God Promises - God Delivers Harry Underwood, 2005-02-17 This book is a Bible study of the first twelve chapters of the Book of Joshua It is an attempt to understand the Word of God in the context of the history of the Jewish people and to apply an understanding of the Word of God to the practice of the Christian life in the twenty first century The study is focused upon understanding portions of the character of God love and wrath and how they are consistent throughout human history The Book of Joshua completes the redemption of Israel that was begun in the Book of Exodus The two books taken together provide a continuum of history of the Jewish people Exodus is the book of redemption of the people of Israel out of Egypt and Joshua is the book of redemption of the people of Israel into the Promised Land

You Shall Tell Your Children Liora Gubkin, 2007-11-05 Passover is among the most widely observed holidays for American Jews During this festival of redemption Jewish families retell the biblical story of Exodus using a ritual book known as a haggadah often weaving modern tales of oppression through the biblical narrative References to the Holocaust are some of the most common additions to contemporary haggadot. However, the parallel between ancient and modern oppression, which seems obvious to some, raises troubling questions for many others. Is it possible to find any redemptive meaning in the Nazi genocide? Are we adding value to this unforgivable moment in history? Liora Gubkin critiques commemorations that violate memory by erasing the value of everyday life that was lost and collapse the diversity of responses both during the Shoah and afterward. She recounts oral testimonies from Holocaust survivors, cites references to the holiday in popular American culture, and analyzes examples of actual haggadot. Ultimately, Gubkin concludes that it is possible and important to make a space for Holocaust commemoration all the time, recognizing that haggadot must be constantly revisited and performed.

The Land We Love, 1867 Holy Spirit and Religious Experience in Christian Literature ca. AD 90-200 John Eifion Morgan-Wynne, 2006-06-01 Holy Spirit and Religious Experience seeks to find out how far the centrality of the Holy Spirit in Christian experience during the earliest period of the church was maintained or diminished in the third to the fifth generations ca. AD 90-200. Three themes are explored: First, the sense of encounter with the divine presence, the numinous, a sense of being caught up into the divine being or being overwhelmed by the One who is beyond us. Secondly, a sense of being illuminated in respect to the truth, given deeper understanding of God's purpose, whether for the individual or the congregation or guided in decision making. Thirdly, a sense of ethical empowerment, an awareness of being helped by divine power, assisted in a course of action or development of character in grappling with temptation or in the ultimate test of loyalty, martyrdom. This book is arranged geographically from Syria and Asia Minor in the East to Rome and Gaul in the West, including North Africa and Egypt. Christian authors within these areas are examined chronologically from the later New Testament writers through the second century to Clement of Alexandria and Tertullian of Carthage for the evidence they supply. The variegated picture which emerges, it is contended, reflects second-century Christianity.

Orthodoxy and Orthopraxis Douglas R. Cullum, J. Richard Middleton, 2020-04-28 These essays on matters biblical, theological, historical, and beyond pay tribute to the multidisciplinary impact of Paul Livermore, founding faculty member and Professor Emeritus of Northeastern Seminary at Roberts Wesleyan College, Rochester, NY.

The Land Cries Out Salim J. Munayer, Lisa Loden, 2011-10-21 Our theology does not exist in a vacuum but must relate to the world we inhabit and must influence our moral and ethical actions. This is especially true when discussing theology of the land in the context of a violent territorial conflict. The Holy Land has seen so much bloodshed that the earth itself is crying out to God. The chapters presented in this book form a unique collection of voices speaking from different perspectives on the issue of the theology of the land. These voices include Messianic Jewish and Palestinian Christian theologians and scholars who live in the Holy Land, as well as others from around the world. The various chapters reflect a wide spectrum of opinion and reveal how much disagreement still exists among followers of Christ. However, the dialogue generated by having these opposing voices side by side speaking to each other rather than past each other is encouraging This book is both challenging and inspirational and contributes in an innovative way to this important discussion Noah's Park Children's Church Leader's Guide, Red Edition, 2007 The crafts in this book coordinate with each lesson in the Noah s Park Leader s Guide Each craft activity is designed to help reinforce the Bible story the children have heard and participated in during the lesson The craft is also designed to help the children and their parents extend the learning even further by linking it to activities they can do at home during the following week Each craft activity in the book has a list of supplies which should be obtained prior to the session
