Creative Writing in Health and Social Care Fiona Sampson, 2004-03-15 This unique and comprehensive map of the topic of creative writing in health and social care brings together contributions from health and social care professionals and provides the information needed to teach counsel and write Case studies range from work with pre literate children in post war Macedonia to people with dementia in Britain

The Art and Science of Personalising Care with Older People with Diabetes Trisha Dunning, 2018-08-06 This unique book is intended for all health professionals caring for older people with diabetes such as specialist and general nurses doctors primary care practitioners and dietiticians Although there is an increasing body of work about personalised care no publications were identified that encompass the focus and scope of the proposed book The global population is ageing and increasing age is a key risk factor for diabetes Older people with diabetes are often vulnerable have complex care needs and often have cognitive changes which makes personalising care challenging for health professionals Thus this is an internationally relevant book filling a gap in the current literature This is a practical and updated book that will use an engaging and easy to read narrative style It challenges readers to reflect in and on their practice It encompasses people with diabetes and authors stories which are known to have a special interest to readers make it easier to apply the information to practice enhance learning and hence the relevance and value of the book It is relevant to advocacy organisations as well as managers and service planners Researchers and scientists may find relevant information on grant and ethics applications research protocols plain language statements for potential participants and operationalising research protocols

Greek and Roman Consolations H. Baltussen, 2012-12-31 In the Ancient World death came on average at a far earlier age than in today's West and without the authoritative warnings given by modern medicine Consolation for the trauma of loss had accordingly a more prominent role to play This volume presents eight original studies on consolatory writings from ancient Greek Roman early Christian and Arabic societies The authors include internationally recognised authorities in the field They offer insight into the ancient experience of loss and the methods used to palliate it They explore how far there was a consolatory genre involving letters funerary oratory epicedia and philosophical prose Focusing on responses to grief in numerous ancient authors this volume finds elements of continuity and of individual variety in modes of consolation and reveals instructive tensions between the commonplace and the personal century New forms of arts based research such as ethnodrama and a r t ography have arisen and made significant contributions to the literature Researchers in departments schools faculties of dance drama music visual arts media studies cultural studies and education have been successful in acquiring peer reviewed grants from the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council to undertake large scale projects and disseminate the findings internationally The purpose of this edited collection entitled Perspectives on Arts Education Research in Canada Volume 2 Issues and Directions is to provide an overview of the current research undertaken across the country thereby providing a valuable resource for students professors and research associates working in the arts disciplines media studies education and cultural studies Contributors are Bernard W Andrews Kathy Browning Ranya Essmat Saad Maia Giesbrecht Shelley M Griffin Rita Irwin Glenys McQueen Fuentes Laura Nemoy Lori Lynn Penny Jennifer Roswell Michelle Searle Alison Shields Anita Sinner Darlene St Georges Peter Vietgen John L Vitale Jennifer Wicks Kari Lynn Winters and Thibault Zimmer Creative Approaches to Health and Social Care Education Tony Warne,Sue McAndrew,2009-12-07 This is a Bloomsbury Academic title For our full Academic Catalogue please visit <https://www.bloomsbury.com/uk/academic> A Humanistic Approach to Health Promotion David R. Buchanan,2020-11-25 This book presents a distinct ethically robust framework for improving population health when the major causes of disease death and disability are closely associated with human behaviors Rather than relying on a scientific technological strategy aimed at developing ever more powerful and effective techniques for changing behaviors a humanistic approach recognizes the unique human capacity for dignity and moral decision making As an essential alternative to the scientific assumption of determinism a humanistic framework is based on the equally viable assumption that human beings have the capacity to exercise autonomy in pursuing their life plans If people can choose how they want to live their lives then it is imperative to respect and cultivate their autonomy in making health promoting decisions A scientific approach is unsurpassed at identifying effective means for stopping and killing bacteria the same methods are not appropriate however when the objective is to alter human behavior In a humanistic framework it is important to acknowledge that autonomous choices are not completely unrestrained the human condition has significant physical and social limitations and that certain readily identifiable social groups face much greater constraints than others most significantly due to poverty and racism As explained and justified in this book the most important task for health promotion is to promote autonomy and to do this by redressing the hugely disparate yet corrigible barriers faced by people occupying distinct social positions This project is a matter of social justice not a scientific and technological problem to be solved but a moral and political endeavor to engage fellow citizens in strengthening our social institutions to enable everyone to realize their innate capacities to the fullest extent possible The book provides ethical standards case studies and concrete practical analogies to demonstrate the feasibility and benefits of moving the field of health promotion in a new humanistic direction Essentials of Teaching and Learning in Nursing Ethics Anne Davis,Verena Tschudin,Louise Tew,2006-02-24 This title is directed primarily towards health care professionals outside of the United States This book aims to fill a gap with an in depth exploration of nursing ethics content from the western philosophical tradition and some of the methods used in teaching this content It addresses cross cultural issues in using specific ethics content It also reveals the poverty of the present dualism model in nursing ethics and replace this with a more complex and more useful model that invites debate Its scope is both wide and deep but that is needed to enrich the basis for teaching nursing ethics Outlines and critiques all current ethical theories and considers their application to nursing practice Explores ethical issues in numerous cultures Includes case studies drawn from a range of countries Written by leading nurse educators and philosophers in the field

