coasts Bird s Head Peninsula Cenderawasih Bay and the Raja Ampat Islands The South Seas Sean Brawley, Chris Dixon, 2015-04-21 The South Seas charts the idea of the South Seas in popular cultural productions of the English speaking world from the beginnings of the Western enterprise in the Pacific until the eve of the Pacific War Building on the notion that the influences on the creation of a text and the ways in which its audience receives the text are essential for understanding the historical significance of particular productions Sean Brawley and Chris Dixon explore the ways in which authors and producers ideas about the South Seas were haunted by others who had written on the subject and how they in turn influenced future generations of knowledge producers The South Seas is unique in its examination of an array of cultural texts Along with the foundational literary texts that established and perpetuated the South Seas tradition in written form the authors explore diverse cultural forms such as art music theater film fairs platform speakers surfing culture and tourism Adventures with the New Guinea Headhunters Christl Thalhammer, 1965

Cannibals and Head-hunters Charles H. Watson, 1926 Len Lye Roger Horrocks, 2013-11-01 Len Lye A Biography tells for the first time the story of a unique charismatic artist who was an innovator in many areas film kinetic sculpture painting photography and poetry Born in New Zealand in 1901 Len Lye gained an international reputation in the arts and had friendships with many famous people including Dylan Thomas Robert Graves Gertrude Stein John Grierson Norman McLaren Oskar Fischinger John Cage Robert Creeley Laura Riding Stan Brakhage and the artists of the New York School A colorful bohemian Lye lived in London from 1926 to 1944 where he made highly original hand painted films for John Grierson's GPO Film Unit then moved to New York for the last 36 years of his life Describing Len Lye as a trailblazer and a one man modern art movement in Sight Sound Ian Francis also celebrated this superb biography as the definitive piece of Lye scholarship

Photography, Early Cinema and Colonial Modernity Robert Dixon, 2013-11-15 Photography Early Cinema and Colonial Modernity is not a biography of Frank Hurley the man it is instead an examination of the social life of the many marvellous and meaningful things he made as a professional photographer and film maker The focus of this volume surrounds the media events that encompassed these various creations what Hurley called his synchronized lecture entertainments These media events were at once national and international they involved Hurley in an entire culture industry that was constantly in movement along global lines of travel and communication This raises complex questions both about the authorship of Hurley's photographic and filmic texts which were often produced and presented by other people and about their ontology as they were often in a state of reassemblage in response to changing market opportunities This unique study reimagines from inside the quiet and stillness of the archive the prior social life enjoyed by Hurley's creations amidst the complicated topography of the early twentieth century's rapidly internationalizing mass media landscape As a way to conceive of that space and of the social life of the people and things within it this study uses the concept of colonial modernity
