Health Care in Jamaica Victor Lavy, Michael Palumbo, Steven N. Stern, 1995 Investigates relationships among labor force participation health outcomes and quality of health care in Jamaica Develops an econometric model linking demand for health care health status outcomes and labor force participation Handbook of Latin American Studies v 57 The Demand for Medical Care Masako Ii, 1996-01-01 World Bank Technical Paper No 293 Presents a conceptual framework for understanding the impact of health sector reforms in Central and Eastern Europe The book analyzes the various factors involved in the reforms and presents strategies adopted by many countries of the region during the early phases of the transition era

Unconditional Demand for Health Care in Cote D'Ivoire William H. Dow, 1996-01-01 Argues that the following components can serve as a basis for a successful poverty reduction strategy basic nutrition and health programs for the poor an effort to strengthen the assets of the poor and support for a strong and stable demand for labor The mobilization of public resources is an essential part of this strategy

Infrastructure and Poverty in Viet Nam Dominique Van de Walle, 1996 In 1992 the World Bank launched the Africa's Management in the 1990s research program a comprehensive study of the issues of institutional capacity building in Sub Saharan Africa and its effects on economic and social development This report focuses on the program and on how to implement its main message institutions must be both rooted in the local context and culture and open to outside challenges and influences Chapters focus on the institutional aspects of capacity building best practices in public administration indigenous private sector development and a framework for reconciliation between institutions

Poverty Comparisons and Household Survey Design Steven Howes, Jean Olson Lanjouw, 1997-01-01 World Bank Discussion Paper No 356 The World Bank has become the world's largest lender in the health nutrition and population HNP sectors requiring the institution to seek ever greater evidence that its work is effective on the ground This paper reviews the literature on the causes of observed changes in health and fertility levels on the evaluation of policies and on programs designed to accelerate these changes It presents a framework that delineates the relationships between Bank activities in the HNP sectors the characteristics of a health care system household behavior and changes in health outcomes The paper also describes a strategy for assessing the development effectiveness of the Bank's work in these sectors The underlying thesis is that changes in health policy and improved outcomes depend on the the demand for health services and on institutional incentives that drive health care system performance

Constructing an Indicator of Consumption for the Analysis of Poverty Jesko Hentschel, Peter Lanjouw, 1996-01-01 Living Standards Measurement Study Working Paper No 123 This paper analyzes the determinants of demand for medical services in urban areas of Bolivia It also examines the possible trade offs between cost recovery and the use of health services for different age sex ethnic and income groups The data drawn from a multipurpose household survey conducted by the World Bank and Bolivia's statistical office are used in designing an econometric model to measure the price elasticity of demand for medical care

A Guide to the World Bank

,2003 The World Bank Group works in more than 100 developing economies and is one of the world's largest sources of development assistance. In 2002 the institution provided US $19.5 billion in loans to its client countries. This guide reviews the organisation's history, objectives and operations and looks at the five institutions that make up the World Bank Group: the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD), the International Development Association (IDA), the International Finance Corporation (IFC), the Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency (MIGA) and the International Centre for Settlement of Investment Disputes (ICSID).

Model Living Standards Measurement Study Survey Questionnaire for the Countries of the Former Soviet Union Raylynn Oliver, 1997-01-01. Living Standards Measurement Study Working Paper No. 130. This document presents a set of Living Standards Measurement Study (LSMS) questionnaires that have been developed for use in the Russian speaking countries of the former Soviet Union. The questionnaires are available in English and Russian as well as in an electronic format. The document describes in detail how to modify the questionnaires for use in any specific country. The author guides the questionnaire writer through the modification process, illustrating the important aspects of LSMS surveys: the translation and field testing procedures and a section by section description of the types of modification that are likely to be required to suit particular goals and circumstances. Also available in Russian. ISBN 0 8213 3935 4. Stock No. 13935.

A Guide to Living Standards Measurement Study Surveys and Their Data Sets Margaret E. Grosh, Paul Glewwe, 1995-01-01. World Bank Discussion Paper No. 302. Presents an alternative way of financing development in Sub-Saharan Africa in order to address the shortcomings of past investment lending. This study discusses sector investment programs (SIPs) as an alternative way of financing development in Sub-Saharan Africa in order to address the shortcomings of past investment lending in the region. The report examines the nature and features of SIPs by drawing on the limited experience with such operations in a number of countries to date, including Bangladesh, Mozambique, Pakistan, Tanzania and Zambia. A SIP is distinguished by its comprehensive sector coverage, by close coordination among all parties, including stakeholders and donors, and by the requirement that it be formulated under local ownership and management.

Poverty and Life Expectancy James C. Riley, 2005-07-18. A multidisciplinary study that reconstructs Jamaica's rise from low to high life expectancy and explains how that was achieved. Jamaica is one of the small number of countries that has attained a life expectancy nearly matching that in richer countries despite having a much lower level of per capita income.

How Does Schooling of Mothers Improve Child Health? Paul Glewwe, 1997-01-01. World Bank Technical Paper No. 354. Water user organizations are one example of community participation at work in the sectors of irrigation, drinking water supply and sanitation. This paper looks at the conditions under which these organizations are most effective in managing water systems. It identifies key external factors and internal structures for sustainable user associations as well as the conditions for partnership between government agencies and the associations.