History of Psychiatry and Medical Psychology Edwin R. Wallace, John Gach, 2010-04-13 Most of the prefatory issues are extensively elaborated upon in the Prolegomenon which also contains the complete references to the texts and authors discussed below Nevertheless the Preface would be grossly incomplete without touching on some of these issues books and scholars Too many of this book s chapters e g Mora s Marx s D B Weiner s examine and reference important earlier as well as contemporary general histories of psychiatry and specialized monographs in German French Italian and Spanish Also in his 1968 Short History of Psychiatry discussed below Ackerknecht pp xi xii references important nineteenth and earlier twentieth century psychiatric histories in English French and German Such citations will of course not be repeated here Finally thanks to several publishers re editions of dozens of classical psychiatric texts one can consult their bibliographies as well See Prolegomenon for references to these splendid series In a rough and ready sense medical history began in classical Greece for example On Ancient Medicine While traditionally included in the Hippocratic corpus this text seems more likely to have been written by a non or even anti Hippocratic doctor Moreover the Hippocratic and other schools were hardly as secular as we now suppose On Epilepsy for example does not so much declare the prevalent denotation of it as the sacred disease erroneous as it does that it is no more nor less sacred than any other disease

Surgical and Medical Treatment in Art Alan E. H. Emery, Marcia L. H. Emery, 2006 The relationship between art medicine and surgery has always been a fertile source of discussion and debate This book like its predecessor Medicine and Art evolved from a series of articles written by Alan EH Emery on art and medicine in Clinical Medicine the journal of the Royal College of Physicians of London In this volume however the authors have concentrated their attention on treatment not only in medicine but also in surgery Each artwork reproduced in full colour is accompanied by an essay tracing the history of medicine and surgery from Ancient Egypt to the present day The essays describe the relevance of each work of art and also details the artists themselves making this book an invaluable resource and a unique treasure trove of information for all who share the authors love of art history medicine and surgery This beautifully produced book will be a source of amusement and interest for everyone with a passion for art or a fascination for the development of medicine over the centuries Within the book are 65 illustrations from many well known and less well known artists and illustrators including works by Susan Macfarlane Toulouse Lautrec Otto Dix Hans Holbein

the Younger Leonardo da Vinci Francesco Goya Hieronymus Bosch and many more The eagerly awaited follow up to Medicine and Art by the same authors Here is a second installment of intriguing pieces of carefully selected art with meticulously researched commentary another superbly produced volume to treasure An ideal gift for a friend or colleague or simply a delightful addition to your own personal library Surgical and Medical Treatment in Art will be a treasured and much referenced friend in years to come Achieved Highly Commended in New Non Clinical Book category of RSM Society of Authors Book Awards Winner of Best Illustrated Medical Book and achieved Highly Commended in Basis of Medicine Category British Medical Association Book Awards BMA Judges Comments This book has high quality illustrations and production with details on the painting and artist in appropriate context Helpful resources for further study are given at the back of the book It s a useful reference point for anyone interested in art and medicine a beautiful series of essays on art history which is used to illustrate artists views of health healing and treatment especially using surgery
