Why does the Christian walk often feel like an ongoing struggle and why does God's creation include imperfection let alone forces that are intent on thwarting God's creative work In seeking a response to these questions this book argues that the biblical accounts describe creation in terms of a progressive transformation process whereby the initially incomplete created order will reach perfection only in the fulfillment of new creation The following discussion then outlines a comprehensive framework for the biblical theology of humanity's struggles centered on three key themes corporeal temptation deficient social structures and the much debated notion of spiritual warfare The book presents an overarching canonical narrative that threads together a series of diverse biblical topics from Job's temptation to the Atonement The final part surveys biblical teaching on how human conduct can be aligned with God's creative purpose and discusses three assignments from Jesus to believers to celebrate the Eucharist to pray the Lord's Prayer and to fulfill the Great Commission the Christian world has migrated south especially into Sub Saharan Africa a growing and dynamic African biblical scholarship has emerged Prominent among the texts that have grabbed the interest of African biblical scholars is the gospel story of the woman with the flow of blood Mark 5 25 34 Matthew 9 20 22 Luke 8 43 48 This book compares traditional North Atlantic scholarship on this gospel story with the new insights of African biblical studies in order to test the contention that these two versions of biblical scholarship are substantially different In particular this book argues that scholarships in the North Atlantic and African worlds differ in their conceptions of the goal of exegesis For African scholars practical hermeneutical concerns are considered central to the exegetical task
